EAGLES INTERACTIVE MEDIA GUIDE

The Philadelphia Eagles Media Guide is now distributed primarily on a flash drive that is easily accessed through a USB port on any laptop or home computer system. This technology allows the media to access the most up-to-date information on the team not only during the season, but throughout the calendar year as the Eagles IMG is constantly updated by the Eagles football media services staff. All statistics, player bios, record sections, etc. are never out of date. If you wish to receive a flash drive, please contact the Eagles media services department.

The motivation: The Eagles organization strives to be environmentally friendly in all facets of our operation. The Eagles have been recognized as pioneers for being the first professional sports team to launch an environmental initiative.

The Eagles IMG is another example of our commitment. In addition, we find the IMG to be a better tool for media and fans, as the printed version of the standard media guide is already outdated prior to it being distributed to the media.

How it works: After inserting the flash drive into the USB port, a pop-up screen will appear that will give the user two choices: UPDATE or CONTINUE WITHOUT UPDATING. To download the latest Eagles information in about 5-10 minutes, click on UPDATE. Once the download is complete, you will NOT need an internet connection to continue using the media guide. After updating, you can quickly access that same information in subsequent sessions by clicking on CONTINUE WITHOUT UPDATING.

Internet access: The Eagles IMG is also available online and can be accessed by logging onto philadelphiaeagles.com. Under the TEAM tab, click on MEDIA GUIDE and you will be directed to the same table of contents that appears on the flash drive.

Printed media guides: The Eagles media services department produces a limited number of weekly books previewing the upcoming game which contains virtually all of the pertinent information of a traditional media guide, including updated bios, statistics, record sections, etc.

Lincoln Financial Field (seating capacity - 69,144)
The construction of Lincoln Financial Field began on May 7, 2001, and has been the home of the Eagles since the start of the 2003 season. The state-of-the-art venue has also hosted college football games, concerts, international soccer games and college lacrosse championships. With a capacity of 69,144 "The Linc" has sold out every Eagles game since 2003, including two NFC Championships (2003 and 2004).

NOVACARE COMPLEX

The home of the Philadelphia Eagles daily operations since the spring of 2001, the NovaCare Complex resulted from a successful partnership with NovaCare Rehabilitation. The 108,000-square-foot NovaCare Complex has three natural grass football fields, a 70-yard indoor practice field, state-of-the-art training and weight rooms, locker and meeting rooms, a media center, a fully-staffed cafeteria, and a 189-seat auditorium. In 2009, the NovaCare Complex was ranked third in the country in terms of greenest facilities in professional sports, using solar panels to produce clean energy and many recyclable materials and systems throughout the complex.

GO GREEN

As part of the Philadelphia Eagles "Go Green" initiative, the Eagles will not be printing a media guide in 2009 in order to conserve paper usage and, in turn, help preserve the environment. The entire media guide is available to all media and fans on PhiladelphiaEagles.com, as well as by flash drive, and is continually updated on a daily basis.

Jeffrey LURIE

CHAIRMAN/CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Driven by a tireless pursuit of a Super Bowl championship for the city of Philadelphia, Jeffrey Lurie has shaped the Eagles into one of the most successful organizations in professional sports on and off the field. Along the way he has fueled energy, optimism, and pride throughout the entire organization, and has provided first-class working facilities along with a family atmosphere.

Taking over a franchise that made the playoffs just 14 times in a 62-year span (23%), the Eagles have been a perennial Super Bowl contender under Lurie, earning playoff berths in 10 of his 15 years as owner (67%). Only Indianapolis (12) has made more playoff appearances than the Eagles since 1995, Lurie's first full season as owner. In addition, only two franchises have won more playoff games and appeared in more conference championship games in that time span.

From 2000-09, the Eagles have won an NFC-best 103 regular season games and 10 playoff contests, while capturing five division titles (trailing only New England's 6). As such the Eagles became just the 13th team to top the century mark in wins over the course of one decade.

Under Lurie, the Eagles have a greater overall winning percentage (.571) and appeared in more playoff games (21) and won more (11) than any other ownership group in team history.

The Eagles streak of double-digit wins in five straight seasons from 2000-04 was the 11th such occurrence in NFL history and the first since San Francisco did so in the previous decade. With three 12-plus wins from 2002-04, Philadelphia became the sixth franchise in league history to accomplish that feat.

"I can honestly say that every single one of our employees, from players to coaches to everyone in the front office, is squarely focused on doing whatever it takes to win it all, even if the steps we have to take towards that goal are not always popular," said Lurie. "Knowing that everyone is pushing themselves to be better year after year is important, and I want our fans to know that every member of this organization shares their desire to win a Super Bowl championship."

Early in Lurie's tenure in Philadelphia one of his goals was to upgrade the Eagles working environment. The Eagles have since moved into two state-of-the-art facilities, Lincoln Financial Field and NovaCare Complex, their day-to-day workplace since 2001.

"Stadiums and training facilities are a vital element in the success and stability of sports franchises," said Lurie. "As an organization, you want to assemble the best coaching staff and best players, but you also have to provide them with the best facilities and environment in which to achieve that success."

He also hired team president Joe Banner, one of the league's sharpest minds and top salary cap experts, two-time NFL coach of the year Andy Reid, who was boldly hired in 1999 after a two-year stint as Green Bay's quarterback coach, and a franchise quarterback in Donovan McNabb.

Lurie is well respected among the NFL's top hierarchy as he serves as chairman of the Los Angeles Stadium Working Group Committee, in addition to sitting on the NFL's Finance Committee, Broadcast Committee, International Committee, and the Super Bowl Advisory Committee.

Since becoming owner of the Eagles, Lurie, who was named NFL owner of the year by The Sporting News in 1995 and by Pro Football Insider in 2000, has gone about the business of shaping the football team and the franchise on and off the field.

"I am proud to call Philadelphia my home and our fans are extremely deserving of having terrific football played here," says Lurie. "We appreciate them. On the road, they are there by the thousands. At home, they are always a 12th man. You just so badly want to deliver winning football and championship football to them. This is a world-class city with an amazing thirst for football. I have said so many times, winning the Super Bowl is the ultimate goal of this organization."

Describing his philosophy of ownership as a "partnership between the city, the fans and the team," one of Lurie's primary objectives early in his time in Philadelphia was the formation of Eagles Youth Partnership, the team's non-profit, charitable wing. Since its inception in 1995, EYP has developed into one of the most innovative and dynamic non-profit organizations in Philadelphia and in the entire world of sports philanthropy. EYP has delivered free books to over 350,000 low-income children in the Philadelphia region, examined the eyes of more than 22,000 children, 75% of which have received free eyeglasses, and constructed 12 playgrounds at deserving schools throughout the area.

In 2005, EYP was awarded the inaugural Steve Patterson Award for Excellence in Sports Philanthropy, established by the Sports Philanthropy Project and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation.

In 1996, Lurie was the recipient of the Torch of Liberty Award conferred by the Anti-Defamation League of Philadelphia and a year later was honored by Philadelphia's Operation Understanding, an acclaimed group that fosters interracial harmony among future leaders of the African-American and Jewish communities.

Under Jeffrey and Christina Lurie's direction, the Eagles have also developed a substantial Go Green program, a ground-breaking initiative to better the environment by creating and sustaining programs that improve the quality of life in the Philadelphia region, green the environment and reduce the team's impact on the planet. The Luries received the 2008 Ongoing Commitment Award from the Environmental Media Association for their efforts.

Jeffrey LURIE

CHAIRMAN/CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Lurie is a director of the NLM Family Foundation, which devotes much of their resources to autism research and education. NLM co-funded a short documentary film entitled Autism Is A World that received a nomination for a 2005 Academy Award.

Most recently, the Lurie Family Foundation was established by Jeffrey and Christina Lurie with an emphasis on health issues, especially in the areas of autism and cancer research. The Foundation also supports documentaries addressing global issues through Screen Pass Pictures, a documentary film company established by the Luries.

"Autism is one of the most under-funded conditions in the country, and we need to raise awareness," said Lurie. "Those who have autism are wonderful people, usually highly intelligent, sweet and caring. They are often unable to effectively communicate with others. A great deal more research needs to be done."

For his efforts, Lurie was honored by Autism Speaks at the Kickoff for a Cure IV in 2009.

Prior to entering business, Lurie served as an adjunct assistant professor of social policy at Boston University. He earned a B.A. from Clark University, a master's degree in psychology from Boston University and a Ph.D in social policy from Brandeis University. Lurie also served as the president and chief executive officer of Chestnut Hill Productions, a Los Angeles-based film company, since forming it in 1985.

Born on Sept. 8, 1951, Lurie resides in the Philadelphia area with his wife and their 2 children.

Joe BANNER

PRESIDENT

Long known as one of the NFL's top executives, Joe Banner has played an integral role in transforming the Eagles into one of the most successful and progressive organizations in professional sports, both on and off the field.

"Joe plays a crucial role in most everything we accomplish. His determination, intelligence and desire for success are invaluable assets to the Philadelphia Eagles," said Eagles chairman Jeffrey Lurie. "He's a great team player, unselfish and wants what's best for the franchise, our fans and our players."

The results on the field are very tangible. Since 1995, Lurie and Banner's first full year with the Eagles, Philadelphia has been in the playoffs 10 times in 15 years (67%). In the previous 62 years of the team's existence, the club earned 14 appearances (23%). Only Indianapolis (12) has made more playoff appearances than the Eagles since 1995 and only two franchises have won more playoff games and appeared in more conference title games in that time span: New England (17 wins and 6 championship game appearances) and Pittsburgh (14 and 6). In addition, the Eagles have the 6th best overall record (148-111-2) in the NFL since 1995.

One of the league's brightest football minds, Banner is lauded not only for his salary cap expertise, but for his negotiation skills and compatibility with head coach Andy Reid and the player personnel department in managing the roster on a long-term basis.

Esteemed Dallas Morning News columnist Rick Gosselin stated, "The Eagles [under Banner] have developed a strategy for the salary cap. And now it's the blueprint for financial success in the NFL: Draft well, play them young, extend them early." The New York Times hailed him as "the Joe Montana of the salary cap. He's simply the best." ESPN.com's Len Pasquarelli wrote he "should be the poster child for crafty and responsible salary cap management."

Banner does not go unnoticed within the Eagles organization. "With all the recent success of the team, most of the credit usually goes to the players and coaches," said Reid. "But without the support and hard work of the front office, we would not have that success. Joe Banner is a big part of that support."

With Banner leading the charge, the results have been dramatic off the field, as well. His tireless efforts to forge a partnership with the City of Philadelphia to build a football-based stadium in Philadelphia came to fruition when Lincoln Financial Field opened in 2003.

Banner, who has been overseeing the day-to-day operations of the franchise since May 6, 1994, was also key in the Eagles successful efforts to secure a partnership with NovaCare, which resulted in the building of the spectacular NovaCare Complex, the 108,000-square foot training facility, the largest and most state-of-the-art such facility in sports.

Banner, who was named to his current post of team president on August 1, 2001, has also been involved in the creation and execution of every department in the organization. Whether it was the restructuring of the football operation and bold hiring of Andy Reid, the creation of the league's most respected marketing operation, or the formation of the nationally-acclaimed Eagles Youth Partnership, he was at the center of those decisions.

Aligned with Banner's overall organizational philosophy, Eagles Youth Partnership has implemented many life-changing programs for the youth in Philadelphia-area, including the annual playground build at a deserving school. Banner and the rest of the Eagles staff close their offices to devote a full day of work to revitalize that site. In addition, the Eagles Book Mobile, Eye Mobile, and Power Partners Program has affected the lives of numerous children with vision and reading difficulties.

Over the last five years, Banner has been a driving force behind the Eagles Tackling Breast Cancer campaign. By selling pink hats, shirts and ties adorned with the Eagles logo, the team has raised over $1,000,000 for breast cancer awareness, patient care and research and research in the Philadelphia area.

The Eagles have earned several awards recently, including being selected the best overall web site amongst NFL teams three times, securing 36 Mid-Atlantic Emmys and 90 Tellys for the Eagles Television Network, and earning 11 Philadelphia ADDY awards for the "You Can't Script This Stuff" campaign in 2005. In addition, the Eagles media relations department has twice earned the Pete Rozelle Award for the league's top public relations operation.

Banner appreciates all the fan support in Philadelphia, "They are knowledgeable, passionate, deeply emotionally invested. It's a fun thing. I wouldn't want to work in a city that doesn't have that passion."

In fact, Banner played a major role in development of Eagles training camp at Lehigh University into a fan-friendly and family event, including the implementation of player autographs, a kids zone, a plethora of seating areas, and concessions.

While football is a huge focus in his life, Banner also has time for being a devoted husband to his wife, Helaine, and a loving father to daughter, Jill, and sons, Jason and Jonathan. The Banner family resides in the suburban Philadelphia area.

Banner also devotes a lot of time and energy to community service and is active in non-profit groups. He is the co-chair of the Philadelphia City Year Board. Banner also joined City Year's national Board of Trustees and is also the chair of its National Leadership Committee. In fact, he earned the prestigous 2009 Lifetime of Idealism Award from City Year Greater Philadelphia.

Of City Year, Banner says: "City Year is extremely important to me because I believe we live in a community and we each have an obligation to try to make our communities better places. For me, City Year epitomizes the values and beliefs by which I have tried to live my life."

Joe BANNER

PRESIDENT

For his efforts, he was named Citizen of the Year by the American Red Cross in 2004 for outstanding corporate leadership and commitment to Southeastern Pennsylvania's civic and charitable organizations. In 2006, he was honored with the Distinguished Community Leadership Award by Operation Understanding. Banner was honored for his commitment to volunteerism by former President George H. W. Bush at a national convention on volunteering and service in Philadelphia in 2007.

In 2001, Banner also received a prestigious leadership award from the renowned PARTNERS Program, a charitable organization that aims to enhance social and race relations in the Philadelphia region.

Said Lurie of Banner's community involvement: "Joe is invaluable not only to the Philadelphia Eagles organization but to the Philadelphia community as a whole. On the professional side, Joe has been the point person on the most crucial issues facing our organization. Joe's impact on the community, however, is of equal importance."

Banner's expertise has led to a great deal of respect within the field of higher education. In 2004, he lectured at a class on creating a corporate culture at the Harvard Business School and a class on leadership at the Wharton School of the Univ. of Pennsylvania.

In 1995, President Bill Clinton appointed Banner to a panel of 10 judges nationwide, which selected the 15 recipients of the prestigious President's Service Award. He is also on the board of the Maxwell Football Club and the Philadelphia Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Banner (born 2/13/53) is a graduate of Denison University and was a sports producer and reporter at Philadelphia radio station WCAU 1210 AM.

Howie ROSEMAN

GENERAL MANAGER

Now is in his 11th year in Philadelphia, Howie Roseman was named the team's general manager on January 29, 2010.

Roseman spent the previous two seasons as the team's vice president of player personnel. As the team's general manager, he will maintain a very similar role, working closely with head coach Andy Reid in all aspects of the player personnel department. He will manage the college and pro scouting staffs, organize draft meetings and the draft board, scout the top collegiate players around the country and assist in formulating the team's roster throughout the year.

The 35-year-old Roseman originally joined the Eagles in 2000 as salary cap/staff counsel. He was elevated to director of football administration in 2003 and to vice president of football administration in 2006. In this role, Roseman worked in the personnel department evaluating players around the NFL and for the draft. He also represented the team to the NFL on contract, salary cap, and player personnel matters.

In 2007, Roseman was invited to participate in the NFL-Stanford Program for managers at the Stanford Graduate School of Business, a program developed by the NFL to promote development of leaders within the league.

Born in Brooklyn, NY, Roseman earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Florida before earning a JD degree from Fordham Law School. Howie and his wife, Mindy, reside in Philadelphia, with their son, Jake, and their daughter, Emma.

Don SMOLENSKI

CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

Don Smolenski was promoted to Chief Operating Officer on 4/1/10 after previously serving as the club's senior vice president/chief financial officer. Smolenski is a valuable member of the Eagles front office and has progressively grown into his new role, serving as the key administrator for all non-football operations during his time with the Eagles. Smolenski works closely with team president Joe Banner in developing and implementing initiatives and strategies throughout the organization. He also plays a major part in instituting policies and procedures for all employees.

Known for his effective, easy-going style, Smolenski oversees all aspects of the facility operation teams at Lincoln Financial Field and the NovaCare Complex, the organization's financial operations (including stadium financing, debt management, budgeting, and financial reporting), human resources, information services, insurance, and team travel.

"With his broad range of thinking, Don has helped to develop ways of melding the business facets of the Eagles organization with the football," said Banner.

With that macro view of the entire organization in mind, Smolenski successfully led a collaborative effort in the opening of Lincoln Financial Field in 2003. He continues to lead the organization's efforts to maintain a first class venue with a priority on quality customer service.

Smolenski is also very involved in leading the team's environmental initiatives. Through its Go Green! program, the Eagles have emerged as a leader in environmental stewardship. The team has actively integrated environmental responsibility into all of its day-to-day operations through the implementation of recycling programs, usage of renewable energy sources, and numerous efforts to reduce its carbon footprint. Some of the specific initiatives include the addition of solar panels at the team's practice facility to convert energy from sunlight into electricity and the creation of the Eagles Forest at Neshaminy State Park in Bensalem, PA. In addition, the Eagles became the first organization to reimburse employees who purchased 300kwh of wind energy in their homes.

He also currently serves as secretary on the board of the Sports Complex Special Services District, a non-profit entity charged with improving the quality of life for the neighborhoods surrounding the stadium. He is also involved with Leadership Philadelphia, a non-profit organization that promotes leadership and community involvement in the city of Philadelphia.

Smolenski joined the Eagles in 1998 as the club's vice president/chief financial officer and was promoted to senior vice president/chief financial office two years later.

If I was not in football, I'd be: A race car driver

Smolenski came to the Eagles from the International Hockey League where he was the chief financial officer. During his tenure, he oversaw all league financial issues and played an integral role in the expansion of the league. Through the development of expansion models and the analysis of league performance models, Smolenski saw the league expand from 12 to 19 teams. He also spearheaded the development of a salary cap and several other cost management programs as well as interfaced with each of the team finance directors.

Prior to his term with the IHL, Smolenski worked as a public accountant with Arthur Andersen.

An avid runner, Smolenski has completed the Detroit, Pittsburgh and Boston Marathons. After graduating with a BA in biology from Amherst College, he continued on to earn his masters in accounting from the University of Hartford. Don and his wife, Karen, have two sons, Jake and Shane.

Sarah MARTINEZ-HELFMAN

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, EAGLES YOUTH PARTNERSHIP

When Eagles Chairman/CEO Jeffrey Lurie and his wife, Christina, established Eagles Youth Partnership (EYP) as the team's nonprofit charitable wing in 1995, they named Sarah Martinez-Helfman as its executive director. Now in her 15th year, Martinez-Helfman, frequently described as a "dynamo," is recognized as a leader in the field of sports philanthropy.

"From the start, we were all convinced she had the ability to not just manage grants, but create programs, work with our players, and get them involved," said team president Joe Banner. "I don't think there's anyone here who doesn't feel she has exceeded the expectations we had. Sarah is more passionate about what she does than anyone can be about what they do."

Under her direction, the award-winning EYP has given free books to more than 375,000 low-income children through the Eagles Book Mobile program and has examined the eyes of more than 26,000 children aboard the Eagles Eye Mobile. More than 75% of those children have received free eyeglasses and several have undergone vision-saving surgery. In addition, EYP, with the help of the entire Eagles organization, has constructed 13 playgrounds throughout the Philadelphia area.

"Eagles Youth Partnership helps define the cutting edge in the emerging field of national sports philanthropy," said Greg Johnson, Director of the Sports Philanthropy Project at the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation. "Nowhere have I witnessed more compelling examples of the strategic use of a professional sports team's assets than in the direct programming offered by EYP."

Since 2005, Eagles Youth Partnership has garnered nine awards, including the inaugural Steve Patterson Sports Philanthropy Award. This prestigious honor singled out EYP for its excellence and leadership in the national field of sports philanthropy.

During the week of Super Bowl 39, the Eagles Eye Mobile and Book Mobile made the trek to Jacksonville, as well, visiting local schools in that area. Along the way, the Book Mobile made stops to the elementary schools of Eagles players in Maryland, South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida.

Martinez-Helfman has devoted much of her career to working with young people. She has helped develop two National Service AmeriCorps Programs, has served as Chief Clinician of a residential treatment center for adolescent males in the juvenile justice system and as the lead advocate of a Rape Crisis Center.

On the corporate end, Martinez-Helfman spent three years in Europe, advising corporations, groups, and individuals on their charitable giving in England, Ireland, and Russia.

A graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Madison, Martinez-Helfman earned her B.A. in English literature and her M.S. degree in counseling psychology. She also holds certificates as a trainer of diversity, conflict resolution and nonprofit management. Having lived in four countries, she now is happily settled with her family in Haverford, PA. Her simple mission in life is to leave the world better than she found it.

Andy REID

HEAD COACH/EXECUTIVE VP OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

One of the longest tenured and most successful coaches in professional sports, Andy Reid utilizes a passionate, yet workmanlike approach as the head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles. A former offensive lineman at BYU, Reid still lives and works with those humble principles he learned during his time in the trenches.

His vision, his dedication, and his organizational skills have been impeccable during his tenure in Philadelphia. For those reasons, he was promoted to head coach/executive VP of football operations on May 8, 2001. Reid's contract was extended to 2010 during the 2004 season and to 2013 during the 2009 season.

Reid appreciates his time working for this city's beloved football team, "I love Philadelphia. The fans, there is nothing like them. I was on the other side of that when I was at Green Bay coming in as an opponent. I always said, 'boy you'd love to play for that crew there.' The fans here are unbelievable. They're fair. If we stink they let us know we stink, if we're doing okay they let us know we're doing okay, but they're always there. My hat is off to them and that support is phenomenal, absolutely phenomenal."

The results of Reid's labor have been very tangible and quite remarkable since taking over a 3-13 club on January 11, 1999. With 118 wins during his Eagles tenure (including playoffs), Reid is tied with George Allen for 28th place on the league's all-time list. Along the way, he has earned NFL coach of the year honors twice, and compiled the best win total, winning percentage (.611), and playoff victory total (10) in team history. He has captured five division titles and five trips to the NFC Championship game.

Among coaches with 100 games under their belt, Reid's winning percentage is 2nd among active coaches (Bill Belichick). Reid is also one of five active coaches in the NFL to have reached the century mark in wins, joining Belichick, Jeff Fisher, Tom Coughlin and Mike Shanahan.

Reid is the 2nd longest tenured head coach in the NFL behind Fisher and the 8th longest tenured head coach in the four major professional sports. In fact, Reid is the 14th coach in NFL history to remain with his original team for 11-or-more years, and since 1990, is one of three first-time head coaches to do so: Reid (since 1999), Fisher (since 1994), and Bill Cowher (1992-2006 with the Pittsburgh Steelers).

"What Andy Reid has done is remarkable," Hall of Fame coach Marv Levy said, "especially in light of the salary cap and free agency and the inability to maintain continuity. What I like most about him is he's level headed. It doesn't concern him who gets the credit. He's not concerned with puffery. His teams are sound fundamentally, and most important, he picked a great coaching staff for them. I admire the man."

In 2008, Reid became the 37th coach to reach the 100-win plateau, and the 22nd to win 100 with one franchise. He overcame a 5-5-1 start to reach the NFC Championship game.

In 2006, the Eagles lost six of their first 11 games and two of their most explosive players in quarterback Donovan McNabb and defensive end Jevon Kearse, but Reid led a season-ending, five-game win streak to capture the NFC East division title.

The 2004 Eagles clinched the NFC East title with five games remaining in the regular season and the #1 seed in the NFC playoffs after a 13-1 start. Along the way, Reid passed Greasy Neale for the most wins in franchise history as the Eagles earned their first trip to the Super Bowl since 1980 .

In 2003, the Eagles overcame a 0-2 start and a slew of injuries to post their second consecutive 12-win season. A year earlier, Reid was the overwhelming choice as the NFL's coach of the year as the Eagles thrived without the services of McNabb to still capture home field advantage in the NFC playoffs.

After a 5-11 mark in his first season, Reid led the 2000 Eagles to the greatest turnaround in franchise history, finishing 2nd in the NFC East at 11-5 and earning a trip to the NFC Divisional Playoffs. For his efforts, Reid was named the NFL's coach of the year by the Maxwell Football Club, The Sporting News, and Football Digest.

If I was not in football, I'd be: In the medical field/teacher

Eagles Chairman/CEO Jeffrey Lurie said, "I've always said, he's like a CEO on the field. He understands the big picture and the short-term picture. You have to always balance the two. Disciplined. Prepared. Smart. It's an awfully good combination.

"Andy has intellectual capital. He has no ego. To him, it's all about building team community. He's comfortable with himself. He's not paranoid, worried about what others think or report. He's genuine and people follow that."

REID'S COACHING TIMELINE

1982	BYU	Graduate Assistant
1983-85	San Francisco State	Offensive Coordinator Offensive Line
1986	Northern Arizona	Offensive Line

Reid came to the Eagles after spending seven seasons as an assistant coach with Green Bay under Mike Holmgren. During that span, the Packers reached the playoffs six times and defeated New England in Super Bowl XXXI.

In his 18-year NFL coaching career, Reid's teams have made the playoffs 14 times (19-13 record in those games). He has coached in the Super Bowl three times, in the NFC Championship game eight times, and in the Pro Bowl five times.

"Everyone who works with him and plays for him knows exactly where he is coming from," said team president Joe Banner. "We wanted someone with a strong set of convictions and who wasn't going to be affected by ups and downs and public pressure."

Andy REID

HEAD COACH/EXECUTIVE VP OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

The Plan:

"The important thing is to lay a plan, and then follow it step by step no matter how small or large each one by itself may seem." This quote by Charles A. Lindbergh is scribed behind Reid's desk and reflects his coaching philosophy.

From the first day Reid set foot in the Eagles office, he orchestrated a plan on what it was going to take to make this a championship-level team. That plan, Banner said, "changed the personality of the whole organization."

Said FOX Sports Troy Aikman, "Andy's the perfect fit for the city of Philadelphia. He has the right demeanor for the job and doesn't let things affect him. He has strong convictions, believes in what he's doing and doesn't waver."

A meticulously organized man, Reid began keeping a notebook as a Packers assistant - a three-ring binder - that would help prepare him to one day become a successful head coach.

Reid saved the old ideas and devised new plans, plans that he would later implement as a head coach. But this was not about game plans. It was about how to build a winning organization. It included practice, travel, and offseason schedules, notes from Holmgren's speeches, biographical information of other coaches, and much more.

Offensive Lineman Mentality:

Reid attributes his modest, selfless nature to his days as an offensive lineman in high school and college saying, "I'm glad to be of offensive lineman roots. That way you don't lose perspective amidst the glamour and the monetary things. You have that hard-work thing ingrained in your brain. You understand you haven't gotten to where you are without hard work."

Said Lurie, "He won't talk about himself. But he has a tremendous work ethic and a sense of honesty and genuineness. And he's a great leader. Everyone respects his human qualities."

REID'S COACHING INFLUENCES

Reid on his coaching influences ...

Hiro Tanaka, John Marshall HS, Los Angeles: "He took a bunch of kids of different races and combined them into making a team. We never had a problem."

Jim Sartoris, Glendale Junior College: "I was in that first group, and he came in, took a terrible program and built it back up into a championship team. I was right there for that."

LaVell Edwards, BYU: "I saw a man who knew how to treat people. He didn't care who you were, what you were about. At the same time, now, he could crack the whip. He never turned away an autograph seeker. And he didn't lose his cool during tough times."

Vic Rowan, San Francisco State: "Whenever he saw an interesting play on TV, he'd call up that coach and ask him to go through it with him in detail. He collected playbooks from all over the place."

Bob Stull, UTEP/Missouri: "He showed me how an ex-offensive lineman and offensive line coach could become a offensive coordinator and a great head coach."

Mike Holmgren, Green Bay: "I had a hard time believing anyone did it better than him when I was working for him."

REID ALL ABOUT IT ...

- Has the highest win total and winning percentage of any coach in club history. Here's a breakdown: Regular season: 108-67-1 (.616) ... vs. NFC: 84-48 (.636) ... vs. NFC East: 42-30 (.583) ... Playoffs: 10-8 (.556) ... Overall: 118-75-1 (.611)
- Became the 37th coach in NFL history to reach the 100-win plateau (vs. Atlanta on 10/26/08). In addtion, is the 22nd coach to win 100 games with one franchise and the 17th coach to reach 100 victories in their first stint as a head coach.
- Since 2000, Reid has engineered 113 overall wins, second to only Bill Belichick.
- His 10 playoff wins are most in team history and tied for 11th in league history.
- Reached the 50-win milestone faster than any coach in team history (81 games). Dick Vermeil did so in 88 games.
- In his 18-year NFL coaching career, his teams have made the playoffs 14 times (19-13 record). He has coached in the Super Bowl three times and in the NFC Championship game eight times.
- Owns a 73-41-1 (.639) mark (including playoffs) in games in November and later and a 52-35-1 (.597) regular season road record.
- Earned NFL coach of the year honors in 2002 and 2000.
- Is a member of the NFL's Coaches Subcommittee chaired by John Madden.
- On December 9, 2009, Reid signed a 3-year contract extension through 2013.

That work ethic was developed growing up in Los Angeles. Reid's mother, Elizabeth, was a radiologist while his father, Walter, was an artist working primarily on backdrops for theatrical sets. Father and son would leave their house at 4:30 a.m. Walter, who worked across the street from junior high, would drop Andy off at the school and the younger Reid would work on various projects in the wood shop.

To this day, he is a skilled craftsman who has built cabinets and clocks. He also enjoys tinkering with old cars and, in fact, owns a 1928 "Model A" Ford.

Climbing the Coaching Ladder:

Reid enjoyed a two-year stint as the Packers quarterbacks coach, working with Brett Favre from 1997-98. Reid took over that role after Marty Mornhinweg departed to become San Francisco's offensive coordinator under Steve Mariucci, the original quarterbacks coach on Holmgren's staff.

In 1997, Green Bay won its 2nd straight NFC crown and Favre garnered league MVP honors for the third consecutive season. Prior to tutoring Green Bay's quarterbacks, Reid oversaw the tight ends, while assisting offensive line coach Tom Lovat. Under Reid's watch, Mark Chmura and Keith Jackson earned trips to the Pro Bowl.

It was in his first years with Green Bay that Holmgren urged Reid to learn the entire offensive system, not just the roles of the offensive line and tight ends. "It was his curiosity, the questions he would ask, his note taking," said Holmgren. "He was just a sponge."

Andy REID

HEAD COACH/EXECUTIVE VP OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

In fact, Holmgren placed the "supervisory" tag on Reid in 1996 to prevent NFL clubs from hiring him as anything other than a head coach unless given permission.

A tackle and guard at Brigham Young University from 1979-81, Reid entered the coaching ranks as a graduate assistant under LaVell Edwards in 1982. It was at BYU that Reid met and worked with Holmgren, who served as the quarterbacks coach.

Reid next moved to San Francisco State in 1983 and helped them lead the nation in passing and total offense three consecutive years (1983-85). He went on to develop quality offensive lines at Northern Arizona, Texas-El Paso, and Missouri.

Personal:

Born Andrew Walter Reid in Los Angeles on March 19, 1958, Reid has an older brother, Reginald. Raised not far from Dodger Stadium, Reid was a devoted fan of both the Dodgers and Rams (Merlin Olsen and Deacon Jones in particular). He went on to attend John Marshall High School in LA and Glendale (CA) Junior College (where he was inducted into that school's Hall of Fame in 2003) before matriculating to Brigham Young University where he earned both a bachelor's degree in physical education and a master's degree in professional leadership in physical education and athletics.

As a player at BYU, Reid was also a columnist for the Provo Daily Herald. "I had my own little column," said Reid, who once longed to be a writer for Sports Illustrated. "I loved Jim Murray (a long-time columnist with the Los Angeles Times). I wrote a column trying to be like Jim. The editors took it easy on me. I enjoyed writing."

It was at a physical education class at BYU that Reid met the woman who would become his wife, Tammy. "What attracted me to him more than anything was his character. He's just a really good guy, very honorable and very conscientious." Reid converted to the Mormon faith in 1979 which Tammy and her family had practiced.

They have five children, each of whom was born in a different state - sons Garrett, Britt, and Spencer, and daughters Crosby and Drew Ann.

Marty MORNHINWEG

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH/OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Marty Mornhinweg is in his eighth season in Philadelphia and his seventh as the club's assistant head coach/offensive coordinator. Known as one of the top offensive minds in the league, Mornhinweg has put together record-setting performances for two different franchises in the role of offensive coordinator.

In 2009, the Eagles set a franchise record in points for the second straight season. Their 429 points shattered the previous mark of 416 set in 2008. In fact, Mornhinweg has orchestrated three of the four best scoring outputs in team history.

Since Mornhinweg took over the play-calling duties in 2006, the Eagles lead the NFL in 25-plus-yard pass plays (147) and yards per touch (8.0), rank fourth in total net yards (23,166), and seventh in points per game (24.7).

The Eagles offense successfully injected a core group of skill players into their game plans in 2009, including a pair of 21-year-old rookies in WR Jeremy Maclin and RB LeSean McCoy. Along with DeSean Jackson, who has become one of the game's most dynamic players, and reliable TE Brent Celek, the Eagles boasted one of the youngest and most productive offenses in the NFL.

In 2008, Mornhinweg guided QB Donovan McNabb to franchise records in yards (3,916) and completions (345), while leading the Eagles to an NFC Championship game apperance.

The Eagles offense finished 6th in the NFL in 2007 with 358.1 yards of total offense per game. Under Mornhinweg's guidance, many individual players also enjoyed superb seasons. RB Brian Westbrook set a franchise record with 2,104 scrimmage yards, while finishing 3rd in the NFL with 1,333 rushing yards.

The 2006 Eagles set a team record with 6,103 total net yards of offense, while the 1998 San Francisco 49ers under Mornhinweg's direction, registered a franchise-best 6,800 yards.

Mornhinweg joined the Eagles as a senior assistant coach in 2003 after spending the previous two seasons as head coach of the Detroit Lions. From 1997-2000, he served as the offensive coordinator of the San Francisco 49ers. In 1998, the 49ers became the first team since the 1941 Chicago Bears to lead the league in gross passing and rushing yards.

Mornhinweg and Reid coached together as offensive assistant coaches in Green Bay from 1995-96. In 1996, Mornhinweg tutored the Packers quarterbacks as Brett Favre captured MVP honors in leading his team to a Super Bowl 31 win over New England. The two also coached together at Texas-El Paso in 1987 and at Missouri in 1991.

Four quarterbacks have earned Pro Bowl honors while working under Mornhinweg: McNabb, Favre, and San Francisco's Steve Young and Jeff Garcia.

In all, Mornhinweg coached on the college level for 10 seasons: Northern Arizona (1994 and 1988), Missouri (1991-93), Southeast Missouri State (1989-90), Texas El-Paso (1986-87), and Montana (1985).

Born in Edmond, OK (3/29/62), Mornhinweg was the Northern California player of the year and an all-state performer as a senior at Oak Grove HS in San Jose, CA, where he played under Cleveland Browns president and legendary coach Mike Holmgren, an assistant coach at that school.

He went on to be a four-year starter at Montana, where he established 15 passing records for the Grizzlies. In 2009, Mornhinweg was elected to the Grizzly Sports Hall of Fame at the University of Montana. He is also a member of the Oak Grove High School Hall of Fame.

Mornhinweg also was a quarterback for the 1987 Arena Football League champion Denver Dynamite before suffering a career-ending knee injury.

He earned a degree in health and physical education from Montana and a master's degree in health and physical education/sports administration from Texas-El Paso in 1988. He and his wife, Lindsay, have four children, two daughters, Madison and Molly Lynn, and two sons, Skyler and Bobby Cade, and reside in South Philadelphia.

Sean McDERMOTT

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

One of the brightest defensive minds in the league, Sean McDermott is in his 12th season in Philadelphia and his 2nd as the team's defensive coordinator.

In his first season handling the reigns of the Eagles defense in 2009, McDermott overcame a rash of injuries to force 38 turnovers (3rd in the NFL), most by an Eagles squad since totalling 38 in 2002. His pressure packages also resulted in 44 sacks, which also ranked 3rd in the NFL. Three of his troops - DE Trent Cole (12.5 sacks), CB Asante Samuel (league-leading nine interceptions), and S Quintin Mikell (team-leading 122 tackles) - earned Pro Bowl berths as a result. In addition, the Eagles ranked 2nd in the league in 3rd down defense (33.0%) and 5th in yards per play allowed. For his efforts in 2009, Pro Football Weekly ranked McDermott first among all NFL defensive coordinators.

McDermott, one of the few NFL assistants to have successfully mentored two different position groups, worked closely with the late Jim Johnson (the Eagles defensive coordinator from 1999-2008) in all phases of the defensive game plan. In fact, McDermott was the longest tenured defensive assistant coach under Johnson.

Under his guidance in 2008, two of his defensive backs - FS Brian Dawkins and Samuel - garnered Pro Bowl honors, while Mikell earned 2nd team All Pro accolades. Under McDermott's watch the secondary improved in nearly every pass defense category from 2007 to 2008, ranking 2nd in the NFL in net yards per pass play (5.08).

As the team's linebackers coach in 2007, McDermott saw his young group of LBs flourish as Stewart Bradley, Chris Gocong, and rookie free agent Akeem Jordan all received their first taste of NFL action.

From 2004-06, McDermott served as the Eagles secondary/safeties coach. In 2004, he saw both of his starting safeties (Dawkins and Michael Lewis) earn Pro Bowl berths for the first time in team history. Under McDermott's tutelage, Dawkins went on to earn three more Pro Bowl berths. In addition, McDermott has been credited with the development of Mikell, an undrafted free agent in 2003.

McDermott worked as the Eagles assistant secondary coach in 2003 and as the club's defensive assistant/quality control coach from 2001-02, working with the linebacker position.

During a six-year span from 2003-08, one of his position group's players (Dawkins twice, Lewis, Omar Gaither and Mikell) was the most productive player on the entire defense in five of those years.

McDermott originally joined the Eagles in 1998 as a scouting administrative coordinator, working primarily with CBA, salary cap, and personnel matters. It was a position he held until being promoted to assistant to the head coach in 1999.

In 1998, he was the recipient of the prestigious Benjamin Ewell Award for his tremendous leadership and excellence on campus and in the community. In the spring of 1998, McDermott began his coaching career at William and Mary.

A 1993 graduate of LaSalle HS, McDermott was named All-Southeastern Pennsylvania at defensive back in 1992. An all-around athlete, he was also a national prep school wrestling champion in his junior and senior year and lettered in track.

In 2005, McDermott was named to the Philadelphia Daily News All-Catholic league team for standout players over the last three decades.

McDermott (born 3/21/74) earned a bachelor's degree in finance while at William and Mary. He and his wife, Jamie, have a daughter, Madeline, and a son, Gavin. His older brother, Tim, is the Eagles senior vice president and chief marketing officer.

Bobby APRIL

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

One of the most highly-regarded special teams coaches in recent NFL history, April joined the Eagles on January 14, 2010 as the team's special teams coordinator.

April spent the previous six seasons with the Buffalo Bills and guided their special teams units to the number one ranking in the NFL three times, according to the intricate system compiled annually by esteemed Dallas Morning News columnist Rick Gosselin.

"Bobby April has proven himself as one of the top special teams coaches in this league," said head coach Andy Reid upon hiring April. "I have spoken with many coaches and players who have worked with and played under Bobby directly and they have had nothing but the highest regard for him in terms as a coach and as a person."

Under April's tutelage, Bills punter Brian Moorman earned two Pro Bowl berths and punt returner Roscoe Parrish led the NFL with a 15.3-yard punt return average in 2008. That year, rookie kickoff returner Leodis McKelvin finished third in the NFL with a 28.2-yard average. In addition, Terrence McGee earned a Pro Bowl berth as a kick returner in 2004 under April as he set a franchise record with three kickoff returns for a touchdown. In 2005, Bills long snapper Mike Schneck joined Moorman on the AFC Pro Bowl squad. April, himself, was twice named special teams coach of the year by his peers in 2004 and 2008.

A veteran of 18 NFL seasons, April began his NFL career with the Atlanta Falcons, working as the team's tight ends and special teams coach from 1991-93. He moved on to the Pittsburgh Steelers as the special teams coordinator from 1994-95 and helped the Steelers earn a berth in Super Bowl XXX. From 1996-00, April worked with the New Orleans Saints in the same position before moving on to St. Louis from 2001-03. April began his stint in Buffalo in 2004 as the special teams coordinator before being promoted to assistant head coach/special teams prior to the 2006 season after Dick Jauron was named head coach of the Bills.

Born in New Orleans, LA on 4/15/53 and a product of Chalmette (LA) HS, April was a four-year linebacker at Nicholls State. He served as an assistant coach on the collegiate level at Southern Mississippi, Tulane, Arizona, USC and Ohio State.

ASSISTANT LINEBACKERS COACH

Mike Caldwell was promoted to assistant linebackers coach in 2010 after originally joining the Eagles coaching staff in 2008 as the team's defensive quality control coach.

As the team's quality control coach, Caldwell also assisted linebackers coach Bill Shuey and defensive line coach Rory Segrest with those position groups. Caldwell served as an intern coach during the Eagles 2007 training camp, working with the team's linebackers.

Caldwell enjoyed an 11-year NFL career as a linebacker with Cleveland (1993-95), Baltimore (1996), Arizona (1997), Philadelphia (1998-2001), Chicago (2002), and Carolina (2003). He played in 159 career regular season games and posted 14.5 sacks and eight interceptions, while proving to be a top special teams performer. In fact, Caldwell was voted by his teammates as the Eagles special teams most valuable player in 1998.

Born in Oak Ridge TN on 8/31/71, Caldwell played collegiately at Middle Tennessee State before becoming a third round draft pick of the Browns in 1993. Juan CASTILLO

OFFENSIVE LINE

One of the league's most accomplished offensive line coaches, Juan Castillo is in his 16th season with the Eagles and his 13th as thier offensive line coach. Under his tutelage, four lineman earned their first Pro Bowl selections: Tra Thomas, Jermane Mayberry, Jon Runyan, and Shawn Andrews.

In fact, since 1996 the Eagles have drafted thee offensive lineman in the first round - Mayberry (drafted in 1996), Thomas (1998), and Andrews (2004). All three went on to earn Pro Bowl berths under Castillo.

In 2009, the Eagles revamped offensive line paved the way for franchise records in points scored (429) points scored and passing yards (4,380). Newly appointed tackles Jason Peters, who earned a berth in the Pro Bowl, and Winston Justice, who developed into a full-time starter, anchored a line that featured five different starting combinations throughout the year.

Under Castillo in 2008, the Eagles offensive line allowed the fewest sacks per pass play (one every 27.3) in team history.

Castillo has also displayed a penchant for developing undrafted players into solid NFL starters. Eagles starting center Jamaal Jackson, Nick Cole, Hank Fraley, Artis Hicks, Bubba Miller and Steve Edwards were all rookie-free-agents-turned-NFL starters under Castillo's watch.

Castillo (born 10/8/59) is proud to be one of a few coaches in the National Football League of Hispanic descent. In fact, Castillo is fluent in Spanish and has done work for the NFL in promoting the game for its Spanish-speaking audience. In 2002, Castillo and his wife were special invitees of President Bush for a Cinco de Mayo celebration at the White House.

"A lot of people laughed at me when I said I wanted to coach in the NFL," Castillo said. "You have to have a dream, and then you have to have a plan, and you have to stick to the plan ... I just want Hispanic people to know that anything is possible. People tell me they look at me and see: That guy's just like us. Our first language was Spanish. I'm just like a lot of people out there who are Hispanic and they're wondering if there's something better out there for them. It's a big deal for them to see that."

Castillo was one of four members of former coach Ray Rhodes' staff to be retained by head coach Andy Reid in 1999. He originally joined the Eagles on March 1, 1995 as an offensive assistant, a post he held until being promoted to tight ends coach in 1997. One year later, Castillo became the club's offensive line coach.

Castillo's work as an offensive line coach at Texas A&M-Kingsville (formerly Texas A&I University) caught the eye of Rhodes. During his five seasons there, Castillo aided in the development of five Division II All-America linemen, including future NFL players Mayberry, Jorge Diaz, Kevin Dogins, and Earl Dotson. In that span, Castillo gained valuable experience as a summer coaching intern for Tampa Bay (1994), Seattle (1993), and Buffalo (1992).

A former linebacker with Texas A&I and the USFL's San Antonio Gunslingers, Castillo began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater before spending 1986-89 on the staff at Kingsville (TX) High School.

To this day, Castillo is inspired by his late mother, Juanita, who worked around the clock to support her family after her husband died while Juan was just 12 years old. "She's something special. I learned about work ethic from my mom. I always worked hard and wanted to do better so I could give something back to her."

A native of Port Isabel, TX, Juan and his wife, Zaida, have four sons, Gregory (a cornerback at Iowa), John (a distance runner at North Carolina State), Andres, and Antonio. On July 4, 2009, Port Isabel celebrated "Juan Castillo Day" in which the mayor gave Juan the key to the city. One day earlier, the city hosted a football camp for the children in his honor.

David CULLEY

WIDE RECEIVERS

David Culley has served as the Eagles wide receivers coach since 1999, Andy Reid's first season as head coach, and has been a valuable contributor to the Eagles offensive success.

Culley's position group was among the league's best in 2009 as they featured the young starting duo of DeSean Jackson and Jeremy Maclin. In just two seasons, Jackson has already become one of the league's most explosive players. After a record-setting rookie campaign in 2008, he ranked 2nd in the NFL in yards per reception (18.5) and 1st in punt return average (15.2) in 2009. As such, Jackson became the first player in NFL history to earn a Pro Bowl berth as both a receiver and a return man.

Maclin, meanwhile, jumped right into the starting lineup as a rookie in 2009 and caught 56 passes for 773 yards and 4 TDs. Jason Avant has also developed into one of the most reliable targets in the Eagles offense during his four-year career, improving his reception total every year.

Culley came to the Eagles after a three-year stint as the Pittsburgh Steelers wide receivers coach. During that three-year span, the Steelers reached the playoffs twice, advancing to the AFC title game in 1997 and to the divisional playoffs the previous season. In all, Culley has made six appearances in conference championship games.

A native of Sparta, TN, Culley was recruited by Bill Parcells as a quarterback at Vanderbilt University. Culley broke into the coaching ranks in 1978 when he oversaw the running backs at Austin Peay University. He next returned to his alma mater to coach the Commodores receivers from 1979-81.

Culley then followed a succession of one-year stops at Middle Tennessee State, Tennessee-Chattanooga, and Western Kentucky with a four-year stint as quarterbacks coach at Southwestern Louisiana, where he tutored former Eagle Brian Mitchell. Under Culley's direction, Mitchell became the first player in NCAA history to pass for over 5,000 yards and rush for over 3,000 yards in a career.

From 1989-90, Culley was the offensive coordinator/running backs/wide receivers coach at Texas-El Paso before joining R.C. Slocum's staff at Texas A&M. While there, Culley oversaw that school's receivers and helped the Aggies dominate the SWC from 1991-93.

Culley then jumped to the NFL ranks to tutor wide receivers, first with Tampa Bay (1994-95) and then with the Steelers (1996-98). It was under Culley's supervision in 1997 that Pittsburgh WR Yancey Thigpen hauled in 79 passes for a Steelers single-season record, 1,398 yards and 7 touchdowns en route to Pro Bowl honors.

Culley graduated from Vanderbilt with a degree in health and physical education. He and his wife, Carolyn, have a son, Monty, and daughter, Jessie.

Dick JAURON

SENIOR ASSISTANT/DEFENSIVE BACKS

Dick Jauron was named senior assistant/defensive backs coach by the Eagles on February 3, 2010. With 25 years of NFL coaching experience under his belt, including ten years as a head coach for the Chicago Bears (1999-2003), Detroit Lions (2005) and Buffalo Bills (2006-09), Jauron brings a wealth of knowledge to the Eagles defensive coaching staff. His hiring in Philadelphia reunites him with Andy Reid after the two served on the coaching staff of the Green Bay Packers from 1992-94.

"Long before he became a defensive coordinator and head coach in this league, Dick Jauron was considered to be one of, if not the best defensive backs coaches in the game," said Reid upon adding Jauron to his coaching staff. "We welcome his experience and knowledge of the game and look forward to adding him to our defensive coaching staff."

Added defensive coordinator Sean McDermott, "First and foremost, Dick Jauron is a person with tremendous integrity and his football background speaks for itself. I'm excited about his addition to the team and look forward to utilizing his experiences in the way of adding value to our defensive staff."

Jauron originally began his coaching career as a defensive assistant for the Bills in 1985. The next year, he was named the Packers defensive backs coach and remained at that post for nine seasons from 1986-94 before joining the expansion Jacksonville Jaguars as their defensive coordinator in 1995. Jauron helped lead the Jaguars to three playoff appearances in four years from 1995-98, including an AFC Championship game appearance in 1996, and an AFC Central title in 1998.

He was named the head coach of the Bears in 1999 and earned Associated Press NFL Coach of the Year honors in his third season on the job in 2001. That year he led the team to their first NFC Central title since 1990 with a 13-3 record, joining George Halas and Mike Ditka as the only coaches in franchise history to reach 13 wins in a single season. That season, the Bears defense ranked first in the NFL in fewest points allowed (180) and second in rushing defense (1,313 yards allowed). They also accumulated five second half come-from-behind victories and posted an 8-0 record in games decided by seven points or less. Jauron joined the Lions in 2004 as their defensive coordinator and eventually took over as interim head coach midway through the 2005 season.

A two-sport star in football and baseball at Yale, Jauron was drafted by both the Detroit Lions (4th round) and Major League Baseball's St. Louis Cardinals in 1973. He played nine seasons at safety with the Lions (1973-77) and Cincinnati Bengals (1978-81) and earned a Pro Bowl berth in 1974 as a punt returner after leading the NFC in punt return average (16.8). He finished his career with 26 interceptions, including two returned for touchdowns.

A graduate of Yale with a bachelor's degree in history, Jauron holds several school rushing records, including most consecutive 100-yard rushing games (16). Jauron attended Swampscott High School (MA), where he was named one of the top ten prep athletes of the 20th century in the state of Massachusetts by the Boston Globe. He spent some of his childhood in Rensselaer, IN, where his father was the head coach at St. Joseph's College.

Ted WILLIAMS

RUNNING BACKS

Ted Williams is in his 16th season with the Eagles and his 14th in the role of running backs coach.

Williams has earned praise for his work with Brian Westbrook, one of the league's most dynamic weapons as a running back and as a receiver out of the backfield. Westbrook is the club's all-time leader in total yards from scrimmage, while ranking second all-time in rushing yards and third in receptions.

Williams also helped integrate rookie LeSean McCoy into the running back mix in 2009. McCoy broke the Eagles all-time rookie rushing record with 637 yards, while Leonard Weaver became the 2nd Eagle ever to earn Pro Bowl honors from the fullback position. Weaver contributed 463 total yards from scrimmage while accounting for four touchdowns.

In 2007, Westbrook broke franchise records for scrimmage yards (2,104) and receptions (90) en route to earning his 2nd Pro Bowl berth and his first All-Pro selection from the Associated Press. Westbrook was the only NFL player to accumulate 700 yards in both rushing and receiving in 2004.

In 2003, Williams played a vital role as the Eagles employed a three-headed monster at running back (Correll Buckhalter, Duce Staley, and Westbrook).

As running backs coach, Williams tutored a 1,000-yard rusher six times, including three by Staley and two by Westbrook. Williams scouted Staley at the University of South Carolina and recommended that the Eagles make him their third-round draft pick in 1997.

Williams joined the Eagles staff in 1995 as a tight ends coach under head coach Ray Rhodes. He was one of four members of Rhodes' staff to be retained by Andy Reid in 1999.

Prior to joining the Eagles, Williams coached at the University of Arizona, Washington State, and on Terry Donahue's UCLA staff, where he developed All-America linebackers Ken Norton, Jr. and Carnell Lake, as well as a number of heralded running backs.

A basketball and baseball star himself at Centennial High in Compton, CA, Williams earned a place in the Cal Poly-Pomona University baseball Hall of Fame. A 1966 graduate of CPP with a degree in biological sciences and physical education, Williams went on to earn a master's degree, a second undergraduate major in zoological science, and his teaching-administration credentials from Cal State-Los Angeles in 1968.

After serving more than a decade as a coach, teacher, and athletic director at Compton (CA) High, Williams was named head coach at Los Angeles City College in 1980, but a short time later joined the UCLA staff.

Born in Lyons, TX, (11/17/43) Williams and his wife, Theresa, have three sons, Darryl, Donald, and Daniel, and a daughter, Terri.

Rick BURKHOLDER

HEAD ATHLETIC TRAINER

Known as one of the top athletic trainers in the National Football League, Rick Burkholder is in his 12th season in Philadelphia.

"I think Rick is well rounded," said head coach Andy Reid. "He gives you the feeling that it wouldn't matter what position he had in the organization, that he could come in and do a good job with it. It just happens to be that he's the head athletic trainer. There is no question he's one of the best trainers in the NFL. He has the respect of the players, the medical staff and the coaches and that's a hard triangle to grab and develop a trustworthy relationship with."

The director of one of the finest athletic training staffs in professional sports, Burkholder (born 3/14/64) is well known for his expertise in his rehabilitation programs.

Burkholder's aggressive rehabilitation program with Terrell Owens in 2004 allowed the star receiver to return from a surgically-repaired ankle in 7 weeks to play in Super Bowl 39.

He also spearheaded Duce Staley's complicated rehab program in 2001 that allowed him to return to the field after suffering a severe Lis Franc sprain in his foot, an injury that has ended the careers of several NFL players. The process went so well, Burkholder has since been published and has spoken nationally on the Lis Franc injury and its rehab process.

In addition, Burkholder also designed a remarkable rehab program for Steelers CB Rod Woodson in 1995. Woodson suffered a torn anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee on opening day, but returned in just 4 and a half months after surgery to play in Super Bowl 30 (The normal recovery process for that injury is 9-12 months).

Also, Burkholder has been very proactive in sports medicine, emphasizing programs that prevent and combat dehydration, asthma, and lower back injuries. Rick has been instrumental in injury prevention as well by modifying the team's stretching program and instituting a torso-strengthening program known as "back school."

Burkholder was named to his current post on February 9, 1999. He joined the Eagles after spending six seasons as an assistant athletic trainer with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Prior to joining the Steelers staff in 1993, the Carlisle, PA, native spent two seasons as an assistant football trainer at his alma mater, the University of Pittsburgh. A 1987 Pitt grad, Burkholder went on to earn his master's degree in athletic training from the University of Arizona where he spent two seasons as a graduate assistant and another as an assistant athletic trainer.

Burkholder is a certified athletic trainer and a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, the Pennsylvania Athletic Trainers Society, and the Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society where he is the committee chair for internal education for the society's foundation. He also serves on the NFL's mild traumatic brain injury committee.

Burkholder first gained NFL experience serving as a summer intern with the New England Patriots training staff in 1986. He was influenced by his father, Richard, a long-time athletic trainer at Carlisle HS, and his mother, Nancy, a registered nurse.

In 2003, Burkholder and his father were named distinguished alumni of Carlisle High School.

After being released by Washington in 1998, he returned to Atlanta because his wife, Erika, had found a good job with Lucent Technologies. 76 Stacy ANDREWS
GUARD/TACKLE

6-7, 340 | Born 6/2/81 in Camden, AR
Mississippi | Fairview HS, Camden, AR
7th year | Acquired - FA [Cin] 2009

The monstrous Stacy Andrews joined the Eagles offensive line after signing a six-year contract with Philadelphia on 2/28/09 and spent the 2009 regular season working his way back from knee surgery late in the 2008 campaign. A versatile player who has started at both guard and tackle in his career, Andrews spent his first five seasons with the Cincinnati Bengals.

IN THE TRENCHES

- His definition of an O-lineman: "Someone that's monstrous in the trenches. We take care of the dirty work. You've got to be hard-headed, and very, very tough - both mentally and physically."
- Favorite O-lineman of all-time: "Willie Anderson. Willie was my mentor while I was in Cincinnati. There is no way I'd be where I am today if it wasn't for him. He treated me like his little baby, never left my side. I didn't start playing football until my junior year in college, so I really was fresh and didn't know anything. He taught me all about the technique that goes into it, just everything that it takes to play this game at a high level. He molded me into the player I am today."
- Position he'd most like to play other than o-line: "Tight end, because I have good hands and quick feet."
- Hardest part about being 6-7, 340 pounds: "It has to be getting into those small airplanes. A guy like me, if I'm going somewhere that's not a big city, I've got to make sure I get that exit seat. That is key. If I can't get that I have to buy two seats, otherwise I will be hurting. It is tight on those things."

BIRDSEED

- Did not begin playing football until he was a junior at Ole Miss in 2002. That year, he walked on to the team and was subsequently red-shirted. He then appeared in five games as a senior in 2003 before being drafted by the Cincinnati Bengals in the fourth round of the 2004 draft
- Draws inspiration from his mother, Linda, who raised three kids on her own while Stacy was growing up. "It was tough man, but she held it all together. I'm really proud of her. It puts a smile on my face to see her now knowing where we came from. It's a great feeling."

PERSONAL

- Resides in South Jersey with his children, Stacy and Stacia
- His brother, Derrick, is a sergeant in the army and just finished a term in Kuwait. He is currently stationed in New York
- When he and Shawn were growing up, the two would frequent a local pizza place called Mazzio's. "The people would see us walk in for the pizza buffet and they'd be like, 'Oh boy, here come the Andrews boys.' We spent a lot of time in there. We would eat, chill and talk, then get up and eat again, then sit back and relax, then get up and get some more. It was crazy. I probably had three pies to myself one time. In fact, Shawn once had 54 slices, I believe. It was something crazy like that."
- Attended Fairview HS in Camden, AR, where he was a three-year letterman in track and basketball. Claims that basketball was his first love
- Person he'd like to trade places with for one day: "Shaquille O'Neal - that's my idol, man. I grew up loving that guy and I'd cheer for every team that he played on. I still do. I wanted to be just like him. You've got to love Shaq."
- Owns a saltwater tank in his home that has two puffer fish, a clown fish and an eel. "We don't have any names for the fish yet, but I'm going to let my children name them when they get older."
- His best character trait: "I love to laugh and I love to make people laugh. I think laughter is a very important thing. It helps people be positive and keep the positivity in their lives."
- Says that if he wasn't playing football he would be in the army
- Favorite moment in sports growing up: Winning the discus championship as a senior in high school
- Would like to coach track and field when his football playing days are over

FANCY FOOTWORK

Andrews claims that competitively throwing the shotput, discus and hammer while at Ole Miss helped him learn the nuances of what it takes to play on the offensive line: "A lot of the work that goes into it is actually similar because it's all about perfecting your technique. Those events I participated in are all about your technique and footwork. That's exactly what the O-line is about too. You can be great, tough and athletic, but if you don't have the right technique and footwork, it's not going to help you a lick on the o-line."

81 Jason AVANT
WIDE RECEIVER

6-0, 212
Michigan
5th year

Born 4/20/83 in Chicago, IL
Carver HS, Chicago, IL
Acquired - D4b-06 (109th overall)

A physical and sure-handed receiver, Jason Avant has developed into a reliable offensive weapon for the Eagles, setting career highs in receptions (41), receiving yards (587) and touchdowns (3) in 2009. Avant, who has seen his reception and yardage totals increase in each of his first four NFL seasons, was awarded with a five-year contract in 2010. A fourth-round draft choice in 2006, Avant has been a steady contributor on special teams and has shined in third-down situations over the course of his career.

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Named to USA Today's 2009 All-Joe team, which honors the NFL players whose work doesn't necessarily garner headlines, but is integral to the success of their team
- Set career highs in receptions (41), receiving yards (587) and touchdowns (3)
- Caught his third touchdown pass of the season, a 15 yarder from QB Donovan McNabb, vs. Den. (12/27)
- Led the team in receptions (5) and receiving yards (94) vs. Was. (11/29), including 66 yards on two catches (46 and 20) in the game-tying drive in the fourth quarter
- Snagged a 13-yard touchdown pass from McNabb at Chi. (11/22)
- Posted career highs in catches (8) and yards (156) at SD (11/15), marking his second-career 100-yard game. Also caught a career-long 58 yard pass from McNabb, which set up a field goal, and a 21-yard, highlight-film catch on 3rd-and-18 that led to a TD

TURBO TAX

Including playoff games, Jason Avant has converted 32 of his 37 career 3rd-down catches for 1st downs. "It's called taxing," said Avant about playing in the slot. "You go over the middle, you're going to have to pay a tax. You can do business there, but you're going to get taxed. And that tax is getting hit. You get used to it."

BIRDSEED

- One of the most humble and determined players in the sport of football, Avant is proud to have devoted his life to Jesus Christ on May 4, 2003 (during his sophomore year at Michigan) at the True Worship Church in Detroit. He was inspired that day by Pastor Lovell Cannon. He credits his late grandmother, Lillie, for trying to instill those values in him at an early age. "Growing up with her amongst all the gangs, violence and shootings at our house, she constantly prayed for me to live life the right way. It's now in my heart. It's my life." He refers to May 4 as his Christian birthday
- Is an avid player of Scrabble, his favorite board game. "It makes you think and it keeps your mind active. It also helps me communicate with all the words I've learned from playing."
- Avant and former Eagles teammate LaJuan Ramsey started an annual Christ First Football Camp that will alternate between his hometown of Chicago and Ramsey's hometown of Compton, CA. The camp will feature lessons in football and Christianity.
- Has become very involved in "freelance" social work through his church, and hopes to stay involved after his football playing days are over. His main focus is on child and teen development
- Lives by this quote from his college position coach, Erik "Soup" Campbell: "Don't count your catches, count your wins"
- Still finds time to work out with his personal trainer, Will Franklin, a body builder based in Chicago. Franklin, who also trained former Patriots safety and Chicago native Rodney Harrison, uses a lot of motivational tools to work his athletes like competitive workout sessions among his athletes and late night or early morning phone calls with a lot of good-natured trash talking. Said Avant, "His intensity is crazy and he has us competing against each other during each rep of each exercise."

PIANO MAN

Avant owns and plays an 88-key digital piano at his home. "I can play about 12 gospel songs start to finish. I'm not a pro by any means, just still trying to perfect my skills. I just want to worship God in every way I can. I hear things at church and then I go and try to play them at home."

MENTORS OF THE MENTOR

Avant overcame a rough childhood to become a fine football player and an even better human being, who now finds himself mentoring other young teammates during quiet moments in the locker room. Three influential people early in his life were his trainer, Will Franklin, his wide receivers coach in college, Erik "Soup" Campbell, and former NFL safety and Chicago native Rodney Harrison.

Campbell, Iowa's wide receivers coach: "I consider Jason one of my sons. He certainly wasn't born with a silver spoon in his mouth. He's one of the hardest working receivers I have ever been around. I still use him as an example to my young guys in college of how a guy like Jason, who wasn't the biggest, fastest, or most talented guy, can work hard to succeed and master his craft."

Harrison, who met him during Avant's sophomore year of high school: ""He's like a little brother that I never had ... He did it the right way. He didn't complain. He didn't cry to anyone. He's always positive. I saw a young guy who kept fighting, kept pushing back and thought 'this little cat has got some heart.' Jason has toughness and pride, but not arrogance, and that's the thing that really attracted me to Jason. He was a very humble kid, very soft-spoken, but very determined not to let anyone push him around."

Harrison on Franklin's influence: "Will did a terrific job of just bringing the inner beast out of Jason. I think he made him realize his potential. Jason got bigger, he got stronger, he got faster and he became more confident."

WIDE RECEIVER

New Mexico
5th year

Born 9/04/82 in Clovis, NM
Clovis HS, Clovis, NM
Acquired - Trade [Min] 2006

Hank Baskett (pronounced BASK-it) re-signed with the Eagles on 3/12/10 after spending most of the 2009 season as a member of the Indianapolis Colts. Originally a rookie free agent signing of Minnesota in 2006, Baskett was acquired by the Eagles in a trade and spent three-plus seasons in Philadelphia, where he proved to be a valuable option at receiver with his size and athletic ability. A versatile player, Baskett has also contributed on special teams in his career and was voted as the Eagles special teams MVP in 2007.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Recorded a game-breaking 90-yard touchdown reception from QB Donovan McNabb vs. StL (9/7/08), which was the longest play of his career and tied for the 7th-longest pass play in team history. He now owns three of the top 10 longest plays in team annals (89, 87, and 90-yard TDs)
- In 2006, became the 2nd rookie in NFL history to post 2 TD receptions of 85 yards-or-more (89 vs. Atl. 12/31/06 & 87 vs. Dal. 10/8/06) in a single season, since Green Bay's Billy Howton did so in 1952. Those two TDs were the two-longest by an undrafted rookie WR in NFL history, as he became the first Eagle ever to catch two TDs of 80-yds-or-more in the same season
- Twice earned Diet Pepsi NFL ROW honors in 2006 (vs. Atl., 12/31/06 & vs. Dal, 10/8/06)

BIRDSEED

- Annually hosts "Hank and Kendra's Tee'd Off About Child Abuse" golf tournaments (one in Clovis and one in Albuquerque) which benefits the Oasis Children's Advocacy Center in Clovis. Baskett is an avid supporter of that center, at which his father has worked for years. "There's two things that I'm passionate about off the field and that is children and the military. My father is the director of the center and has a job that I really respect. Kids should not feel afraid to live and to speak out about their lives because they have been abused. This organization allows the children to have an outlet when they feel they have no one else out there to turn to."
- Takes inspiration from his high school track coach, Mike Hankins, who offered this advice after the despondent Baskett went undrafted in 2006: "We have a 24-hour rule at our house," Hankins told Baskett. "You can feel down and gripe about something for 24 hours, but after that you put it behind you and you go to the task at hand and take care of your business." After the 21st hour, Baskett went on a two-mile run and put it behind him
- Baskett is proud to hail from Clovis, a New Mexico town of 32,000 people and the home to Cannon Air Force Base, which houses F-16 fighter jets and one of the largest cheese factories in the world ... Baskett is a frequent visitor to troops serving at McGuire Air Force Base in Trenton, NJ, and Cannon AFB to "just hang out with them and support them in any way I can"
- Holding the New Mexico high school record with a 7'-0" high jump, Baskett captured the Mountain West conference championship as a junior at New Mexico. It's a skill that he continues to apply on the football field. "High jumping taught me body control. Especially in those jump ball situations."

26 Mike BELL
RUNNING BACK

6-0, 225 | Born 4/23/83 in Denver, CO
Arizona | Tolleson HS, Tolleson, AZ
5th year | Acquired - FA-NO-2010

Mike Bell led the Super Bowl Champion New Orleans Saints with a career-high in carries (172) in 2009, while totaling 654 rushing yards and five TDs. A four-year veteran, Bell was originally signed as an undrafted free agent by the Denver Broncos in 2006.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Rushed for 677 yards and eight TDs as rookie in 2006. Became the fifth undrafted rookie to gain 500-plus rushing yards since the inception of the common NFL Draft (1967), and his eight TDs were the second-most among undrafted rookies during that span

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Set a career-high with 172 carries, contributing 654 rushing yards and five TDs
- Ran for two scores at TB (11/22), marking the fourth time in his career he has rushed for two touchdowns in a game
- Recorded career-highs in carries (28) and rushing yards (143) vs. Det. (9/13). It was his second career 100-yard rushing game and the most yards for a Saints running back since Deuce McAllister ran for 165 yards at Wash (11/30/03)

BIRDSEED

- Says the most underrated attribute you need to have at running back is the ability to think on the move. "Running back is such a multi-tasking position. You need to know so much about what you're doing pre-snap in every different situation. Then whether you get the ball, or whether you're blocking, or whether you're running a route, you have to think about everything and be quick while doing it."
- One of his favorite hobbies off the field is reading. "I read everything, fiction and non-fiction, I can't get enough. The thing about me though is I'm the leader of the half-book club. I start reading something and then I want to get on to the next one. I love reading about psychology and the cognitive development in people. Freud is definitely one of my favorites."
- Originally wanted to be an Olympic swimmer when he was young. "Before I started playing football, all I wanted to do was be a world-class swimmer. I don't know why, that was my dream. But then somewhere along the line football took over. And my swimming skills aren't the greatest."
- Unique in-game ritual: "I have to eat gummy bears and beef jerky at halftime and at the end of every game."

INJURY REPORT

- Rendered inactive with a knee injury at Atl. (12/13/09), vs. NYJ (10/4/09) and at Buf. (9/27/09)

- Spent his early childhood in Denver, CO, before moving to Phoenix at the age of nine. "Denver always has a special place in my heart. Even though I spent the majority of my early life in Phoenix, Denver always felt like home to me. I grew up a huge Broncos fan and when they signed me as an undrafted free agent, it was like a dream come true for me."

LINEBACKER

6-4, 258 | Born 11/2/83 in Salt Lake City, UT
Nebraska | Highland HS, Salt Lake City, UT
4th year | Acquired - D3a-07 (87th overall)

A third-round draft choice in 2007, Stewart Bradley is a unique talent with a rare combination of size and speed. After a successful year as the team's starting middle linebacker in 2008, Bradley entered 2009 showing great promise but suffered a torn ACL in training camp that ended his season. After spending the year relentlessly rehabbing while on Injured Reserve, Bradley is excited to return to the field in 2010.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- In his first season as a starter, finished second on the team in 2008 with 151 tackles
- Became the first player in franchise history to register a sack and INT (QB Drew Brees) in his first-career start (at NO, 12/23/07)

BIRDSEED

- Attribute you need most to be successful at linebacker: "Good ball instincts - you can practice every play, you can study all day long and know the playbook inside-out, but at the end of the day you have to make plays. It comes down to instincts, and if you don't have that, none of the other stuff matters."
- Unique pre-game ritual: "I'm probably the only guy in the NFL that doesn't listen to music before a game. I like how quiet it is in the locker room, so I keep it that way."
- Claims that his younger brother, Thomas, is one of the biggest influences on his life. "He's the most focused person I know. He's 22, he's a great athlete, a great student - he's fluent in Japanese. Once he puts his mind to something, it's done. He's amazing."
- Enjoys architecture and currently owns over 50 books on the subject. "It's amazing how much detail goes into every different type of design. Right now I'm just trying to learn as much as I can, and one day in the future I'd love to be involved in the building process of my own house."
- Studies French with the hope of becoming fluent one day. "Three or four of my friends speak it fluently and they hooked me in."
- An avid reader, his favorite authors are Nietzsche, Immanuel Kant, Robert Ludlum, John Steinbeck, and James Joyce
- Would like to own and operate a biodynamic farm and restaurant. In fact, his favorite restaurant is the Blue Hill at Stone Barn in Pocantico Hills, NY, a self-sustaining farm where everything is grown naturally and served in the restaurant

NOBODY WORKS HARDER

After both suffering ACL injuries in training camp, teammates Cornelius Ingram and Stew Bradley rehabbed together throughout the 2009 season. Said Ingram about Bradley: "Stew is by far the most competitive and hardest worker I've ever met. I don't think I would have been able to do this without him. He was just positive every day and he pushed us both to the limit. He's nonstop. How much he wants it and the way he prepares - I don't think you could compare him to anyone else."

PERSONAL

- Single and resides in Philadelphia
- Parents are John, an attorney, and Ann, a nurse at a surgical center in Salt Lake City, UT. His younger brother, Thomas, is a safety at Utah
- Played just one season of football as a junior at Highland HS due to injuries, starting at safety. Also starred in rugby and won three straight national championships

RUNNING BACK

5-9, 215 | Born 6/23/85 in Charleston, MS
UT-Chattanooga | Charleston HS, Charleston, MS
2nd year | Acquired - Waivers (SD) 09

Originally a rookie free agent signing of San Diego in 2007, Eldra Buckley earned a spot on the Eagles active roster in 2009 after performing well in the preseason. A physical player with size and toughness, Buckley is a key special teams performer and provides depth at running back.

PERSONAL

- Lists his favorite player as Walter Payton. "He played right around the corner from where I'm from. I always liked his style and the way he ran the ball."
- Began playing football in 7th grade after watching his cousin play in high school. "I always liked football but we didn't have little league or Pop Warner, so I had to wait until I got older. My cousin Ryan played and I kind of took after him."
- Earned JUCO All-America honors at Northwest Mississippi Community College
- Lettered in football and track at Charleston HS
- Led his high school team to an undefeated regular season as a senior. "Playing in high school, I loved the atmosphere of the town. It's a small town but everyone would come to the football games."

- If he could trade places with somebody for a day: "I would pick Denzel Washington. I met him once before and he's one of my favorite actors."

97 Brodrick BUNKLEY
DEFENSIVE TACKLE

6-2, 306
Florida State
5th year

Born 11/23/83 in Tampa, FL
Chamberlain, Tampa, FL
Acquired - D1-06 (14th overall)

The Eagles first-round draft choice in 2006, Brodrick Bunkley has blossomed into an imposing presence at the defensive tackle position. A three-year starter, Bunkley continues to disrupt opposing offenses and is a big reason why the Eagles run defense has been much improved over the last three seasons.

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Finished t-1st on the team with six tackles for a loss
- Notched a sack and recovered a fumble of Redskins QB Jason Campbell at Was. (10/26)

BIRDSEED

- Grew up a big fan of Lawrence Taylor, and credits him as one of the main reasons he started playing football. "I love his attitude and the way he played the game. That guy was a wild man out there. Just watching him and his passion for the game motivated me and I try to carry myself that way when I'm on the field."
- Has always been a fierce competitor who plays the game with a great deal of emotion. "I think my competitive nature comes from growing up with my cousins. We were always trying to be the fastest, the strongest and the best at whatever it was we were playing. Whether it was football or video games, we always wanted to be the best."
- One of the strongest players in the NFL, Bunkley bench pressed 225 pounds 44 times at the 2006 NFL Combine, which is one of the top performances in the history of the event. He attributes his strength to his mental approach while lifting.

  "When I do my training, I really try to mentally focus on what I'm doing rather than just going through the motions. I read somewhere that you're supposed to do that and I had actually been doing it for as long as I can remember. It's been very effective; I try to see and feel every muscle fiber working throughout each rep. If I'm doing the bench press, I try to feel my chest and arm muscles pushing the bar away."

BACKYARD FOOTBALL

Bunkley's passion for football started at a very young age, playing backyard football with his cousins and friends.

"We used to all get together after school and play all night. It must have been 20 on 20 with one ball. It felt good to just go out there and have fun. Growing up, I never expected for it to get me anywhere, I just loved to play the game and I still carry that attitude with me today. There's no better feeling than when you make a big play out there in front of all the fans. It really gets your adrenaline going."

BIRDSEED

In 2009, Celek became the first Eagle tight end to notch back-to-back, 100-yard receiving games since Pete Retzlaff in 1965

- Brent and wife, Susie, have teamed up with the Miracle League of Northampton, a baseball/softball league for special needs children, in an effort to build Miracle Field, a safe, smooth baseball surface for kids in wheelchairs. Susie grew up in Greentown, OH, on a street with five boys. One of them, Matthew, was in a wheelchair, paralyzed from the waist down. "We'd been asked by other organizations," said Susie, "but when we talked about the Miracle Field, Brent remembered what I had told him about Matthew and said, 'This is it.' " For more information about Miracle Field, visit www.miracleleaguenhpa.org.
- Celek, who was not invited to the NFL scouting combine as a senior in 2007 and was then drafted in the fifth round, admits that those snubs have been a huge motivating force for him. Said Celek: "It ticked me off, to be honest.I thought I would be drafted higher, but it just lit a fire under me that I will always carry.
- Had dinner with Jim Cramer, host of "Mad Money" on CNBC and long-time Eagles fan, during the 2009 offseason. The two met to discuss finance and football. "We went to a barbeque place in New York called Blue Smoke. We talked about finance and the market, then we talked about football. It was fun, he invited me back up there to sit in and watch the show."

FOR CELEK, THE ONLY WORK IS HARD WORK

Known for his relentless work ethic, Brent Celek has the distinct reputation of being the first one in to the NovaCare Complex every day, and the last one to leave.

Mark Staten, who was Celek's tight ends coach at Cincinnati and is currently coaching at Michigan State, claims that his former player has always been that way. Said Staten: "He is one of the hardest working, if not the hardest working player that I have enjoyed coaching. From the time I met him as a freshman when he got to Cincinnati, he wanted to be the best tight end. He wanted to play in the NFL and he wanted to be the best tight end in the NFL. As a young 19-year-old, that was his goal."

When asked if there was a specific moment when he knew Celek would turn into something special, Staten recalls a funny story. "When he took all my NFL tight end tape and I couldn't find it any more. I let him borrow it, he studied it on his own and I never got it back. We had some film with Shannon Sharpe doing some things. I remember he really dove into that. That's the thing about Brent - he's just a guy that wants to be the best. His work ethic, his intelligence, the way he goes about the game of football. He wants the information."

Staten on what he admires the most about Celek: "He has taken words of wisdom and lived by them and applied them to his life. He's outstanding – first one in, last one to leave – and people gravitate to him because he's got a good sense of humor. He'll throw the verbals out there to get guys going, but it's by the way he does things is how he leads. He's not going to fall down if he can gain two more yards. He's not going to avoid a collision if he can get another yard. That's something special about him."

BRENT CELEK

BIRDSEED

- Acquired his desire to invest and research business ventures during his college classes at Cincinnati. "I would often get bored in class and sometimes just log onto the internet during class to research companies and learn as much as I could."
- Works with his cousin, Josh Randell, to broker deals between companies importing and exporting a variety of products from China, including bamboo flooring, plastics, molds, and chemicals. "Every time we get a big deal done, it's a big rush. Not as big as a football game, but it's up there. It's a very competitive venture."

TAKE FLIGHT FOUNDATION

Celek founded his Take Flight Foundation in the 2010 offseason. The organization's mission is to provide opportunities, support and resources to children and families in need throughout Greater Philadelphia. I still laugh about that to this day."
- Best player he's ever lined up against: Vince Wilfork

PERSONAL

- Loves being in Philadelphia because of the fans and the fact that there are so many things to do: "The fans are who I play for. They make it fun for me. I love when the city gets hyped up for a big game all week long. I look forward to those games. As for Philly, there's always something to do, seven days a week. People like to have a good time. You can be at a mall in minutes or at the beach in an hour."
- Has enjoyed hunting ever since he was a 4th grader. "I know that some people look down on hunters and think that it's a barbaric hobby, but I pride myself on doing everything within the proper rules and regulations. Hunting is a tradition where I am from, and as a kid you don't know any different. Hunting also serves the community by controlling the animal population and keeping certain diseases from running rampant throughout the community."
- Says his favorite trophy would be harvest, Boone and Crocket a white-tail deer. Cole says if you don't know what that means, please log on to ColeOutdoors.com and find out!

- Enjoys listening to country and hip-hop music
- Sees himself as a hands-on guy. "My family is a bunch of hard workers who are gifted with their ideas and their hands. I think that helps me a little on the field."
- While in Hawaii for his first Pro Bowl appearance in 2008, went wild boar hunting with Patriots offensive linemen Logan Mankins and Matt Light in the mountains of Waikiki. Trent emerged from the trip with a boar in excess of 250 pounds

42 Kurt COLEMAN
SAFETY

5-11, 195 | Born 7/1/88 in Clayton, OH
Ohio State | Northmont HS, Clayton, OH
Rookie | Acquired - D7c - 10 (244th overall)

A hard-hitting and savvy defender for Ohio State, Kurt Coleman was procured by the Eagles in the 7th round of the 2010 draft. This three-year starter at safety and team captain for the Buckeyes earned first team All-America honors in 2009 after recording 68 tackles, five interceptions and three forced fumbles.

BIRDSEED

- "I really believe in paying it forward," said Coleman, who donated a lot of time and resources to several charities during his collegiate career. In fact, he was president of the Ohio State chapter of Uplifting Athletes, an organization geared toward fundraising efforts for rare diseases. His father's bout with breast cancer really piqued his interest in that organization. "During my freshman year of college, my father held off chemotherapy treatments just so he could attend our National Championship game against Florida. He never missed a day of school or practice while teaching physical education and coaching basketball. He's an inspirational guy and has been through a lot. I really look up to him"
- Ron Coleman on foregoing breast cancer treatments to attend Kurt's bowl game: "I really needed to be around Kurt and the rest of my family during that time. I would honestly say it helped me more than it helped or inspired them. [Being at that game] was paramount in my recovery. I had made up my mind right away that I was going to be at that game, no matter what."
- Biggest influence on his football career: "Besides my father, it was my high school defensive backs coach, Collin Abels. During my freshman year, I was a knucklehead and he just helped me get on the right path in life. We still talk once a week." ... Abels is currently a social studies teacher and defensive coordinator at Northmont High School
- Most underrated part of playing safety: "Communication. Good communication with the linebackers and the cornerbacks is crucial. And you have to have knowledge of the entire defense and be the quarterback of the defense"

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Played in 49 career games (35 starts - 25 at strong safety and ten at free safety), recording 219 tackles, nine interceptions, five forced fumbles and three sacks
- Earned first-team All-America honors from The Sporting News in 2009 and also garnered first-team All-Big Ten accolades. Started 12 games at strong safety, recording 68 tackles, five interceptions and three forced fumbles. Also was named the team's MVP in a vote by his teammates
- Recorded an 89-yard INT return for a touchdown vs. Wisconsin in 2009, which was the fourth-longest return in school history. In fact, his 129 INT return yards in 2009 rank as the third-best total in school history
- An All-Big Ten second-team selection in 2008, ranked third on the team with a career-high 78 tackles, 4 INTs, 1 sack and 1 FF

GAME CHANGERS

Coleman overcame quite a bit of adversity on and off the field. In fact, he almost quit football for good following an April, 2006 practice in which he tackled Tyson Gentry, a scout team receiver. Gentry was paralyzed and Coleman was devastated. "I don't think I would have played again, but Tyson and his family were so supportive. They told me it wasn't my fault, that it was an accident and part of the game. That meant so much." The two remain close to this day. Later that fall, Coleman's father, Ron, was diagnosed with breast cancer. The elder Coleman, however, is cancer-free after surgery and extensive chemotherapy. "It was a rough year," recalled Coleman. "But I developed a skin that year that allowed me to deal with any situation, and I think it made me a stronger person."

HUMBLED IN HAITI

Along with teammate Winston Justice, spent four days on a missions trip to Haiti in March 2010. Among other things, they helped to build the foundation of a new orphanage.

"I was praying to be humbled and shortly after that I got a call from Winston," said Demps. "To see what they go through and still have a smile on their face, I'll never forget that. I wouldn't trade that week for anything. It really spoke to me and helped me put things in the right order. It brought me down to earth and humbled me a lot."

Demps was so moved by the experience that he plans on returning there to re-unite with some of the kids he met while he was there.

"I developed a relationship with some kids there and I want to go back and check on them. It's easy for people to forget about them when you aren't seeing it on the news, but they still need help."

90 Antonio DIXON
DEFENSIVE TACKLE

6-3, 322 | 7/17/85 in Miami, FL
Miami (FL) | Booker T Washington HS, Miami, FL
2nd year | Acquired - Waivers (Was) 2009

A powerful, run-stuffing defensive tackle, Antonio Dixon contributed to the Eagles defensive line rotation after being claimed off waivers just days prior to the 2009 season opener. Dixon, who overcame remarkable odds and obstacles during his youth just to make it to the NFL, was originally signed as a rookie free agent by Washington following the 2009 draft.

BIRDSEED

- Is extremely thankful to former Redskins teammate Cornelius Griffin for all of the advice he gave the rookie free agent during his few months in the NFL. "On the first day of mini camp, he just came up to me and asked me if I was drafted and I said, 'no.' From there on out, he helped me with everything and I mean everything. One day, the whole team was attending a team function and we needed to wear a suit. I didn't own a suit and he made sure to buy me one. On the field, he helped with technique and how to use my hands. He's a down-to-earth guy and he's the best worker I've ever seen. He'd go into the weight room for hours after a two-a-day practice session. He was a great example to me and the whole team. He was an open book to me and I'll never forget that."
- As his football career progresses, would like to devote more time and resources to single parents and their children to help them through any obstacles they face in life. "I saw firsthand how hard it was for my mother" ... in fact, his first job was as a youth counselor at the Alonzo Mourning Youth Center in Miami. "I was in charge of the 3rd and 5th graders and it was a lot of fun. I made about 7 bucks an hour and I got a chance to meet Mourning."
- Was named Man of the Year by Miami's athletic department in 2008 for his extensive involvement in the community. He and a few of his teammates devoted their Saturdays in the offseason to playing football and other games with kids at a local homeless shelter
- Lists technique as the most underrated part of his job: "You just can't out-muscle an offensive lineman at this level. You have to have good hands and good footwork."

FAMILY MATTERS

Dixon endured a rough upbringing in which he and his four siblings spent a majority of their childhood bouncing between homeless shelters while his single mother, Cornethia, struggled to provide a stable lifestyle for her family. After first playing organized football in 9th grade, Dixon remained in school despite contemplating quitting so he could find a job to help support his family. With over a dozen scholarship offers by the time he was a senior, he realized football was his best chance of helping his family even more. Said Dixon about his NFL career, "I just need to keep getting better. I have the opportunity to try to help my family out more, so I know I need to work hard every day."

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Blocked Robbie Gould's 48-yard field goal attempt in the 4th qtr. at Chi. (11/22), setting up the game-winning TD drive
- Recorded his first-career sack (QB Eli Manning) vs. NYG (11/1)
- Played in his first NFL game at Car. (9/13)

46 Jon DORENBOS
LONG SNAPPER

6-0, 250 | Born 07/21/80 in Garden Grove, CA
UTEP | Pacifica HS, Garden Grove, CA
8th year | Acquired - FA 2006

Pro Bowls: 2009

After battling a tremendous amount of personal adversity early in life, Jon Dorenbos (pronounced DORN-boss) has worked hard and stayed focused enough to carve out an eight-year career as a NFL long snapper. Originally signed by Philadelphia in the latter half of the 2006 season, Dorenbos has played in every game for the Eagles since then (including postseason) and inked a five-year contract extension on 12/29/07, which will keep him in Philadelphia through 2012. Dorenbos, who endured the murder of his mother by his father at a young age, took up magic to help ease his mind throughout the tough times. Dorenbos, in fact, has become so good at his craft that he has been hired for shows in Hollywood and Las Vegas.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Earned his first Pro Bowl selection following the 2009 season. "On an individual level, it was the coolest thing that ever happened to me," said Dorenbos. "Being in a position that's kind of a monotone, monotonous job, not really in the spotlight - I'm cool with that. It's like being an offensive lineman. We do it because we love it. To get that level of respect [from the coaches who voted] is really what it's all about."

BIRDSEED

- Named the team's Ed Block Courage Award recipient of 2008. The award honors those NFL players who exemplify commitment to the principles of sportsmanship and courage and is given by a vote of the team for effort as well as individual performance
- In 2008, Dorenbos captured a Mid-Atlantic Emmy Award for hosting Inside the Eagles, which aired on Comcast SportsNet in Philadelphia via the Eagles Television Network. The show featured player interviews inside the locker room, as well as their work in the community
- An accomplished professional magician, has performed at venues in Las Vegas and Hollywood. His love for magic was born while he spent 1992 in foster care after personal tragedy struck his family. He met an older teenager who could do tricks and he fell in love with magic. "It was a time for me to be by myself, a way for me to pass time. I was at peace and I enjoyed it. I loved the coordination, and being obsessed with the fundamentals of what I was doing. I loved getting involved in the psychology of magic and people and entertaining people. I've never been one to want people to think I have powers or I can fly or anything like that; I like getting a group of people together and having fun."
- Has performed magic in front of many famous musicians and athletes. The long list includes stars like Magic Johnson, Joe Montana, Dan Marino, Jim Kelly, Garth Brooks, Lindsay Lohan, Rascal Flatts and Dierks Bentley. Dorenbos collects the autographs of every famous person he has performed for on playing cards, which he hangs up in the game room of his home in Huntington Beach, CA. "It's like a museum in there with all the memorabilia. Having the opportunity to meet the people I've met through something I love doing, it's just an indescribable feeling."
- Hopes to perform magic for Jay Leno in the future. "I never did magic on The Jay Leno Show. I met him, hung out with him, but that would be pretty sick."
- In the offseason, serves as a corporate motivational speaker and has spoken for companies such as Jackson Financial, ING Financial, Pioneer and the National FFA Organization. Dorenbos also likes to mix magic and comedy in with his routine. "I love it," says Dorenbos. "I get to tell my story, I get to tell a lot of NFL stories and I relate them to corporate America. If you have good responses and people enjoy what you do while changing lives, then it's a win-win for everybody." His speaking engagements are arranged by Dave Cacciatore (716-866-3844). For more information, log onto www.JonDorenbos.com
- Recently finished work as the executive producer of an album with best friend/singer Steve Carlson. The acoustic collection, "Days Behind," can be found on SteveCarlson.com, itunes and cdbaby.com. Dorenbos also executive produced Carlson's work on his previous album "Stripped Down"

"TEAMING UP" WITH GARTH BROOKS

Remains active with the "Garth Brooks Teammates for Kids Foundation." The nonprofit corporation, which was co-founded by Garth Brooks in 1999, develops and implements innovative concepts that generate funds for the benefit of children's charities. "It's the first foundation that I have been involved with where 100 percent of the money goes to the children," says Dorenbos. "If you donate money, [the foundation] matches it and if you have charities that you work with, they redispurse the money." For more information, please visit www.teammatesforkids.com

IN THE TRENCHES

- Position other than O-line you'd most like to play: "Middle linebacker, because I played there in little league. I loved the freedom of running sideline to sideline. But that was back when I could run all day long!"
- Favorite O-lineman of all-time: "Bob Brown. I recently saw some film of him ... He was a beast. He was the first big, athletic offensive tackle in the NFL. He set the standard."
- How you decided to become an O-lineman: "I really didn't have a choice. I was too tall for defense and too heavy to be a tight end."
- The best part of being an O-lineman: "Getting to knock somebody around every play, all game long. I love the physicality of it."
- Most challenging aspect of your job: "The preparation. There's a lot of work involved that most people don't see, especially all of the drills working on fundamentals."
- Most underrated attribute of being an O-lineman: "I would say athleticism, since everybody thinks we're all fat and slow."
- Most memorable block: "I had a down block as senior in high school and I took out the defensive end, the nose guard and a linebacker and the back, Theo Townsend, ran about 45 yards for a touchdown."
- Best player you've ever lined up against: "Dwight Freeney. I saw him for two plays in a preseason game in 2009. His spin move is definitely vicious . You know it's coming, but you still can't stop it."
- Your advice to aspiring O-lineman: "Stay active and work hard."
- Worst part of being 6-9, 330 pounds: "Not being able to ride roller coasters at Six Flags anymore. And I love roller coasters. And the worst part is that I'll wait in line forever but the shoulder harness is never able to click down and lock because of my height."

BIRDSEED

- Despite switching majors in college, he still hopes to be an electrical engineer when his football playing days are over. "I used to like to mess around with electrical things when I was younger, taking radios apart and trying to fix things. I broke a lot of things in the process."
- Fokou immigrated to the United States in 1990. He traveled from College Park, Md., to Baltimore to take the United States citizenship test in 2008 after spending three years on the waiting list
- Rose from a walk-on to the scout team to starting strong-side linebacker at Maryland by showing his mettle on special teams and was able to find a similar fate with the Eagles in his rookie campaign. "A starting spot on offense or defense is never guaranteed. I think finding your way through on special teams is a very good step. It shows you can be relied on."
- Comes from a very athletic family, as his younger brother, Achille Kolla played defensive back at Catholic University, and his other brother, Franck Tebou plays linebacker at Bryant University

EMERGENCY KICKER?

Grew up playing soccer in Cameroon but made the switch to football after playing pickup games with his neighbors and falling in love with the physicality of the game.

"I started out with soccer because they have a very good soccer team in Cameroon. I had some friends in my neighborhood who said, 'Moise, you've got to come out and play football with us.' I was always a physical kid, always running and getting into trouble, and then I found a way to hit someone and get away with it. I found a love for the game, liked the physical aspect of it, and from then, it just took off."

Because of his soccer background, Fokou believes that he would be a solid emergency kicker. "If they ever need me, I think I could definitely step in and get the job done."

96 Omar GAITHER
LINEBACKER

6-2, 235 | Born 3/18/84 in Charlotte, NC
Tennessee | Myers Park HS, Charlotte, NC
5th year | Acquired - D5b-06 (168th overall)

A fifth round draft choice of the Eagles in 2006, Omar Gaither has started games at both outside and inside linebacker as well as contributing on special teams during his four-year career in Philadelphia. Gaither started the final five games of his rookie season at the WILL linebacker spot before moving to the middle in 2007, when he started all 16 contests and posted a career-high 170 tackles. In 2008, he moved back to the outside starting 10 games at WILL before opening the '09 campaign in the middle, but a Lisfranc foot sprain ended his season after just five games.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Started all 16 games at MIKE linebacker in 2007 and posted team highs in tackles (170) and QB hurries (14). Also ranked 2nd on the team with 14 KDs
- Was the 2007 recipient of the Jack Edelstein Memorial Award, which is given to the Eagles player with an uplifting manner, a love for life, and an exceptional sense of humor who makes all with whom he comes in contact with feel good

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Recorded a sack of Chiefs QB Matt Cassel and a season-high 11 tackles vs. KC (9/27)
- Started at MIKE linebacker and notched a half sack of Panthers QB Jake Delhomme at Car. (9/13). Also recovered a fumble by RB Mike Goodson

BIRDSEED

- Enjoys boating during the offseason. His 20-foot powerboat is docked at Dredge Harbor Boat Center in Delran, NJ, and is used for fishing, waterskiing, and relaxation with his family
- His vocal nature on the field stems from his days in elementary school. "I used to get in trouble all the time in school for talking. I would finish my work very quickly and get good grades, but then I would spend the rest of the time in class talking."
- Is a self-proclaimed clean freak. In fact, when he returns to his parents' home in the offseason, they put him "back to work" around the house. "They have me doing the same old things, cleaning, washing dishes, vacuuming. I enjoy it though. I like to keep a tight ship."

#96 FOR A LINEBACKER?

Being a fifth-round draft pick did not sit well with Gaither. "I definitely feel that I was overlooked and it ticked me off. I was given the number 96 as a rookie and I hated it. I still do. That's not even a linebacker number. But I have chosen to keep it as a reminder of why I hate it."

- Claims to make the best banana pudding and specializes in the perfect mixture of "sweet tea." Learned how to cook from his mother. Also gained experience in his first job, working in the kitchen at a nursing home. "Most of the time I just cleaned off plates, but once in awhile the chef let me cook." His best meal: "T-Bone steak and potatoes"
- An all-around athlete, Gaither played football, basketball, and ran track growing up in Charlotte, NC. He also played in one organized game of baseball when he was 12 years old. "I was at the field throwing the ball around with my friends and this coach saw me. He got me a uniform, suited me up and asked me to pitch in the game that night. It was the first time I ever played baseball. I pitched the whole game and we won. I don't remember the exact score, but I know it was a pitcher's duel."

16 Chad HALL
WIDE RECEIVER

5-8, 187 | Born 5/23/86 in Atlanta, GA
Air Force | Wesleyan School, Norcross, GA
1st year | Acquired - FA 2010

A three-year letterman at the Air Force Academy, Chad Hall signed with the Eagles on 3/11/10 after serving two years as a second lieutenant at Hill Air Force Base in Salt Lake City, UT. Hall was a triple threat in his college career at running back, receiver and returner, earning first-team All-Mountain West Conference honors in 2007.

BIRDSEED

- Spent the past two years serving as a second lieutenant at Hill Air Force Base in Salt Lake City, UT, and worked as a maintenance officer, repairing F-16s. "It was a great experience, the military and the discipline," says Hall. "There are no fraternities or anything, but it's like your own fraternity. You spend every single second with the guys that you go through basic training with before freshman year. It's a tight bond."
- A multi-dimensional player at Air Force, Hall understands the characteristics needed in order to be successful at various positions on the football field. "As a running back and returner, you need to be blessed with great vision. You can be fast and quick, but if you don't see where to go fast enough, if you don't see the hole, then you're going to miss it." Hall adds that a receiver's blocking ability is an underrated attribute that most people look past

TAKING FLIGHT

At Air Force, Hall took part in Academy Flight Screening and enrolled in a summer academics course in astronautical engineering. Air Flight Screening, which is a course that every pilot has to take before going to pilot school, teaches the principles of flight. It allows students to fly solo and with an instructor. By completing the program, it gets an officer halfway through their private pilot's license. "It was fun," said Hall. "It was definitely a great experience."

48 Ryan HAMILTON
SAFETY

6-2, 210
Vanderbilt
Rookie

Born 2/16/87 in Wycombe, PA
Council Rock North HS, Newtown, PA
Acquired - Rookie FA (2010)

Ryan Hamilton signed with the Eagles on 5/27/10. Originally a rookie free agent signing of New Orleans in 2010, Hamilton was released by the Saints on May 24. He starred collegiately at Vanderbilt, where he started 36 games, registering 222 tackles and five interceptions.

BIRDSEED

- Originally a soccer player, Hamilton didn't take up football until he was banned from his youth soccer league for rough play. "True story," recounted Hamilton. "The last game of the year, the league chairman comes up to my dad and says, 'Don't ever bring your son back to this league again.' My dad says, 'Sounds like I'll be signing him up for football,' and that's where it all started, I guess."
- A local product out of Council Rock North High School, Hamilton was ecstatic to get the call from Philadelphia following his short stint with the Saints. "I was excited. I knew that the Eagles showed some interest in me leading up to the draft. Unfortunately, things didn't work out in New Orleans, but it's pretty cool to play for the team you grew up watching."
- Despite suffering a season-ending chest injury as a senior in 2009, Hamilton continued to travel with the team, while mentoring his younger teammates. "It was very hard. Given the injury, the last thing I wanted was to feel secluded. I knew that there was a lot I could do. Since I felt like I had the most knowledge and experience on the team, I wanted to coach guys up and mentor the younger players."

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Started 36 games at safety during his four-year career, registering 222 tackles, five interceptions
- Served as a defensive co-captain as a senior in 2009, despite suffering a season-ending chest injury after the second game. Continued to travel with the team and helped coach the younger defensive players
- Started every game and set career highs as a junior in 2008, amassing 104 tackles, 4.5 tackles for a loss, four interceptions, and three fumble recoveries
- Put together one of the finest defensive games ever by a Commodore in a victory at Ole Miss in 2008, contributing three interceptions, a fumble recovery and six tackles. His interception total matched a school single-game record
- Started every game at strong safety in 2007, developing into one of the team's top defensive performers and posting 68 total tackles while contributing 3.5 tackles for loss, one quarterback sack, a forced fumble, a recovered fumble and five defensed passes
- Played every game as a sophomore in 2006, recording 43 tackles and his first-career interception
- Redshirted as a freshman in 2005

PERSONAL

- Started at safety, wide receiver and tight end during his high school career at Council Rock North
- Contributed 77 solo tackles, five interceptions and two sacks as senior, along with making 17 catches for 297 yards and three TDs. That season, earned AAAA All-State recognition from Pennsylvania Football News, All-Area honors from the Philadelphia Inquirer and All-Conference selection

HAMILTON'S HELPING HAND

Hamilton has volunteered with several Philadelphia-area activities through the SHARE program, and also has worked with local Special Olympics efforts. "With SHARE, we go to homeless shelters, we build and paint houses; your typical charity work," says Hamilton. "With the Special Olympics, my high school football team always participated with them. We helped motivate the kids and really just worked a lot with them."

- Also served as a captain for the varsity basketball team in high school
- Favorite athletes to watch growing up were Brian Dawkins, John Elway and Michael Jordan
- Favorite moment in sports: Defeating Boston College, 16-14, in the 2008 Gaylord Hotels Music City Bowl. "Winning my first bowl game would have to be my favorite moment. We got close the first couple of years, but getting that win took the monkey off of our back." In the win, Hamilton added six tackles and recorded an interception

21 Joselio HANSON
CORNERBACK

5-9, 185 | Born 8/13/81 in Inglewood, CA
Texas Tech | St. Bernard HS, Playa Del Ray, CA
6th year | Acquired - FA 2006

A speedy and gritty player with a knack for being around the football, Joselio Hanson (pronounced hoe-SAIL-ee-oh) has emerged as a reliable cornerback for the Eagles and was rewarded with a five-year contract on 2/20/09. Originally a rookie free agent signing by San Francisco in 2003, Hanson starred collegiately at Texas Tech.

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Amassed 13 special teams tackles in 12 games
- Picked off Tony Romo in the 1st quarter at Dal. (1/3)
- Combined with Victor Abiamiri on a sack of QB Eli Manning and later recovered a fumble in the 4th quarter at NYG (12/13), sealing the victory
- Notched an interception off Panthers QB Matt Moore (9/13 at Car.)

BIRDSEED

- After being released by the 49ers in 2005, Hanson believed his NFL career was over. "I came to camp with the Eagles [in 2006] after playing in Europe with the idea that I had no chance of making the team. I was just planning on enjoying my last month of football and getting my resume ready for a job ... It makes me appreciate my time in the NFL that much more and it gave me a chip on my shoulder that I play with every time I hit the field."
- His parents, John and Yolanda, met while they were students at Howard University. Yolanda had moved to Washington, D.C., from Panama to go to college, while John had moved there from Alabama. After college the two were married and moved to Los Angeles where John's mother had moved. John was a musician, while Yolanda was an opera singer. He eventually earned his Ph.D. in music and became a high school teacher. He retired abruptly when he was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis and eventually passed away in 2000 due to complications from the disease. "I don't remember him playing a lot of instruments because he got sick, but there were flutes, and drums and other things in the garage collecting dust. He did get into his wheelchair and make it to church to play the piano and the organ. It was great."
- Credits Deion Sanders for inspiring him to start playing football in the 8th grade. "I saw Deion on the 49ers and I was hooked. I've played cornerback ever since."

82 Clay HARBOR
TIGHT END

6-3, 252 | Born 7/02/87 in Libertyville, IL
Missouri State | Dwight HS, Dwight IL
Rookie | Acquired - D4d - 10 (125th overall)

A Division I-AA standout at Missouri State, Harbor was selected with a fourth round draft pick of the Eagles in 2010. A three-time All America selection, Harbor set a school record with 150 career catches for 1,906 yards and 10 TDs.

BIRDSEED

- Became the first player drafted from Missouri State (formerly Southwest Missouri State) since 2000 when TE/LS Brad St. Louis was selected by Cincinnati in the 7th round. Phillies slugger Ryan Howard also attended SW Missouri State
- Enjoyed his collegiate tenure at Missouri State. "I really enjoyed playing with my brother, but I also liked going up against the other teams in the conference that wouldn't look at me coming out of high school." ... Due to budgetary constraints, his college team could not fly to a road game and stay in a hotel during the same trip. They would either bus and stay in a hotel or fly in and out on the same day
- Continues to be motivated by the fact that he was offered just one football scholarship coming out of high school. "I had some good camps and played well against good competition, but the coaches never heard of me even though I had good numbers as a wide receiver and safety. I was confident I'd get a basketball scholarship until I hurt my ankle during my senior basketball season."
- Credits his two tight ends coaches - Sean Coughlin and Bob Montgomery - at Missouri State for his development into an NFL drafted player. "After converting from wide receiver, I struggled with the small details of being a tight end and Coach Coughlin really worked with and believed in me. He was the first person to tell me he thought I had the skills to make it to the NFL. Coach Montgomery helped me become a better blocker. He was a big-time center at Iowa State and his expertise was in that part of the game. He helped me become a complete player."

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Started 34 of 44 games at Missouri State, catching a school record 150 passes for 1,906 yards and 10 touchdowns. His receiving yardage total ranks fourth in school history. Converted to tight end after redshirting as a wide receiver
- In 2009, Harbor became the eighth Missouri State player to earn Associated Press first-team All-American honors after setting career highs in catches (59) and yards (729). Those totals ranked 2nd and 7th on the school's single-season record list, respectively
- Caught at least one pass in 33 consecutive games, tying the school record that was first set by Jason Cannon (1995-97)
- His six career 100-yard receiving performances tied the Missouri State all-time record. His four 100-yard receiving games in 2009 also tied the school season-record
- Was an All-Missouri Valley Football Conference first-team choice for the third consecutive year in 2009, as he also earned a spot on the league's All-Silver Anniversary Squad. He led the team for the third consecutive season with a career-high 59 receptions
- All-American second-team choice by the Associated Press in 2008, adding All-Missouri Valley Football Conference first-team honors after leading the team for the second consecutive year with 40 receptions for 457 yards and two touchdowns. Also was named the team's Player of the Year
- Was an Associated Press All-American third-team pick in 2007, adding All-MVFC first-team accolades after leading the team and setting school tight end season-records with 45 receptions for 647 yards and 3 TD
- Had at least three catches in each of the team's final nine games in 2007, as he walked away with team Player of the Year honors
- Played 11 games with two starts, as a freshman in 2006 and had six receptions for 73 yards and two touchdowns

BROTHERLY LOVE

Separated by just one year in age, Clay and Cory Harbor grew up in their hometown of Dwight, IL (population 4,000) competing against each other in every aspect of life, whether it was on the playing field or in the classroom. Said Clay, "We were so competitive against one another and it helped bring the best out of me." But Cory is credited with another important aspect of Clay's life - a college scholarship. Despite a prolific high school career and productive offseason camps, Clay was without an offer to play at the next level until Cory, a standout LB/DE, kept bugging his coaches to give his little brother a shot.

PERSONAL

- Grew up in Dwight, IL (population 4,000) a small town 75 miles southwest of Chicago. "There's a McDonald's, a Dairy Queen, one grocery store and basically that's it. My high school graduating class was 74 kids. Our football and track teams combine with a neighboring town's school just to field a squad in both of those sports. In fact that school, Gardner South-Wilmington High School, is our biggest rival in basketball."
- Son of Donna Norman and Jeff Harbor. Has an older brother, Cory, a former teammate and standout LB/DE at Missouri State (2005-08) and a younger brother, Cameron
- Was a multi-sport standout at Dwight HS, lettering four times each in football, basketball and track. In his final three seasons, he earned All-Interstate VII Conference honors in each sport
- Also an All-State gridiron choice as a senior wide receiver, leading the Trojans to a 6-3 record, as he had 60 receptions for 1,079 yards and 19 touchdowns, all school records. Also played safety

24 Macho HARRIS
SAFETY

6-0, 200 | Born 2/16/1986 in Highland Springs, VA
Virginia Tech | Highland Springs HS, Highland Springs, VA
2nd year | Acquired - D5b-09 (157th overall)

A fifth-round draft choice of the Eagles in 2009, Victor "Macho" Harris earned valuable time as a safety and nickel back in his rookie campaign after impressing coaches with his strong preseason performance. A 2008 first-team All-America selection, Harris was a consistent playmaker at cornerback during his four-year career at Virginia Tech. He posted 15 interceptions for the Hokies, returning four for touchdowns, and also saw action as a returner and wide receiver.

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Recorded a career-high 10 tackles at Oak. (10/18)
- Became the first Eagles rookie to start at safety on opening day (9/13 at Car.) since Wes Hopkins on 9/3/83 at SF, and the first Eagles rookie defensive player to start on opening day since DT Corey Simon on 9/3/00 at Dal

BIRDSEED

MACHO MAN

Nicknamed "Macho" by his father. "When I was two years old my dad said I was very challenging," said Harris. "I was running around the house with my bike and stuff being a little challenging boy and he wanted to give me a challenging name, a tough name, a masculine name like Macho. It's stuck with me ever since."

- In December of 2004, Harris' senior year in high school, his mother was cooking in anticipation of a visit from Virginia Tech coaches when a fire broke out on the stove. Harris put out the fire but suffered third-degree burns on his right arm, and spent a week in the hospital. "When it broke out the first thing I did was grab a big towel and try to throw it over the stove to stop it at the source. Then I was able to put the rest out by stomping on it and using water. It's amazing how fast it all happened."
- Honors his late mother, Maritza, with a large tattoo of her face on his left arm and one that reads "Mama's Boy" on his neck. Maritza suffered a brain aneurysm on Christmas night in 2004, 10 days after the fire. "I was the oldest boy in a family of eight children," he said. "My mother and I were very close and these tattoos honor her. My family means everything to me."
- Harris' pregame ritual involves praying and writing scripture on a piece of paper that he wears inside his shoes during the game. His favorite passage is Psalms 23, which his Aunt read to him in the wake of his mother's passing in 2004

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

In 2009, Harris became the first rookie to start at safety for the Eagles on opening day since Wes Hopkins did so in 1983

- As a senior in 2008 posted six INTs (two returned for TDs), 11th most in the nation

NOBODY'S PERFECT

Was one pitch away from firing a perfect game in high school. With two outs in the 7th inning, a fly ball to left field was misplayed and ended his bid for the perfect game.
"I had a knuckle ball, but I mostly relied on fastballs."

- Took up chess as a hobby in college and became addicted. Has been invloved in Eagles Youth Partnership's annual chess tournament for the past three years. "When I was in college, one of my buddy's parents brought us a chess set and three or four of us ended up sitting around playing chess all the time. I got into the strategy of the game and liked how you always had to think three or four steps ahead all the time. Then I got to see how good the kids were with the EYP event, and was amazed."
- Growing up in the small town of Ravenna (pronounced ruh-VENN-uh), located in the western part of Michigan, didn't aid in getting Todd recruited to play football at a Division I-A school. In a town that had one blinking street light, one gas station and one privately owned grocery store, the football program was very small. In fact, his senior year team consisted of just 19 players. Although he played tight end, offensive tackle, and defensive tackle, his talented but underexposed career went unnoticed by the big schools. That's why he decided on Saginaw Valley State, a small teaching school at the Division II level, which offered him a scholarship that covered half of his tuition
- Aspires to become an actor one day and enjoys going to live theatre. Was a member of the drama club in high school and played the lead role in the play Tom Jones during his junior year
- Has a strong interest in drawing and other forms of art. Has worked over the years with various different mediums including chalk, graphite, and water colors
- Herremans on his first part-time job at a pickle factory: "First job I ever had was at the Swanson Pickle Company. Mainly I did general maintenance, carpentry, electric work, that kind of thing. You might ask if I ate all the pickles, but they weren't pickles yet. At the factory they were cucumbers, and I ate my fair share of cucumbers."

INJURY REPORT

- Underwent successful surgery on 8/28/09 to repair a stress fracture in his left foot and missed the first five games of the season

TODD HERREMANS

PERSONAL

- His parents, Paul and Marilee, are both teachers. Paul is an 8th-grade math teacher and the JV football coach (he coached Todd) and baseball coach at Ravenna HS. Marilee is a 4th-grade teacher who specializes in Michigan history. Todd had no choice but to have good grades growing up and was an honors student in high school, graduating with a 3.7 GPA. Math was his strength, having taken Calculus 3 as a junior at a local college. At Saginaw Valley State he was not required to take math courses due to those levels reached in high school
- Has two older brothers, John and Scott
- Earned all-state honors in football at Ravenna (MI) HS. Also lettered in basketball, baseball and track and served as senior class vice president

- Scored the first TD of his career on a one-yard pass from QB Donovan McNabb, while playing as an eligible receiver on a goal line play at Sea. (11/2)
- Became just the 2nd offensive lineman in team history to catch a TD pass and the first since Bob Gonya did so on 10/7/34 vs. Pit.

2007 HIGHLIGHTS

- Was part of an offensive line that paved the way for the NFL's yards-from-scrimmage leader in Brian Westbrook (2,104 yards) and a rushing attack that ranked 2nd in the NFL in yards/carry (4.7)

2006 HIGHLIGHTS

- Successfully transitioned from tackle to starting LG, and was part of an offensive line that allowed just 28 sacks, the team's lowest total since 1981 (22). It was the 6th-lowest sack total allowed in team history since records began being kept of the stat in 1963. The starting line was one of two units in the NFL to start all 16 regular season games (and two playoff games) and together paved the way for the highest net yardage total (6,103) in team history
- Started his first game at LG at Hou. (9/10/06)

2005 HIGHLIGHTS

- After being inactive for the first 10 games of 2005, started the next four games at LT, after Tra Thomas was placed on IR on 11/25

- Was a first-team all-region choice as a junior in 2003, starting 12 games and allowing just three sacks
- He moved into the starting lineup at weakside offensive tackle in 2001, earning most valuable freshman honors

CORNERBACK

5-9, 195 | Born 5/16/1983 in Niagara Falls, NY
Iowa State | DeSoto HS, DeSoto TX
6th year | Acquired - Trade [NE] 2009

A tough, athletic cornerback, and the Eagles primary kickoff returner, Ellis Hobbs had his 2009 season cut short after suffering a neck injury on 11/8/09. Originally drafted by New England in the third round of the 2005 NFL draft (84th overall), Hobbs was acquired by the Eagles in a 2009 draft day trade after spending his first four seasons as a member of the New England Patriots.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Has three career kickoff return TDs and set an NFL record in 2007 by returning a kickoff 108 yards for a TD
- Has registered 11 career INTs (nine regular season) and 2.5 sacks,

BIRDSEED

- Has held many events at his alma mater DeSoto High School since he began playing in the NFL. "It's something I really enjoy doing. I love to help others and doing it at my high school makes it even more personal to me. It's something that I'll continue to do for as long as I can." Hobbs hosted the first annual DeSoto High School Car Show/Alumni charity event on May 7, 2010. In addition, he once again hosted an event at DeSoto entitled "The Eagle Olympics," which is similar to the Special Olympics. All of the proceeds from each event are raised for the high school
- Thing he loves the most about football: "I would definitely have to say the life lessons you learn from playing this game. Football really is almost like a microcosm for life. It's so connected to life and there are so many things you learn in football that you directly apply to the decisions you make in life. I find myself doing it every day."

DEFENSIVE DESIGNER

Went back to school in the 2009 offseason to earn his degree in Arts and Design. Hobbs, who grew up wanting to be an animator for Walt Disney, began drawing as a young child. "I learned how to draw from my father. Drawing is something that really has always been in my family as long as I can remember," said Hobbs. "My dad used to draw pictures of a lot of things and he is amazing at it, and I used to mimic his drawings when I was a kid. I won several art contests growing up that my dad put me in touch with, and I really just love it. Since then, I have gotten into animation and graphic design, and I hope to take my talents into that field when my playing days are over." Hobbs visited Walt Disney World in the 2010 offseason and took a tour through their animation studios to get a better understanding of the field.

- Most underrated attribute a cornerback must have: "Dual ability and durability. Dual ability - in having the knowhow and skills to multitask on the job, learn the intricacies of the position and be able to handle everything on the field. Durability - you need to be relied upon to be out there day-in and day-out, play-in and play-out. Those two things are the most important."
- Says his favorite moment in sports growing up was when he signed his letter of intent to play at Iowa State. "That was such a big day for me and my family, not just that I was going to play college ball, but from an education standpoint. My family always taught me the importance of staying in school, getting your degree, doing the right things off the field. The fact that I was able to do that at a good school and also play football, that meant the world to me and was something I was so proud of."

68 Austin HOWARD
TACKLE

6-7, 333
Northern Iowa
Rookie

Born 3/22/87 in Davenport, IA
Central HS, Davenport, IA
Acquired - Rookie FA (2010)

A former tight end at Northern Iowa, Howard signed with the Eagles as a rookie free agent following the 2010 NFL Draft. Howard made the successful switch to left tackle in the spring 2008 and earned 2009 FCS All-America honors. Said Howard, "I was primarily a blocking tight end anyway, so it felt very natural after a few weeks"

IN THE TRENCHES

- Position other than O-line you'd most like to play: "Tight end. I played it before and caught a few balls. Or wide receiver."
- Favorite O-lineman of all-time: "Marcel Howard, my older brother. By watching him, I learned so much. I watched film of him during my college career and learned technique from him. He was a beast. He would just manhandle guys all game long."
- How you decided to become an O-lineman: "It was predestined. The older I got, the bigger I got, it just happened. It actually was when [Redskins guard] Chad Rinehart and [Cardinals tackle] Brandon Keith left UNI to go to the NFL. Both were drafted."
- The best part of being an O-lineman: "It's where the game starts and the game ends. I love having all of that responsibilty on our shoulders."
- Most challenging aspect of your job: "The technique that you must work on day in and day out and do it the same way every day. "
- Most underrated attribute of being an O-lineman: "Knowing that every bit of movement has a purpose, plus the mental part that goes with it. There's a lot of studynig that goes into it, too."
- Your advice to aspiring O-linemen: "Stay in the film room. Study, study, study. And get as many reps in as you can before and after practice."
- Worst part of being 6-7, 333 pounds: "Sticking out like a sore thumb everywhere you go. You can't get away with anything, especially in a small town like Cedar Falls, Iowa."

IT WORKED FOR KURT ...

If bagging groceries at a Hy Vee grocery store in Iowa and starring at Northern Iowa are prerequisites to a Hall of Fame career, then Austin Howard is well on his way. 88 Cornelius INGRAM
TIGHT END

6-4, 250 | Born 6/10/1985 in Hawthorne, FL
Florida | Hawthorne HS, Hawthorne, FL
2nd year | Acquired - D5a-09 (153rd overall)

A fifth-round draft choice of the Eagles in 2009, Cornelius Ingram is working his way back after missing his rookie season with a torn ACL. A versatile athlete, Ingram came into college as a 204-pound quarterback in 2004, while also playing shooting guard and small forward for the Florida basketball team. He made the switch to tight end during his junior season in 2005 and went on to record 64 catches for 888 yards and 8 touchdowns.

INGRAM FOR MAYOR

Cornelius and his family remain heavily involved in his hometown of Hawthorne, FL, where he one day would like to be mayor. His parents, Johnny and Gwendolyn are ministers at his church, and also work for the school district. His older brother, Greg Bowie, currently coaches basketball and football there. Cornelius often returns to his former high school to speak to the kids and help coach.

Ingram on his hometown: "I love it there. There are about 2,000-3,000 people in the entire city, and probably one stop light and one store. I think there were just 75 kids in my graduating class." Ingram claims the big thing to do in Hawthorne is go to the high school football and basketball games, where his brother coaches. "That's what everyone's always talking about. It's the highlight of everyone's week."

On his involvement with the church: "Both of my parents are ministers there, and I played the drums, so when I was younger we were always the first ones there. During college, we were so close to school that I would still go to church there and even bring some of my teammates."

On coaching at his former school: "If I wasn't playing for the Eagles right now, I would probably be coaching back at Hawthorne. I think my brother would have a spot for me on his staff."

While he would like to be an active member in the Philadelphia community, he also plans to organize the Cornelius Ingram Foundation, which will benefit Pop Warner football teams near Hawthorne.

"Growing up in a small town, I know how difficult it is for them to have all the proper equipment. My main goal is to provide them with uniforms and shoes and anything else they would need to be able to play."

BIRDSEED

- Claims that his church pastor, Robbie Williams, was a guiding force in his life in getting him to where he is today. "He did so much for my family and me growing up, supporting my decisions and making sure I was doing the right thing. He actually travels with my family sometimes to events and things like that. I consider him family, we all do."
- Grew up a huge fan of the Florida Gators and achieved a life-long dream after deciding to enroll there. "My signing day in high school was one of the best days of my life, not including the day I got drafted," said Ingram. "My family and everyone in my town was so excited. Everyone loves Florida football in Hawthorne, so it was just amazing to be able to go there."
- After winning two national championships at Florida, Ingram got the chance to visit the White House twice with his teammates, meeting both former President George W. Bush, and current President Barack Obama. In fact, his Florida teammates voted him as the person to present President Obama with a game ball and a jersey, despite the fact that he sat out his senior season with a torn ACL. "When I met President Obama, that was my third time visiting the White House. I actually went once when I was in fifth grade. To be able to shake his hand and meet him, it was just amazing. It's something I'll never forget. He's got a very firm handshake."

BACKYARD FOOTBALL

"What sums him up best, besides the fact that he's a good player, is that he loves to play the game like all of us did when we were kids playing in the backyard. He just has a good time. He's doing it in the National Football League, which is pretty amazing."
- Andy Reid on Jackson

- Jackson's brother, Byron, who spent two seasons in the NFL on the Chiefs practice squad (1992-93), began taping DeSean's football games at a very young age in order to help him hone his skills. Eventually he began taping other things involving DeSean that they hope to use some day in a documentary
- Prior to the 2008 NFL Draft, was mentored by WR Jerry Rice. "He emphasized to me the importance of my life off the field as much as he did on the field. He told me to work to leave a great impression on everybody and to work as hard as I can."
- Credits all of his four older brothers for making him the athlete he is today. They would have their little brother up on Sunday mornings the day after his high school games working on his skills. "When other kids were still in bed on Sundays, my brothers had me up working. They made me tough. They wouldn't let me be a punk." All four brothers played collegiate football: Byron (San Jose St.), Derrick (Idaho St.), Travis (Utah St.) and Jay (Santa Monica Junior College). Byron now works in the editing office at FOX Sportsnet in Los Angeles
- DeSean has become an active spokesperson for the Eagles Play 60 campaign. This initiative promotes physical fitness to help combat the youth obesity epidemic by encouraging kids to be active for at least 60 minutes a day. In 2009 DeSean participated in the Take A Player to School program where he led students in an ultimate gym class. "Out of the whole 24 hours in a day, you've got to find one hour to just get up and walk around the block, play with your friends and be active."

PERSONAL

MOTIVATING FACTOR

Jackson is motivated by his late father, Bill, who passed away in May 2009, after a bout with pancreatic cancer. "He fought until the end. He was strong. But it was tough going into the hospital and seeing him like that ... I'm going to be just as strong as my dad would have wanted me to be."

- Resides in Los Angeles, CA and South Jersey. Son of Gayle, a proud member of Delta Sigma Theta sorority, and the late Bill Jackson. Has four older brothers, who all played football in college
- An All-America selection as a senior at Long Beach Polytechnic HS, was the recipient of the 2004 Glenn Davis Award by the Los Angeles Times as Southern California's POY. Posted 60 receptions for 1,075 yards and 15 TDs (two for punt returns), and led his team to the CIF Southern Section championship. In the CIF title game, he was a last-minute replacement on defense and responded with two INTs, one of which he returned 68 yards for a TD. Earned All-State accolades as a junior

67 Jamaal JACKSON
CENTER

6-4, 325 | Born 5/8/80 in Miami, FL
Delaware State | Miami Senior HS, Miami, FL
7th year | Acquired - Rookie FA in 2003

A rookie free agent signing by the Eagles in 2003 from Delaware State, Jamaal Jackson took the long road to reach the status of being an NFL starter. In fact, Jackson made 71 consecutive starts at center after earning a starting role midway through the 2005 season. But Jackson suffered a season-ending knee injury in the second to last game of the 2009 regular season, and is itching to return to the field in 2010 after a long rehabilitation process.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Was named to Peter King's Sports Illustrated's All-Pro team following the 2006 season

IN THE TRENCHES

- Position other than O-line you'd most like to play: "Safety or middle linebacker because they are the quarterback of the defense."
- Favorite O-lineman of all-time: "Jermane Mayberry. I really admire his character, his demeanor, and the way he carries himself. He is so soft spoken, but is real tough on the field. By talking to him you would never know he plays professional football."
- How you decided to become an O-lineman: "My size. My sophomore year in high school, my health teacher asked me to come out for the team and I was put out there at the offensive line. I also played defensive tackle."
- The best part of being an O-lineman: "We get to do the dirty work. I kind of like that. It exemplifies what this city is all about."
- Most challenging aspect of your job: "Trying to communicate a slew of information in less than seven seconds to every player on the field but the receivers."
- Most underrated attribute of being an O-lineman: "Smarts and intelligence. The preparation. There's a lot more that goes into it than just banging into people. It's all based on angles, reads, and knowing your assignment."
- Your advice to aspiring O-linemen: "You always have the advantage being an offensive lineman, you know the snap count, you know the play call - run or pass."
- Worst part of being 6-4, 325 pounds: "Trying to find clothes that fit. You can't just walk into Macy's and find something that fits. It just doesn't work like that."

BIRDSEED

- Took his first snap at center during high school football practice when the first-string center was absent from practice and the 2nd stringer was hurt during practice. Said his offensive line coach Earl Tillman, "He was comfortable as a tackle at that point and I remember him saying to me, 'I don't know how to snap.' But after a few days, he said 'I'm starting to like this center position.' I still tell that story to my players and stress to them how important it is to be versatile, especially as an offensive lineman."
- Made an impressive climb from Division I-AA Delaware State to a starter in the NFL. "Being in the NFL this long, you realize the guy from the bigger school is going to get the better shot," said Jackson. "But I'm proud to be from Delaware State. It made me the hard worker I am today." ... At Delaware State, Jackson's team made just one airplane trip per season (to either Florida A&M or Bethune-Cookman) as they traveled by bus with the longest trip being 13 hours to South Carolina State
- With his mother, Sadie Smith, unable to work because of severe diabetes, Jackson took jobs as a supermarket clerk and in a recreation center to help support his family in high school. "I got first-hand experience paying bills at the age of 17. It's a serious disease. It was bad for my mother. At one point, she weighed 60 pounds. She couldn't work. That was rough on all of us." ... Jamaal bought his mom a house in Miami during the 2007 offseason

HELPING HAND, ER FOOT

After playing his first high school football game in sneakers on a muddy, rain soaked field in Miami, Jackson received a gift that left a lasting impression. His offensive line coach, Earl Tillman, bought him a pair of cleats and gave him the support he needed to get to college and subsequently make the NFL. "He really looked after me like Juan Castillo does. I really think I wouldn't be in the NFL without him. He was a father figure to me at a young age and I'm indebted to him forever."

QUOTES

- Earl Tillman, Jackson's high school offensive line coach and now the head coach at Booker T. Washington High School in Miami: "During lunchtime in high school, we met as an offensive line a few days per week. However, Jamaal would come in to my office every day to talk about life, to talk about football. He was a very humble guy, he accepted anything you would want him to do, and he was very coachable. If he had a problem, he would take it to me in private, not in front of the team. His versatility and his attitude got him to where he is today."

BROTHERLY LOVE

Prior to each game, Jamaal prays to his brother, Kama, who was tragically killed in a car accident during the 2008 season in Miami. In fact, Jackson does all that he can to help support his sister-in-law, Laquadia, and their children. "I think about him all the time and pray for his family."

A COACH FOR LIFE

Endured a difficult upbringing in which he was raised in the projects, primarily by his aunts and uncles, as a result of his father not being involved in his life, and his mother struggling with a drug addiction. Also spent time living with his high school football coach, Jim and Karen Wildman, during hissenior year of high school and throughout college. Wildman spent 25 years as the coach at Sharon HS, and is now retired.

Jackson on his childhood: "Growing up in that area, I was headed down the wrong track, but I just kept my focus on God, and I am thankful for all the people who took me in. That's where I draw my inspiration from."

Jackson also says the legacy he wants to leave behind is living a purposeful life in which he is able to reach all of his goals and help others do so as well.

Former high school coach Jim Wildman on Jackson as a player and person: "Marlin came from humble beginnings and he still has a place in his heart for kids growing up in a similar situation. That's why he has stayed so involved with his charity work and football camps. He really wants to see kids succeed. As a player, he has always had an extreme sense of wanting to win. His attitude has been 'If you're not getting better, you're getting worse.' As good of a player as he is, he's also a great person."

Wildman on his experience of taking Jackson in: "When he first moved in with us, he was very shy and would go right up to his room. Then as he got a little more comfortable he would stop at the fridge before going up to his room. Then he got even more comfortable and would come in and yell 'Karen are you home?' As time went on, we gradually built a new family, and we have remained very close ever since.

"For him, we were happy to provide an environment that allowed him to grow as a person. He learned to drive, went to the dentist and the eye doctor. But it was probably a better experience for Karen and me. He taught us to be more selfless and was a great influence on our kids as well. I'm very thankful we had that opportunity."

62 Max JEAN-GILLES
GUARD

6-3, 358 | Born 11/19/83 in Miami, FL
Georgia | N.Miami Beach HS, Miami, FL
5th year | Acquired - D4a-06 (99th overall)

A burly guard with good athletic ability, Max Jean-Gilles (pronounced gene-GILL-iss) is a monstrous force on the offensive line and was a fourth-round draft choice of the Eagles in 2006.

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Started at RG in five games, including the postseason

IN THE TRENCHES

- Position other than O-line he would most like to play: "Long snapper. They stay fresh and you can last about 20 years in the league."
- Most challenging aspect of his job: "On the offensive line, you have to learn how to react quickly. Also, you have to be able to adapt to different defensive schemes."
- Most memorable block: "I remember it was a game against the Chicago Bears. On one play, I chop blocked Brian Urlacher and then Correll Buckhalter ran behind on a sweep. After I got that hit on him, everybody was calling me up."
- The O-lineman he admires most: C Nick Jones (Seattle Seahawks) - "Nick and I played side-by-side at Georgia. If I had a tough day he would pick me up and I would do the same for him. We competed all the time and made each other so much better."
- Favorite O-lineman of all-time: "Orlando Pace because he almost won the Heisman Trophy."
- Best player he ever lined up against: Tommie Harris
- What he loves most about being an O-lineman: "I love to be able to push people around. If I have a bad day, I get paid to take it out on somebody."

GETTING LEANER AND MEANER

Underwent a successful outpatient lap-band surgery during the 2010 offseason. Nearing almost 400 pounds, Jean-Gilles and his family decided that this specific operation was necessary. The procedure, which places a band around the top part of the stomach, is designed to limit his food intake. "I had the surgery two days before the first mini-camp," said Jean-Gilles. "It was actually my wife's idea. I want to be able to live comfortably after I'm done playing football and I would also like to see my son have kids."

BIRDSEED

- Recently initiated his own charity called the "Max Jean-Gilles Foundation," formally known as "62 Ways to Success." The foundation, which is stationed in his hometown of Miami, FL, provides scholarships to his alma mater of North Miami Beach HS. "Every year we give two scholarships out to two deserving students, and they don't have to be athletes," says Jean-Gilles. "Our other focus is to raise money for the athletic program."
- A native of Haiti, Jean-Gilles took part in The Salvation Army Million Meals for Haiti event during the 2010 offseason. Accompanied by teammates Akeem Jordan and fellow offensive lineman Winston Justice, the Eagles players and organization packaged nutritious meals which were eventually sent to those who were affected by the devastating earthquake in Haiti
- Attributes his football success to the intense coaches he has had. Likens his high school coach, Jeff Brittani, to Jon Gruden for his "angry" temperament. "I couldn't deal with a quiet coach. Brittani, [Georgia head coach] Mark Richt, and now Juan Castillo are all in-your-face type of guys. You wouldn't know it to talk to him, but Juan is a fierce coach. That's why he's one of the best."
- Goes back to train at his high school in Miami in the offseason. "I honestly think that high school football was harder than college. Every day at practice, you run for miles, then you practice, and then you run again. They break you down before they build you back up."
- His greatest hobby is his love for music. He was forced to buy a larger iPod after completely filling his 60 GB iPod. He enjoys all kinds of music, but predominantly listens to hip-hop and R&B. Some of his favorite artists are T.I., Young Jeezy, Lil Wayne and Trick Daddy. "I had to get a bigger iPod just to fit all my music on there. I love all kinds of music and I am a big fan of up-and-coming artists from the south. I'd really like to learn to play the guitar, too."

INJURY REPORT

- Had successful outpatient lap-band procedure during the 2010 offseason

74 Winston JUSTICE
TACKLE

USC
5th year

Born 9/14/84 in Long Beach, CA
Long Beach Poly HS, Long Beach, CA
Acquired - D2-06 (39th overall)

Winston Justice has developed into one of most dependable offensive lineman on the Eagles, but this 6-6, 320-pounder has also developed into a true humanitarian. A 2nd round draft pick in 2006, he earned a starting role in the 2009 season at right tackle and helped the Eagles break their single-season scoring record. Off the field, though, his impact has been greater. Using his spirituality and selfless demeanor, he has made missionary visits to Uganda after a civil war and to Haiti after a devastating earthquake. And he is just in the beginning stages of his philanthropic work. Justice earned a four-year contract extension in 2009 that will keep him in Philadelphia through 2013.

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Was named to USA Today's 2009 All-Joe Team, which honors the NFL players whose work doesn't necessarily garner headlines but is integral to the success of their football team

IN THE TRENCHES

- Position other than O-line you'd most like to play: "Cornerback. It's sort of similar to what we do. Cornerbacks have to back up and have some disadvantages on the field like we do. But they can make it up with a big play, like an interception. It's a cool position and they are the best athletes."
- Favorite O-lineman of all-time: "Tony Boselli. He was a USC guy, too. He was so aggressive and such a technician. Every offensive lineman that goes to S.C. wants to be him. He gave me one great piece of advice, 'Always set square and don't turn your shoulders.'
- How you decided to become an O-lineman: "I started playing football at 16 as a defensive end in high school, but by the end of my senior year, I was a pulling guard. They wanted fast guards to pull and both of the defensive ends ended up playing both ways."
- The best part of being on O-lineman: "The camaraderie among us. I don't think other position groups depend on each other as much as we do."
- Most challenging aspect of your job: "Staying consistent to technique. It's hard to do the same thing over and over again."
- Most underrated attribute being an O-lineman: "Reaction time to the quarterback's cadence and the snap count."
- Your advice to aspiring O-lineman: "Keep working at it. There's going to be ups and downs. If you are persistent, it will work out."
- Worst part of being 6-6, 320 pounds: "Fitting in a car and airplane seats. And finding a shirt that will fit off the rack. It's impossible."

BIRDSEED

- Would like to someday own and operate a bread company that would donate a loaf of bread to underprivileged people for every loaf sold. He and his brother-in-law, Evan Inatome, and a friend, David Carter, have developed a web site with details of their idea at www.breadlove.org
- Working with Mission of Hope Haiti to help build 500 homes by 2012. "I saw thousands of homes made of sticks and old bedsheets. There were so many tent cities in Haiti. It only costs $3,000 to build an 18x12 house for a family."
- Took up surfing in 2006 and tries to hit the waves four to five times per year. Has surfed in California, Hawaii and Bali
- Serves as a board member for Eagles Fly For Leukemia after attending their annual Bert Bell banquet in 2009. "I can't imagine seeing my children going through what those kids go through. It was really sad. And after hearing their stories and how much Eagles Fly helped, it really inspired me to help."

WINSTON'S WORDS

Beginning in 2009, Justice wrote a weekly column for the Philadelphia Daily News, providing insight on the team and his life. His love for writing was fostered early in life as he struggled with a bad speech impediment. "I always was a good writer in high school and college and every time I have an opportunity, I write. I used to write little stories all the time as a kid and give them to my mother."

JUSTICE FOR ALL

Justice has embarked on two missions during his NFL career, a trip to Uganda in 2006 after a civil war and to Haiti in 2010 following a devastating earthquake. "It's easy to write a check and donate money, which I did, but I wanted to go [to Haiti] and provide physical help to their people." Justice credits his spirituality and the desire to serve as the spark behind the missions.

QUARTERBACK

6-3, 218 | Born 8/24/84 in Victoria, TX
Houston | Stephenville HS, Stephenville, TX
4th year | Acquired - D2a-07 [36th overall]

A promising young quarterback, Kevin Kolb (pronounced COBB) was a second round draft choice and the Eagles first overall selection in 2007. He enters the 2010 season as the team's starting quarterback for the first time in his career and inked a one-year contract extension on 4/29/10 that will keep him in Philadelphia through 2011.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Became the first quarterback in NFL history to pass for 300 yards in each of his first two starts. Threw for 327 yards vs. KC (9/27/09) and 391 yards vs. NO (9/20/09)

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Earned NFC Offensive Player of the Week honors for his performance vs. KC (9/27) after completing 24 of 34 passes for 327 yards and two touchdowns for a 120.6 rating, and notching his first-career rushing touchdown on a QB sneak. His 64-yard touchdown pass to DeSean Jackson marked the duo's second-straight game with a 60-plus-yard touchdown, becoming the first Eagles tandem to do so since Ron Jaworski and Mike Quick did it in consecutive games in 1985
- Completed 31 of 51 passes for 391 yards and two touchdowns in his first-career start vs. NO (9/20). His 391 yards was the 12th-highest total in team history and the most by an Eagle since Donovan McNabb threw for 464 on 12/4/04 vs. Green Bay. It was also the highest yardage total ever for an Eagles quarterback in his first NFL start

KOLB'S KORNER

Kolb credits three people as having major influences on his life and career prior to entering the NFL.

Kevin on his father, Roy: "Growing up, I was so wrapped up in my dad's teams. I was a ballboy for the basketball team and always helping out in football, I didn't care about anything else. Then when I actually played for him, one of the major things he taught me was that as a coach's son, all eyes will be on you. So do what you have to do - lead by example, do and say the right things. I learned that at a very young age. He also instilled in me a huge desire to win and the self-motivation to concentrate on the details of the game."

Kevin on his mother, Lanell: "My mom has always been there to keep me grounded spiritually. To this day, she'll call or text me before every game with a verse from the Bible. It's whatever she thinks is best for that day or that situation. She's always been that way and it's really helped me keep everything in perspective. It keeps me focused on the right things."

Kevin on his long-time coach Art Briles: "What he has taught me about football is just endless. He showed me how to play the game fearlessly and how to handle all aspects of football outside of the game. There is one thing that he said to me that I will take with me forever. In my sophomore year at Houston, we were struggling a little bit and I was taking it pretty hard. One day he tapped me on the shoulder and said 'Keep your eye on the prize, but enjoy the ride.' I remind myself of that constantly. The main goal for any NFL player is to win a Super Bowl, but if you're not enjoying the grind then you'll never get there."

BIRDSEED

In 2009, Kolb became the first quarterback in NFL history to throw for 300-plus yards in each of his first two starts.

- Enjoys competing in fishing tournaments in North Texas in the offseason and actually won a bass fishing competition with his wife, Whitney, in Hubbard Creek Lake. "I've always loved fishing and this is something that really just keeps my competitive drive going when I'm not playing football." Kevin's boat is sponsored by Skeeter
- Kevin and Whitney enjoy a number of different sports together such as golf (both sport 12 handicaps), hunting, fishing and even ping pong
- Says that he would one day like to be a volunteer firefighter when his playing days are over. "I like the thought of being able to give back combined with the camaraderie of it. It's almost like being on a team in a way."

STAIRMASTER

At his home in Granbury, TX, Kolb practices his drops up and down a set of stairs that ascend from his backyard to a lake. "There's about 30 of them. I'll go up and down for awhile. It really helps with my hips and footwork."

PERSONAL

- Kevin and Whitney reside in Granbury, TX, with their two daughters, Kameron and Atley Rose. They also own a Yorkshire Terrier named Jersey. Whitney competed in golf at Tarleton State in Stephenville, TX
- His father, Roy, owns a RV Park in Flatonia, TX, while his mother, Lanell, is a 6th grade teacher. Roy had also been a middle-school football and basketball coach, and owned a fire restoration and carpet cleaning business. Kevin was his father's QB in football and point guard in basketball. His sister, Amy, is also a teacher and coaches basketball and tennis in Alto, TX
- Chose the University of Houston after almost attending Oklahoma State. His high school coach, Art Briles, had taken the same job at Houston and Kevin made the switch because of their relationship
- A two-time District 8-4A offensive MVP at Stephenville HS. As a senior, threw for 3,357 yds. and 29 TDs, earning first-team All-Big County honors. Since 1989, Stephenville has produced 7 Division I QBs including Kolb. Also lettered as a guard in basketball. Kevin returns to Stephenville every summer to host a football camp at his alma mater
- One of his most unique hunting experiences includes tracking down wild hogs with his friend's dogs and his Bowie knife. Wild hog hunting is an important part of preserving the farmland in his hometown. "One hog can ruin an entire field of crops in just one night. They dig up and eat the roots. They need to be controlled."

18 Jeremy MACLIN
WIDE RECEIVER

6-0, 198 | Born 5/11/1988 in St. Louis, MO
Missouri | Kirkwood HS, Kirkwood, MO
2nd year | Acquired - D1-09 [19th overall]

A versatile and explosive wide receiver, Jeremy Maclin (pronounced MACK-lin) earned valuable time on the field and established himself as an offensive threat in his rookie campaign, finishing among the top NFL rookie receivers in receptions (56), yards (773) and touchdowns (4). The Eagles first-round pick in 2009, Maclin scored 33 total touchdowns and amassed 5,609 all-purpose yards in his two-year career at Missouri.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Maclin (21 years old), Brent Celek (24), and DeSean Jackson (23) became the first trio of teammates age 24-years-old-or-younger in NFL history to each post 50+ catches, 750+ yards and 4+ touchdowns in a season in 2009
- Set an Eagles postseason record with 146 receiving yards at Dal. (1/9/10). His 146 yards were the most ever by a rookie in the postseason. He also became the youngest player (21 years old) in NFL history with a postseason TD catch on a career-long 76-yarder from QB Michael Vick

STUDENT OF THE GAME

Maclin credits a number of reasons for a productive rookie season, including his knowledge of the spread offense from his college days at Missouri. "It helped me get a good feel for the defense by working the options routes in the spread offense. Receivers have to be able to read the defense in that offense and it helps you become more of a student of the game."

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Finished 3rd among NFL rookies in receptions (56), and receiving yards (773), and 5th in touchdowns (4)
- His 56 catches and 773 yards both ranked 4th among Eagles rookies all time

- Caught a 5-yard TD pass from McNabb at SD (11/15)
- Caught a 23-yard pass for a touchdown from McNabb vs. NYG (11/1)

BIRDSEED

MACLIN'S MATURITY

"I feel like I've gone through a lot of stuff in my life, throughout my childhood. I feel like there's not much that can really faze me. That's why I feel like I'm fine with anything that's thrown out there against me."

-Jeremy Maclin on overcoming adversity early in life

- After enduring a difficult childhood in which he was abandoned by his father, Maclin was primarily raised by Jeff Parres and his wife, Cindy. Jeff, a urologist, was Maclin's little league football coach when he was nine years old. Maclin spent a lot of time with the Parres family growing up and by the time he was a sophomore in high school, he was living with them full-time. Jeremy also remains close with his biological mother, Cleo, and his two older brothers, Roshon and Andre.

  "There are a lot of people in my life who have influenced me to get to this point. Obviously, the family I lived with. They definitely played a big part in why I'm here. I learned a lot of things from my real family, too."
- Began playing football at the age of nine as a running back, defensive end and linebacker for the Kirkwood (MO) Cowboys. Scored 32 touchdowns in his first season of football and helped his team to a 72-3 record over four seasons, including a national championship at the age of 11 when they beat a team from Tucker, GA, in Florida
- Teamed up with Philadelphia Mayor Michael Nutter to film a PSA that helped launch the "Raise Me Up" program in 2009, which encourages support and guidance to foster children in the region

- Remains good friends with former Eagles RB Ricky Watters, as the two both attended Bishop McDevitt HS in Harrisburg, PA.
  "I've learned a lot from Ricky. Probably the biggest thing he taught me was how to separate football from all the potential distractions. At this level, you have to be able to do that."
- Claims his older brother, LeRon, is his biggest role model. "Just the way he handled himself. He set the bar high for me. He played for the (Arizona) Cardinals (2005-06) and a couple of other teams (San Francisco 49ers, 2007, and Houston Texans, 2008). He was not really recruited out of high school but he went to a Division II school and made it out."

SHADY'S SHOOTOUT

Organized "Shady's Shootout Community Day," during the 2010 offseason, an event in his hometown of Harrisburg, dedicated to raising money for the fight against ALS. The event included fun and games for kids of all ages, as well as a basketball tournament.
"My Grandmom, Mary Branch, is suffering from the disease right now," said McCoy. "She's an inspiration because of how hard she is fighting. It's a terrible disease and we need to do everything we can to raise money to help fight it."

- Remains involved in the Harrisburg community and recently donated uniforms to the Harrisburg Broncos, the youth football team he grew up playing on
- Credits Brian Westbrook with his development as a professional. "B-West has been a major influence on me. He taught me how to be a professional and how to prepare every week to be successful. You have to be able to treat it like a job because there are so many things you need to do to get ready for the games."

IN THE TRENCHES

- Position other than O-line he would most like to play: "I would probably have to choose defensive end because I am constantly going up against them. By blocking them, I learn all their techniques of how to get past the offensive line."
- Favorite O-lineman of all-time: Jonathan Ogden
- How he decided to become an O-lineman: "When I was in high school I played on both the offensive and defensive lines. Going into my senior year, I was being recruited as an offensive lineman, so that pretty much determined the position for me."
- Most underrated attribute being an O-lineman: "You have to be athletic. Most people think that offensive linemen don't have to be athletic. We're usually the biggest ones out there, but we're always chasing and going up against some of the smaller and quicker guys. You have to be athletic to keep up with them."
- Most memorable block: "It was my junior year and we played the University of Miami in the last game of the regular season. On one play, the defensive end and linebacker went inside the 'B' gap and I just leveled them both at the same time. I remember the referee coming up to me and saying, 'You got both of them.' He was chuckling when he said it."
- Best part of being 6-7, 320 pounds: "It's a blessing. It's one of the things that makes me stand out and it helped me get to this point."

BIRDSEED

- Claims that his greatest love besides football is his family. "My intermediate family - we just have a magical bond, to say the least." The biggest influence on his life has been his mother, Annette Johnson.

  "She has made so many sacrifices for the family and she was always so independent. She really helped me get to where I am now." McCuller went on to say, "If I had to trade places with one person for a day, it would be my mother. I would just want her to sit back and relax and I would take care of everything."

77 Mike McGLYNN
GUARD

6-4, 315 | Born 3/8/85 in Austintown, OH
Pittsburgh | Austintown Fitch HS, Austintown, OH
3rd year | Acquired - D4a-08 [109th overall]

A fourth-round draft pick of the Eagles in 2008, Mike McGlynn was a three-time All-Big East honoree at the University of Pittsburgh. McGlynn appeared in 47 games during his collegiate career, notching a streak of 43 consecutive starts.

IN THE TRENCHES

- His definition of an O-lineman: "You have to be tough, you have to bring your lunch pale to work with you every day. You are kind of like a construction worker or a steel worker - you have to do all the dirty work and just get it done. When I play the game, I want to be the guy who, when you go against me, you know you're going to get my best on every play."
- Favorite O-lineman: "When I grew up, I didn't really like to view myself as an offensive lineman, so I don't really have a favorite. I played quarterback and was a pitcher when I was younger, so I was always a huge fan of John Elway and Dan Marino."
- How he decided to become an O-lineman: "I was always the biggest kid, so it was just kind of a natural fit. It was an easy way to bully people around."
- Most memorable play on the O-line: "It would have to be snapping the game-winning field goal against Notre Dame when I was a freshman at Pitt."

COACH McGLYNN

When his playing days are over, McGlynn says he would like to return to Austintown Fitch HS to become a coach and athletic director there, where his uncle, Doug, is currently the school principal. He also runs a youth football camp during the summer in his hometown.

- Has become very involved in charity work over the last couple of years, including various animal charities and the American Cancer Society, among many others. "I'm very fortunate to be in a situation where I can give back in so many different ways. It's hard for me to say no to any opportunity to do charity work."

FLIP THE SWITCH

From undrafted free agent to special teams standout to Pro Bowl safety, Mikell remains motivated by the fact that 32 teams chose not to draft him. Said Mikell: "It's a feeling that never goes away. Every team passed on me. I'm grateful that the Eagles gave me a chance, but I always feel that there's something every team didn't like about me and I'm out to prove every day that I am the player they didn't think I'd become."

Someone that's always been in Mikell's corner is his college position coach, Robert Tucker, who had a pretty good feeling that he would become a special player one day. Said Tucker: "What made Q great is that he had a 'switch' – around town and campus, he was a happy go-lucky, soft spoken guy that would befriend anyone, but as soon as he stepped into football mode, he flipped the 'switch' became extremely steely-eyed, determined, aggressive, and competitive. He had such a burning desire to be the best. The burning desire was so noticeable that he appeared angry on the field all the time...he was in a bad mood in such a very good way. His leadership was in his approach and it was just so impressive to see him compete against himself at a very high level every day to be better than he was the day before. He had a unique, intense focus that allowed him to maximize his ability on the field and he became very good at everything he emphasized."

BIRDSEED

- Former Boise State safeties coach and current University of Sioux Falls assistant coach Robert Tucker on Mikell: "At Boise State, Q was everything a coach could ask for. He was extremely humble, always smiling, caring for his family and friends, a good student, and very passionate about football. You could really tell that he had a strong upbringing because of the amount of the respect that he showed others and his overall outstanding character. Q was a pure playmaker and a 1st class guy in every way."
- Credits his father, Quintin, Sr., as the person most responsible for helping him become an NFL player. "He always pushed me; he played in college as a linebacker at Indiana State. When I was in the 6th grade he was my defensive coordinator and we'd watch film on our opponents. One of our rivals, West Viga, ran a play that no team could stop. But I noticed on film that they always put two receivers out wide and ran the quarterback draw. They couldn't be stopped. And then the next game we stopped them. I remember him being so proud."
- Before every game Mikell plays, he thinks of his former college teammate Paul Reyna, who tragically died on the football field when Quintin was a sophomore. "It reminds me that anything can happen out there. Before every game in college, I used to touch a picture of him that was up in the locker room. Now in the NFL, I close my eyes and think of that picture before I go out on the field. It means a lot to me."
- His first experience in football was playing a game called "pitch-up tackle" when he was a young kid. "All my cousins and I would get together and play this game. It has a lot of different names, but basically you throw the ball up in the air and someone catches it. Then whoever catches it needs to run to the other side of the field and score a touchdown while everyone else is trying to tackle them. We did that all the time growing up. I didn't play an organized game of football until I was about 11 years old. I was a pitch-up tackle all-star."

J.P.'s HANDIWORK

One of the Eagles most productive and reliable defensive linemen in recent years, Parker believes good hand work is the most underrated attribute of a lineman. "The game's all about hands. If you can remove an offensive lineman's hands with your hands, you get off blocks and make plays. I learned that early on from watching different people pass rush on TV."

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Posted a career-high 8 sacks, which ranked 2nd on the team
- Registered a sack of Cowboys QB Tony Romo at Dal. (1/3)
- Notched his seventh sack of the season (QB Kyle Orton) vs. Den. (12/27)
- Recorded a sack and forced fumble of Falcons QB Chris Redman at Atl. (12/6)
- Registered a sack (Chargers QB Philip Rivers) at SD (11/15)
- Notched a sack of Cowboys QB Tony Romo vs. Dal (11/8)
- Registered a sack of Raiders QB JaMarcus Russell at Oak. (11/18)
- Recorded a sack of Chiefs QB Matt Cassel vs. KC (9/27)
- Notched a sack and forced fumble of Saints QB Drew Brees vs. NO (9/20)

BIRDSEED

- Legally changed his name from Juqua Thomas to Juqua Parker in the 2008 offseason, something his late father, Willie, requested of him. "My father died in 2005, but before that he asked me to change my name to Parker. That was his last name. I just took a long time to get around to doing it."

13 Ken PARRISH
PUNTER

East Stroudsburg
1st year

Born 6/22/1984 in East Stroudsburg, PA
East Stroudsburg South HS, East Stroudsburg, PA
Acquired - FA (2010)

Ken Parrish re-signed with the Eagles on 4/28/10. Originally a rookie free agent of San Francisco in 2007, Parrish first signed with the Eagles in 2009, but was released during training camp. He was then picked up by the New York Jets, but did not make the team.

BIRDSEED

- During the 2010 offseason, met up with punting coach Louie Aguiar and kickoff specialists Mike Hollis and Mike Husted in Las Vegas, NV. Parrish followed the same regimen from the previous offseason when he moved to Modesto, CA, and trained for three months on his punting, kickoffs, placekicks and holding for placekicks after making the decision to take another shot at the NFL. "This year I met up with different trainers in Vegas and worked out in late March," said Parrish. "The trainers I was working with, I felt like I was really able to connect with them. They taught me about mental toughness and how it meets up with my body and also about getting into a rhythm."
- Was an Eagles fan growing up and is enjoying the chance to live a childhood dream. "Just walking into the locker room and seeing an Eagles helmet that is mine is something special."

FOLLOW YOUR DREAMS

Spent eight months as a police officer with the Stroud Area Regional Police in East Stroudsburg, PA, before deciding to leave the police force and make another attempt at landing on an NFL roster. "It was a decision that took weeks and weeks and weeks and lots of discussions with my family. I always had great backing from my family. They [said], 'Ken, if you feel this is something you need to go out and conquer, then go ahead and do it.' "

PERSONAL

- Started playing football after the punter on his high school team suffered a season-ending injury. Parrish kicked three balls for the football coach and was given the job for the remainder of the season. "At the time, I was a senior playing on the soccer team," recounts Parrish. "Halfway through the football season, the punter tore his ACL. After that happened, I joined the team and took over. That's pretty much how it unfolded and I fell in love with it."
- An underrated attribute that is needed as a punter: "Composure. When it comes down to the line, you really only have one chance. Also, when it comes to kicking or punting, you either have that snap to your leg or you don't."
- Favorite moment in sports: "We were playing our rival high school and there was a play where I received a bad snap and took off down the sideline. Eventually, I was hit by a linebacker and was knocked unconscious. My teammates were more surprised by the fact that I didn't run out of bounds."
- Works alongside a business team where he endorses products for Amway Global
- Would pursue a career in homeland security or as a cop if he was not playing football
- Favorite athletes to watch growing up were Randall Cunningham, Vai Sikahema and Michael Jordan. Currently enjoys watching LeBron James and motorsport specialist Travis Pastrana
- Favorites: Meal - Ballpark food; Book - The Servant by James C. Hunter; Car - Nissan Skyline GTR; Movies - The Hangover, Step Brothers, Bad Boys 1 & 2; TV Show - MTV's Rob Dyrdek's Fantasy Factory; Musical Artists - Rascal Flatts, Lil Wayne, Usher, Michael Jackson
- Attended East Stroudsburg South (PA) HS where he was a member of the soccer team for three years before joining the football team as the punter his senior year, where he earned All-Mountain Valley Conference and Pocono Record All-Area honors
- His father, William, is a police department captain and his mother, Katheline, is a nurse. Has a brother, Rob, who serves in the Air Force
- Graduated from East Stroudsburg with a degree in sociology and a minor in criminal justice
- Born in East Stroudsburg, PA

- Earned first-team All-Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference eastern division honors as a junior and senior after averaging 42.5 yards per punt, with 30 of his 75 punts landing inside the 20 and just four touchbacks during that span
- As a senior, punted 42 times in 14 games as ESU won the Division II Northeast Regional championship and advanced to the national semifinals for the first time in school history
- Averaged 42.0 yards per punt as a senior, 43.2 yards per punt as a junior, 40.7 yards per punt as a sophomore and 36.7 yards per punt as a freshman

  Patterson is currently working on a potential investment in Norman, OK
- An avid boxing fan, his favorite boxing stars include Floyd Mayweather, Roy Jones Jr., Mike Tyson and Purnell Whitaker. "I just really like the one-on-one aspect of boxing. There's so much individual technique that goes into it."
- Is a self-proclaimed shoe addict and owns over 40 pairs of shoes. "If I am addicted to anything, it is definitely shopping, and shopping for shoes especially."
- One of his favorite hobbies is knocking down pins at a bowling alley. He has a high score of 210. "I got lucky that time, really lucky."

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Talent he would like to develop: Playing the piano
- Underrated aspect of playing cornerback: "First of all, you have to be mentally tough. If you get beat on one play, you have to bounce right back on the next. Also, you have to be in great condition, because you can run with a receiver and break up a pass 50 yards down the field and then you have to be right back in the huddle and they'll just sub a fresh guy in that you have to cover on the next play."
- On his bucket list: Traveling the world to see what different cultures are like
- Grew up a huge fan of the Miami Dolphins and the Chicago Bulls
- Would like to coach high school football and be involved in commercial real estate when his playing days are over
- Was featured in the HBO series Hard Knocks while a member of the Kansas City Chiefs. "It was a very cool experience. At first it was weird having all the cameras around, but you get used to it. Then watching the final product was really fun."
- Favorites: Meal - "Anything homecooked from my mom."; Movie - Training Day; TV Show - "Maury. I know it sounds funny, but I can't get enough." Musical artist - Tupac
- Majored in Business Administration at Tuskegee
- Full name: Dimitri Jonthiel Patterson

- Played in 10 games as a sophomore in 2002 and recorded 35 tackles and 9 KDs
- Appeared in 11 games as a freshman and accrued 53 tackles, 3 INTs, 9 KDs, a FF and 2 FRs

INJURY HISTORY

- Underwent surgery on 9/21/09 to repair a third metacarpal fracture in his left hand suffered a day earlier vs. NO. Missed one game due to that injury before suffering a quad strain in the 1st quarter vs. TB (10/11/09) that sidelined for the next four contests

98 Mike PATTERSON
DEFENSIVE TACKLE

6-1, 300 | Born 9/1/83 in Sacramento, CA
USC | Los Alamitos HS, Los Alamitos, CA
6th year | Acquired - D1-05 (31st overall)

A stout defensive tackle with great technique, Mike Patterson is perhaps one of the most underrated players on the Eagles defense. Known for his consistent play week in and week out, Patterson has been one of the key features in the Eagles run defense in his career. A first-round draft choice, Patterson signed a seven-year contract extension in 2006 that will keep him in Philadelphia through 2016.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Since 2007, has contributed to a rushing defense that has allowed just 97.6 rushing yards per game - the 5th lowest average in the NFL during that span
- Has never missed a game in his five-year career and ranks second among all NFL defensive tackles with 80 consecutive games played
- Was named to Larry Weisman's (USA Today) All-Joe Team following the 2007 and 2008 seasons, which honors the NFL players whose work doesn't necessarily garner headlines but is integral to the success of their football team
- In 2007, he and DE Trent Cole became the first pair of Eagles defensive linemen to record 100-plus tackles in a single season since 1991 (Jerome Brown, Clyde Simons, Reggie White, Mike Pitts)
- Recovered a fumble on 3rd down of a goal-line stand at SF (9/24/06) and raced 98 yards for his first-career TD. It was the longest fumble return in Eagles history and tied for 6th-longest in NFL history. It was also tied for the longest among defensive linemen (Cowboys DE Greg Ellis vs. Arz. 10/3/99)
- Was named to Sports Illustrated's Sleeper All-Pro Team in 2006 (Dr. Z)

BIRDSEED

- Nicknamed "The Grizzle" by his defensive linemates. "Bunkley came up with the name because he says I'm always looking rough like I just came out of the forest, like a grizzly bear. It just stuck, so I embrace it."
- Has become very interested in acting and has had several tryouts for TV shows and commercials. Also appeared in an episode of It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia, one of his favorite shows. After his playing days are over, he plans to pursue a career in acting
- In his first part-time job, was a cook at Los Alamitos Army Base for two summers, where his uncle was a sergeant. Eventually, wants to go to culinary school. His favorite style of food to cook is "home-style breakfast food"

MIKE PATTERSON

PERSONAL

- Was married in March of 2009 and resides in Cherry Hill, NJ
- Is the youngest child of Tyrone and Florence Patterson. Has one brother, Tyrone (a former basketball player at Sacramento City College), and two sisters, Roachelle and Knyesha
- Says that at some point in his life, would like to make it to the top of Mount Everest. "I don't actually want to climb the mountain, though. I just want to be placed on top, so I can say I was on top of the world."
- Earned the nickname, "Bam-Bam," as a kid because he had an unusual history of breaking things and sometimes hurting himself. "I always used to break glass and things like that. One time I fell out of a two-story window when I was six years old. I broke my shoulder, but I was up creating havoc again soon enough."
- After attending a summer football camp in Southern California prior to his freshman year of high school with his cousin, Jorrel Knight, decided to move in with his cousin's family (Aunt L'Tanya and Uncle Freddie, a seargent in the Army) and attend Los Alamitos HS to play football
- An all-state wrestler in high school, Patterson used his stout, solid body to create leverage to pin his opponents. He now uses those same techniques to help him fend off offensive linemen. "Wrestling taught me how to stay low," Patterson said. "It's the same technique as on the defensive line. You have to stay low and use your hands. I was originally an offensive lineman in high school, but as soon as football coaches saw how aggressive I was when I wrestled, they moved me over to defense."
- Has a Siberian husky named Chaos
- Earned All-America honors as a senior at Los Alamitos HS, recording 94 tackles, 7.0 sacks and 18 tackles for a loss
- Also participated in wrestling, shot put, and discus in HS
- Purchased a four-wheeler in 2007 and enjoys riding trails in New Jersey with fellow Eagles lineman Juqua Parker
- Races remote control cars, usually around his yard. He owns two gas trucks and an electric helicopter
- Loves old school cars and wants to start a collection. His favorite car is the 1970 Chevy Chevelle. "Once I have a little more time, I want to learn how to work on them too."
- Enjoys playing golf after picking it up as a rookie in Philadelphia. His Eagles playing partner is LG Todd Herremans
- Owns a large collection of suspense movies and feels he would be a good movie critic. His favorite movie is "The Usual Suspects"
- Enjoys all types of music except for country. His current favorite artist is Lil Wayne
- Grew up as a big fan of Warren Sapp, but his favorite athlete to watch now is LeSean McCoy
- Is a fan of the Sacramento Kings
- Majored in sociology and plans on earning his degree after he is done playing football

2008 HIGHLIGHTS

IN THE TRENCHES

- His definition of an O-lineman: "Physical. You have to be physical as an o-lineman. If you're not the guy on the other side is gong to beat you every time. Based on how nasty those defensive line guys are you have to be just as physical and nasty if you want to succeed."
- Favorite O-lineman: "I didn't really have a favorite offensive lineman because I didn't play the position. I played defensive end when I was younger, so my favorite player was Bruce Smith because he played defensive end and he was on the Bills who were my favorite team and the time. He was a great player."

We were eating, and I had them go up to him and make like he was the guy that robbed this store. They got him good. They cuffed him and put him in the car. He was all scared. At the end, they were like, 'You just got punked."

JASON'S JUNKERS

Lists restoring classic cars as one of his hobbies. "I don't ever buy a brand-new car off the lot. I'll get them used. I usually get an older car, from the '60s or '70s for a couple of grand and I'll fix them up. When I get them, they don't look like they look now."

66 Dallas REYNOLDS
GUARD

Brigham Young
1st year

Born 4/23/1984 in Salt Lake City, UT
Timpview HS, Provo, UT
Acquired - Rookie FA (2009)

Dallas Reynolds was promoted to the active roster on 12/29/09 after spending weeks 6-15 on the Eagles practice squad. Originally a rookie free agent signing of the Eagles in 2009, Reynolds played all five offensive line positions at BYU and twice garnered first-team All-Mountain West honors – as a left tackle his junior year and as a center his senior year.

IN THE TRENCHES

- How he decided to become an O-lineman: "My first year of middle school - it was the first time I played tackle football - I was a tight end. I just kept getting bigger and bigger. So I kind of fell into the spot more than that's what I wanted to become. I started to really enjoy it in high school and then I knew that's what I wanted to do."
- The best part of being on the O-line: "There's not just one or two guys that you're playing with; there are five guys. There has to be some unity and you all have to be on the same page. I think that's difficult and challenging, but I think that might be the most fun part of it. You have to be working together."
- Most underrated attribute of being on the O-line: "I think a lot of things start with the offensive line. The running backs get those big runs a lot of the times; they're athletes. But, a lot of the time, it's because of what happens in front of them. I think there are a lot of unseen things that happen on the offensive line that make the team roll."
- Position other than O-line he would most like to play: "When I'm playing Xbox or video games, I'm always a running back."

- Ventured on a church mission to Seattle, WA five days after his high school graduation. While on the expedition, Reynolds shared the message of Jesus Christ, while providing his services. "It was really the first time I was away from home. It was a learning experience for me, going out on my own. Obviously, you're out in a big city. I learned a lot about myself in terms of taking care of myself and becoming independent. It really helped me out in aspects of my religion and my beliefs in Jesus Christ. It really shaped who I am today."

BIRDSEED

- Is a co-owner of "Mark's Place," a pizza shop in Australia with his brother, Anthony, and fellow Australian rules footballer, Steven Allessio. "The pizza around here is very different, it's a little too thin," said Rocca. "A lot of people wouldn't know this, but Australian pizza is thick and it offers more variety as far as toppings go. You can get pretty much anything you want on it, any style. The stuff around here is good, but Australian pizza is a little bit better."
- A certified masseur, earned his license in 1995 while he was a star in the Australian Football League. "It became a little crazy when I started to get more recognition in the league. People just wanted to come get massages from me all the time. Now it's really more of a hobby. I give them out to my family and friends from time to time, but that's really it. They do enjoy it though."
- Recently got his hands in the real estate field, buying and selling property. "I actually started getting involved with it about two months ago. During the [2009] offseason, I bought a property back in Australia and then had it rented out. It's something that I just took up and that I enjoy; buying a property, renovating it and then selling it."

PERSONAL

- If he could trade places with one person for a day, it would be Eagles longsnapper Jon Dorenbos. "He's a very interesting person. He's a well-known man, a magician; he has a lot of great qualities."
- Says that directional punting is one of the most underrated attributes as a punter. "Directional punting is something that I did last year and something that I always try to do and perfect."
- Trained with former NFL punter and Australian rules player Darren Bennett before signing with the Eagles
- His brother, Anthony, is a 13-year vet of the Australian Football League and plays for Collingwood. Anthony also has aspirations of one day playing in the NFL
- Says the biggest thing he had to adjust to in the NFL from the Australian league was not being on the field at all times. "In the Australian league, you're out there running around the entire time. Here, with my role as the punter, I come in maybe 3-4 times a game. It was tough adjusting to that at first, because as an athlete you always want to be in the game to help your team. But, I definitely embrace my role and I see the value and importance of what I do, which is why I chose to try to come to the NFL in the first place." When asked if he would like to try his hand at any other position, he responds laughingly, "I think punter suits me just fine, but I think if I grew up in America, I could see myself wanting to play tight end as well."
- Favorite sports moment: First game as a Philadelphia Eagle. "Going out for my very first punt, all I could think of was that I had to plant a successful punt."

- Older brother, Mike, is a former Pro Bowl DE of the Carolina Panthers. He retired after spending nine seasons there from 1999-2007. "Mike taught me a lot about life in the NFL and different things I can improve on," said Martin. "Being a defensive end, he told me about different techniques some of the best tight ends used against him and ways to be successful. Any time you can get knowledge like that from someone that's been on the opposite side of things, and was a Pro Bowler, it can only help you."
- Recently took up practicing magic in his free time and claims to have learned a few things from fellow teammate and accomplished magician, Jon Dorenbos. "Jon's amazing, I don't think I could ever be that good. That takes years," said Rucker. "I really got interested in magic a year ago when I took a trip out to the Magic Castle in Hollywood. When I was out there I picked up a kit and have been working on some stuff ever since."
- One of his favorite hobbies is flying remote control helicopters. "I own three right now," said Rucker. "One is big and two are little. I'll fly the two little ones in the house, but the big one I have to take outside or else I'll put some holes in the ceiling." Also owns a remote control car
- Says his greatest love besides football is fishing. His most memorable catch was a five-pound bass when he fished by his grandma's house in Plattsburgh, MO. Plans to go deep-sea fishing for the first time this summer

PERSONAL

- Son of Martin and LaVell Rucker. Martin is a member of the House of Representatives in the state of Missouri, and also works as a production line mechanic. Lavell is a social worker at Benton HS
- Was a standout at both tight end and defensive end at Benton HS, recording 56-career receptions for 646 yards and five touchdowns as a tight end, and 118 tackles and two sacks as a defensive end
- Garnered all-state honors as a TE and first-team all-district and all-conference accolades at both tight end and defensive end
- Was an all-district and all-conference performer in basketball
- Also excelled in track, winning conference and district titles and placing fourth in the state in the triple jump as a senior, as well as a conference championship in the long jump
- Claims that his father, Martin, is the biggest influence on his life and where he is today. "Just seeing how hard he worked to make sure the family was taken care of, it really taught me the meaning of perseverance and I take that with me every day."
- Says his favorite moment in sports growing up was when he helped Missouri beat Nebraska 41-6 by contributing 9 catches, 102 yards and a touchdown. "That was a great day, the fans stormed the field and tore down the goal posts. And it was even more special for me because Nebraska had recruited me out of high school and my brother, Mike, went there. Mizzou also hadn't beat them in like 25 years so you can imagine all the trash he had been talking to me. I let him have it after that one."
- His first job was cutting grass at the local church in 6th grade. Also worked as a tobacco cutter one summer when he was 13 years old. "I"ll never forget that job because it was so hot out in those fields."
- Bucket list off the field: I'd like to visit Europe and Asia just to see what it's like over there and get a feel for the different cultures.
- Says his pregame ritual is to try not to do everything the same way. "I'm not a superstitious person, but I am a religious person and I think that God ultimately decides what is going to happen," said Rucker. "So I try not to get caught up in things like that. I do listen to gospel music pregame before I listen to anything else though."
- Person he'd like to trade places with for one day: Barack Obama so I could see what real pressure is like
- Grew up a huge fan of Deion Sanders, Walter Payton, Andre Reed and Michael Jordan. Currently enjoys watching Tiger Woods, Lebron James and Kobe Bryant
- Enjoys listening to Lil Wayne, Gospel music and Sarah Bareilles on his iPod
- Favorite meal: Fried chicken, collared greens, mac 'n' cheese and mashed potatoes - made by anyone in my family; Favorite car: Ford Mustang; Favorite movie: Friday; Favorite TV Show: Burn Notice; Favorite musician: Michael Jackson; Favorite quote: "If He brings you to it, He'll bring you through it." Favorite place to visit: Los Angeles, because my girlfriend is there and I love it.
- Earned his degree in hotel and restaurant management

BIRDSEED

- Credits his mother, Christine, for being where he is today in life. "We did everything together growing up and she taught me some good life lessons, like never giving up. In fact, I quit football a few times growing up and she always got me back out there. One time, she bought me a bike and wouldn't let me ride it until I went back to football."
- Claims to have had a lack of foot speed in his little league years as a quarterback. "Everybody out there would talk about how slow I was...and I let that get in my head. I wanted to be fast." So he convinced his mother to buy him running parachutes and strength shoes designed to increase speed. "My mom would be out with me at 10 o'clock at night timing me in the 40 in the dark. I was always conscious about working on my speed, my technique, my footwork and my breaks."
- With the urging of his high school coach, Perry Egelsky, Samuel switched from quarterback to cornerback during his senior year of high school."He told me I wasn't going to college as a 5-7 quarterback."
- Asante's father, Jasper, gave him his first name, which means "Thank You" in Swahili

UNDERDOG ROLE

Samuel has become a perennial NFL All-Star despite barely being recruited out of high school. "Hofstra was the only other place that really wanted me other than Central Florida. But I'm used to being the underdog. I'm always the underdog, no matter what I do in life. That really motivates me. Nobody EVER thought I could play cornerback in high school, let alone in the NFL. In fact, I got a letter a few years ago from an old friend, Maurice, who I haven't seen in years. He said, 'Man, you've come a long way since little league!'"

BUDDING TV STAR

Samuel and four other NFL stars have invested and made appearances in a web-based sitcom about fantasy football that hopes to make it to the television airwaves. Samuel joins fellow NFL players Matt Forte, Andre Johnson, Mike Sims-Walker, and Maurice Jones-Drew as investors and guest stars of the program. For more info, log on to fantasyoverreality.com.

94 Ricky SAPP
DEFENSIVE END

6-4, 252 | Born 11/14/86 in Bamberg, SC
Clemson | Bamberg-Ehrhart HS, Bamberg, SC
Rookie | Acquired - D5a - 10 (134th overall)

The Eagles selected Clemson's Ricky Sapp with their first pick in the fifth round of the 2010 draft (134th overall). A versatile and disruptive pass rusher, Sapp finished his collegiate career with 17.5 sacks and 38 tackles for a loss, primarily out of Clemson's "bandit" defensive end position.

BIRDSEED

- Is proud to be the first person in his family to go to college. "It's something I'm really proud of because I know how important it is and I know that not everybody is blessed with that opportunity."
- Credits his uncle, James Anderson, with having the biggest influence on his career. "He has been like another father figure for me. He motivated me and helped me become the player I am today, but he also has been a big influence on me spiritually."

  Sapp enjoys reading spiritual books, many of which were recommended by Anderson. His favorite is Thank You, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. by Eleanora E. Tate, which he has read many times
- Grew up as a fan of the Dallas Cowboys, but says that changed the day he came to Philadelphia. "Right after I got drafted and was flying out to Philadelphia, some Eagles fans were on the plane and said something along the lines of, 'Welcome to Philadelphia. Please beat the Cowboys.' I could tell that they really didn't like the Cowboys and that I needed to do the same."

GIVING BACK

After his playing days are over, Sapp plans on coaching high school football. In fact, he frequently pays visits to his former high school, Bamberg-Ehrhart, to help out at practice and speak to the kids.

"Back when I was in high school, we used to have former players come and talk to us and I remember thinking if I ever got the opportunity I would do the same. I feel like it's important to give back to the game that has given you so much."

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Started 36 of 50 games at Clemson, tallying 142 tackles, 17.5 sacks, 16 quarterback pressures and five pass deflections. Also recovered one fumble and forced two others
- His 38 tackles for a loss ranked 15th on the school's all-time record list
- In 2009, earned second-team All-ACC honors and was nominated for the Brian Piccolo Award, given annually to the conference's "Most Courageous Player." Started all 14 games at right defensive end, registering 5.0 sacks
- Started nine of 10 games at the "bandit" defensive end position in 2008, recording 25 tackles, 2.5 sacks, two QB pressures and 9.5 tackles for a loss
- Started all 13 games at "bandit" position in 2007, ranking second among the team's down linemen with 44 tackles and was also second on the squad with six sacks
- Was named Freshman All-American honorable mention by Scout.com in 2006 after playing in 13 games, recording 18 tackles and ranking second on the squad with four sacks

- Says the biggest influence on his life and career is his father, Charles, who is retired and used to serve in the Air Force. 61 A.Q. SHIPLEY
CENTER

6-1, 315 | 5/22/86 in Coraopolis, PA
Penn State | Moon Area HS, Coraopolis, PA
1st Year | Acquired - FA [2010]

A.Q. Shipley signed with the Eagles on 1/11/10. Originally a seventh-round draft choice of the Pittsburgh Steelers in 2009, Shipley spent his entire rookie campaign on their practice squad. A three-year starter for Penn State, he earned All-American honors as a senior in 2008 and was also the recipient of the Rimington Trophy, which is awarded annually to the nation's best collegiate center.

BIRDSEED

- Has a tattoo on his left arm with the quote "Man's reach must exceed his grasp," which he heard from Joe Paterno in a meeting while in college. The quote stuck with Shipley, who has endured criticism over the years for not having long enough arms to play on the offensive line

IN THE TRENCHES

- Reason he decided to become an o-lineman: "My dad got me into it because he was an offensive lineman at Eastern Montana University. It was a great avenue for me since I was bigger than everybody, it helped me take my aggression out a little bit."
- Most underrated aspect of playing o-line: "Quickness - you have to have quickness. A lot of people don't realize that because they see how big we are and how physical we need to be, but what they don't know is how quick we need to be with our size. When you're 315 pounds and you need to be on your feet, alert and trying to block all sorts of d-lineman and linebackers, quickness is a big part of it."
- Position he'd most like to play other than o-line: "D-line. I was a defensive tackle in college. It's a different feel being on the other side of the ball."
- Funniest moment in a pile up or huddle: "I can't think of one in particular, but I do know that my college teammate, Rich Ohrnberger, said some pretty crazy stuff in the pileups. He's probably the funniest person I've ever met." Ohrnberger is currently an offensive lineman with the New England Patriots
- Most memorable block: "We were on the four-yard line against USC in the Rose Bowl and pounded it in for a score. Before the play the d-tackle slid to the inside, I saw it coming and I just pancaked the guy. It was great."
- Worst part about being 6-1, 315 pounds: "You sweat ALL the time."

PERSONAL

- Son of Allan and Patricia Shipley. Allan is a retired engineer and Patricia is a nurse at Moon Area middle school. Also has one sister, Nicole, who is an 8th grade science teacher at William Tennent middle school in Warminster, PA.
- Was a standout defensive lineman for Moon Area HS, and recorded 243 tackles and 13 sacks
- Also played basketball and was a two-year captain of the football and basketball teams
- Favorite moment in sports growing up: Winning the Orange Bowl as a freshman at Penn State
- Says his greatest love besides football is golf and hits the links about twice a week. His favorite course that he's ever played on is World Tour 18 in Myrtle Beach and his favorite golfer is Tiger Woods
- Bucket list off the field: Visiting England and watching a soccer game between the Manchester United and Real Madrid
- Enjoys listening to heavy metal rock music and says the talent he'd most like to have is to be able to play guitar. His favorite bands are Breaking Benjamin and Three Days Grace, which he insists on listening to before a game. Also enjoys hanging out with his girlfriend, Maureen, who he met while at Penn State
- Person he'd like to trade places with for one day: Michael Jordan - "I grew up just loving to watch him play, how he wanted the ball in the last second of every game. He was such a great competitor. And now, just seeing how he's developed himself business-wise, I'd love to see what he does behind the scenes on a day-to-day basis."
- Grew up a huge fan of UNC basketball, the Chicago Bulls and the Pittsburgh Steelers. His favorite current athletes are Lebron James, Kobe Bryant and Tiger Woods
- Used to be a maintenence worker on Penn State's golf course growing up
- Earned his degree in labor employment relations
- Full name is Allan Q. Shipley
- Favorite meal: chicken and pasta; Favorite car: Chevy Tahoe - cause that's what I'm driving right now; Favorite movie: Shawshank Redemption; Favorite tv show: Diners, Drive-ins and Dives; Favorite website: ESPN.com; Favorite place to visit: Anywhere with a beach

AVOID THE FLYSWATTER

It's not often that you hear an offensive lineman compare himself to a bug, but that's exactly what A.Q. Shipley does after years of hearing doubters question whether he was big enough to play on the offensive line. "I just use it as motivation. First I heard, 'Oh his arms are too short, there is no way he'll play college ball.' Then when I went to Penn State I would hear, 'Oh he's too small, he'll never start.' Then when I went on to be a three-year starter they'd say, 'Oh, there's no way he'll get drafted.'" Shipley, who was drafted by the Steelers in the 7th round in 2009, prides himself on his work ethic. "I definitely play with a chip on my shoulder. I will outwork you and I want to be like a gnat - I just won't go away."

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Started his last 39 games at center after making the switch from defensive tackle
- As a senior, was a first-team All-American selection (ESPN, the Football Writers Association of America and the Walter Camp Football Foundation), adding second-team honors (Associated Press). Also earned first-team All-Big Ten Conference honors, was named the league's Offensive Lineman of the Year, and was awarded the Rimington Trophy, which is given to the nation's premier performer at center
- Started every game at center as a junior, earning first-team All-Big Ten Conference and ESPN All-Pro Team honors
- Moved into the starting lineup at center as a sophomore
- Was a reserve center as a freshman for the first seven games of the season before being moved back to defensive tackle for the remainder of the season. He finished the season with five tackles and two sacks

ANIMAL INSTINCTS

Saying Ernie Sims is an animal enthusiast would be an understatement. Sims owns over 50 animals of all kinds, including 20 dogs, 28 different types of reptiles, several horses, and even a monkey - a kinkajou Sims named "Sidney". "I love animals," said Sims. "Every single one has a different personality. I love being with them, I love spending time with them, I love everything about them. They're always happy and excited to see you." 91 Darryl TAPP
DEFENSIVE END

6-1, 270
Virginia Tech
5th year

Born 9/13/84 in Portsmouth, VA
Deep Creek HS, Chesapeake, VA
Acquired - Trade [Sea] 2010

The Eagles acquired Darryl Tapp on 3/16/10 in a trade with the Seahawks. An intense defensive end with a high motor, Tapp was originally a second round draft choice of Seattle in 2006, and has since gone on to play in all 64 regular season games, registering 18 sacks in his four-year career

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Tied a Seahawks team record with four sacks vs. StL (10/21/07), en route to a career-high seven sacks in 2007
- Recorded his first-career interception off of Jay Cutler and returned it 25 yards for a touchdown at Den (12/3/06)

BIRDSEED

- Along with his two brothers, owns and operates Tapp Enterprises, LLC, the holding/management company for four separate entities: Tapp Development (real estate), Chruth Ventures (business partnerships), 55 Marketing (marketing for local celebrities) and The Darryl Tapp Foundation (supporting non-profit organizations to improve the under-served of the Hampton Roads community)
- Has conducted "Darryl Tapp's Gentlemen's Expo" in his hometown region, which raises money for local charities while recognizing individuals for their charitable work. A previous winner was former Eagles defensive end William Fuller, who owns and operates a construction company in Virginia. Now that he is back playing on the East coast, he plans on continuing that endeavor
- Donates time and resources to the Boys and Girls Club and to the Food Bank of Southeastern Virginia. His brother, Charles, is on the Board of Directors of the Food Bank. Last year, Darryl issued a challenge to the Southhampton Roads community to fill the shelves of the food bank, which proved to be successful
- During the offseason, trains with Rick Cox, his former high school football and track coach, at a facility called Speed by Rick Cox in Chesapeake, VA. Said Tapp, "He comes up with ridiculous stuff all the time, but it's great."
- Does Bikrim Yoga (hot yoga) 2 to 3 times per week in the offseason. "It really helps with flexibility and gets rid of the toxins. It also makes me that much more mentally stronger trying to keep the poses."

2009 HIGHLIGHTS (with Seattle)

- Notched a half sack of Aaron Rodgers and three QB hits at GB (12/27)
- Sacked Brett Favre at Min. (11/22)
- Picked up a sack of David Garrard vs. Jax (10/11), and led the defensive line with four tackles and four four QB hits

- Born in Pago Pago, American Samoan, but moved to Seattle at the age of five. He relocated back to Somoa at the age of 12 before attending boarding school in Hawaii
- Attended Hawaii Preparatory Academy (Kamuela, HI), playing offensive and defenisve line for head coach Tom Goodspeed
- Was a high school teammate of Seahawks center Max Unger, who gave him solid advice during the NFL draft process. "He said to be prepared for stupid questions, like why should we draft you?"
- Grew up a fan of the Washington Huskies, Seattle Seahawks and Junior Seau. "I really enjoyed the Apple Cup [annual game between Washington and Washington State] growing up. You always had to choose one side or another. There was no middle ground. I chose Washington, of course."
- Two-time first-team all-league (Big Island Interscholastic Federation) selection in high school, helping his team to a 10-2 overall record as a senior in 2004, including a 9-0 league record, before losing in the state semifinals to 'Iolani (Honolulu, HI)
- Also excelled on the track team as a shot-putter and a discus thrower and lettered in basketball and baseball
- Earned his degree in Interdisciplinary Visual Arts

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Although most people cannot or will not even try to pronounce the rookie defensive end's last name, Daniel Te'o-Nesheim is not surprised. "Only a few people can pronounce it right. But the most annoying part is having random strangers ask you how to pronounce it, then they say it wrong and then ask if they got it right. [laughing] I'm like, I will never see you again so why do you care so much." Born Daniel Nesheim, a Norwegian surname from his late father David's side of the family, he added the Te'o, a Samoan surname and his mother's maiden name during his sophomore year of high school. "My mom thought it would be nice to add it because we're so proud of our Somoan heritage."

78 Fenuki TUPOU
TACKLE

6-5, 323 | Born 5/2/85 in Sacramento, CA
Oregon | Center HS, Antelope, CA
2nd year | Acquired - D5c-09 [159th overall]

A fifth-round draft choice of the Eagles in 2009, Fenuki Tupou (fen-OO-key TWO-poe) suffered a chest injury in the preseason and was placed on the Injured Reserve list on 9/5/09. A two-time All-Pac 10 selection as a left tackle at Oregon, Tupou twice garnered All-Mid Empire Conference honors at Sierra College from 2004-05, before transferring to Oregon in 2006.

IN THE TRENCHES

- His definition of an O-lineman: "You have to be a smart guy, but you also need to be big and athletic. You need to get along with everybody, especially on the offensive line, because you're all working together so much. But, you are also the guys who do all the dirty work."
- Favorite O-lineman: Jonathan Ogden. "He was just so athletic for his size. I loved watching him dominate for so many years. For a guy his size to move the way he did was incredible."
- Position other than O-line he would like to play: "Quarterback. I played quarterback in high school. My rugby skills also come in handy when I'm running the option."
- Best/worst part about being an offensive lineman: "The best part is the bond you form with your teammates. We spend a lot of time together and everybody is really close knit. The worst part is that it's hard to control your weight."
- Most underrated attribute of an offensive lineman: "Definitely the skill involved. Most people think it's just big guys hitting each other, but you have to have quick feet, good hands, hand-eye coordination, and you have to be able to get good leverage on guys who are usually smaller than you."
- Advice to aspiring offensive linemen: "I will give them the same advice [offensive line coach] Juan Castillo gives us over and over: back and over; hard work. Back and over because that's the technique we focus on as tackles and hard work because you need to come out every day with the same intensity."
- Best/worst part about being 6-5, 323: "The best part is that you're so big that nobody will mess with you. The worst part is the same reason; people are intimidated by you when they don't need to be."

HIGH SCHOOL HERO

In addition to playing QB, DE, TE, and DT on his high school football team, Tupou also starred as a rugby player. "It definitely helped me become a better football player, especially with conditioning and toughness."

7 Michael VICK
QUARTERBACK

6-0 ,215 | 6/26/80 in Newport News, VA
Virginia Tech | Warwick HS, Newport News, VA
9th Year | Acquired - FA [2009]

Pro Bowls: 2002, 2004, 2005

A multi-dimensional threat from the quarterback position, Michael Vick is in his second season in Philadelphia after signing with the Eagles on August 13, 2009. A former first overall overall pick of the NFL draft in 2001 by Atlanta, Vick enjoyed a six-year tenure with the Falcons from 2001-06, leading them to a 40-30-1 record as a starting signal caller.

BIRDSEED

- Partnered with the Humane Society to help educate and steer children away from animal cruelty and has made several appearances in Philadelphia and around the country speaking to large groups of children
- Teamed with BET in 2010 to air the Michael Vick Project, a 10-part documentary on the highs and lows of his life. Said Vick, "I was proud of the show, but I didn't do it to show people that I'm back and unchanged by the experiences of the last few years. I allowed the cameras to see the truth – the good, the bad and the ugly results of my decisions – with the sincere hope that it will positively affect others' lives and prevent someone out there from making the same mistakes I did."
- Is a fanatic of both fishing and golfing. In fact, caught four 50-pound Amberjacks in the Chesapeake Bay in Virginia one day. "Two was too many, they are so darn strong. But I love fishing. It requires a lot of patience." As far as golf, Vick said, "I'm getting there, I'm really into it. I started playing after appearing at a golf tournament in Atlanta. And believe me, I really wasn't into it before going to the appearance, but it didn't take long during that day to get hooked."
- Was drafted by the Colorado Rockies in the 30th round of the 2000 MLB draft despite not playing baseball since he was 14 years old in the 8th grade. "My friends told me about it after seeing it on SportsCenter," said Vick, a left-handed pitcher and centerfielder. "I was shocked. I considered playing, but it would have interfered too much with spring practices."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- His nine career 100-yard rushing games are the most by a quarterback in NFL history, and his 3,954 career rushing yards ranks third all time behind Randall Cunningham (4,928) and Steve Young (4,239). His 1,039 rushing yards in 2006 is the most ever by a quarterback in a single season.

MICHAEL VICK

PERSONAL

- He and his fiancée, Kijafa, live in Virginia and Philadelphia. Has two daughters, Jada and London, and one son, Mitez. Lists his mother, Brenda Vick, his aunt, Tina Vick, and his uncle, Casey Vick, as the most powerful influences in his life
- A Newport News, VA, native, attended Warwick High School, passing for 4,846 yards and 43 touchdowns, also rushed for 1,048 yards and 18 touchdowns. Also played safety, recording 4 INTs and 75 tackles. "Playing safety taught me how to read the quarterback's eyes and understand that a guy can get an indication of what I want to do with the football."
- Names Tommy Reamon, his high school football coach, as the person most responsible for helping him make it to the NFL, "He taught me life skills and how to communicate from a father-son perspective. I still talk to him to this day and he still helps me to this day."
- Favorite football moment: "Winning the NFC Wild Card game at Green Bay in 2003. At the end of the game, I'll never forget Brett Favre telling me I had a great game and that he's looking forward to competing with me again and to keep working hard and getting better."
- Favorite teams/athletes growing up: "San Francisco 49ers, especially Steve Young and Jerry Rice"
- First job: "Pool attendant"
- Bucket list: "Catch a 200-pound tuna and be able to go fishing on a consistent basis without any guide."
- On his iPod: "Jay-Z and Kings of Leon"
- Most underrated attribute of being a quarterback: "How much time you have to put into learning the game. The subtle things can make the biggest difference in making a big play. There are many small indicators that you can pick up to make a play work."
- Majored in sociology and plans on going back to school to get his degree
- First started playing football at the age of 8 for the Boys Club Spartans in Newport News, VA. He played quarterback and running back.
- Born Michael Dwayne Vick

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Named the team's Ed Block Courage Award recipient. The award honors those National Football League players who exemplify commitment to the principles of sportsmanship and courage and is given by a vote of the team for effort as well as individual performance
- Threw a 76-yard touchdown pass to Jeremy Maclin at Dal. (1/9/10), which was a career long and the longest pass play in Eagles postseason history. The previous record was held by Jeff Garcia, a 75-yarder to Donté Stallworth at NO (1/13/07)
- Scored his second rushing touchdown of the season on a one-yard scamper at NYG (12/13)
- In his first return to Atlanta (12/6), scored his first touchdown as an Eagle on a 5-yard run, marking his 22nd career rushing touchdown and his first since 10/15/06 vs. NYG at the Georgia Dome. He also threw a 5-yard touchdown pass to TE Brent Celek, marking his 11th game with touchdowns via both rushing and passing (8-2-1 record) in those games. The touchdown was set up by a 43-yard completion to Reggie Brown, his longest since a 52-yarder on 12/16/06 vs. Dallas. He finished the day 2-2 passing for 48 yards and one touchdown, adding 17 yards rushing on four attempts and a touchdown
- Had a 34-yard run on the opening drive at Chi. (11/22), his longest run since he recorded a 51-yarder as a Falcon vs. NO (11/26/06)

Born 9/23/1982 in Melbourne, FL

Pro Bowls: 2009

Armed with a unique combination of power and big-play ability out of the fullback position, Leonard Weaver earned a Pro Bowl invitation and Associated Press first-team All Pro honors in his first season with the Eagles after leading all NFL fullbacks with career highs in rushing attempts (70) and yards (323). For his efforts, Weaver was awarded with a three-year contract on 3/5/10. Originally signed as a rookie free agent by Seattle in 2005, Weaver spent his four seasons with the Seahawks before agreeing to a one-year deal with the Eagles in 2009.

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Earned a Pro Bowl nomination and became the first fullback in team history to garner Associated Press first-team All Pro honors after setting career highs in rushing yards (323), total touchdowns (4) and rushing touchdowns (2)
- Rushed for a career-high 17 attempts and posted 52 yards vs. SF (12/20)
- Scored on a one-yard touchdown run at NYG (12/13)
- Accumulated 100 yards of total offense (37 rushing, 63 receiving) at Atl. (12/6), reaching that plateau for the second time in his career. His 59-yard catch and run was the second-longest of his career. He also caught a 4-yard touchdown pass from QB Donovan McNabb, his second of the season (tied a career high)
- Scored on a 41-yard touchdown rush vs. NYG (11/1), the longest carry of his career and the longest run by an Eagles fullback since Anthony Toney's 44-yarder on 10/8/89 vs. NYG. Also finished the game with a career-high in rushing attempts (8) and yards (75)

BIRDSEED

- On making it from Division II Carson-Newman to the NFL, "It was a tough road. You get written off as a free agent right away, no matter what you can do on the field. Being a Division II player, you were always led to believe by scouts and experts that you can't play at this level. That still motivates me to this day."
- Originally started the Leonard Weaver Family Foundation to help those with diabetes and to spread knowledge about the disease. His inspiration came from his grandmother, Mary English, who died from diabetes during his rookie season. Now, the foundation focuses on his desire to work with inner-city youth. For more information, log on to LeonardWeaverFoundation.org
- Enjoys listening to Gospel and R&B music and is in the process of building a studio in his Philadelphia home. Lists Canton Jones as his favorite artist. He won a singing contest in 2006 on NFL Network's Total Access and sang with other NFL players and gospel artists in the 11th Super Bowl Gospel Celebration in Miami in 2010
- Works with the Urban Youth Racing School in Philadelphia, a program that provides inner-city youths (ages 8-18) an awareness of the motorsports industry through education, training and racing. Two ten-week programs (five in classroom and five on the track) serve 100 students yearly
- In the offseason, participates in UFC fighting training in Philadelphia with trainer Bernard Watkins. "I've actually been doing it for four years. It helps with awareness, core strength and balance."

YOUTH MOVEMENT

"My goal in life is to see people propel. There's no better satisfaction in life for me." That quote from Leonard Weaver is the motivation behind Weaver's Workerz program which began in 2009 at the Bonsall Family School in Camden, NJ. There, Weaver spends four hours every Tuesday working with a group of 7th and 8th graders on four important components of a fulfilling life: social, mental, physical and spiritual development. "I love being hands-on and very personal with the kids. Anyone can write a check or make an appearance. I want to make a differece in their lives. I bring my own kids as well to teach them how to treat people."

32 Dwayne WRIGHT
FULLBACK

6-0, 234 | Born 6/2/83 in San Diego, CA
Fresno State | Lincoln HS, San Diego, CA
2nd year | Acquired - FA - 2010

Dwayne Wright signed with the Eagles on 1/29/10. Originally a fourth round draft choice of Buffalo in 2007, Wright appeared in 15 games for the Bills in his rookie campaign and recorded 94 rushing yards on 29 attempts. He was released by the team prior to the start of the 2008 season. Wright spent the 2009 preseason with the New York Giants but was released as part of their final roster cutdown. A four-year letterman at Fresno State, Wright finished his collegiate career ranked third on the school's all-time list in rushing attempts (501) and yards (2,683), adding 16 touchdowns.

BIRDSEED

- Stays active in the community by participating in his agent's annual football camp for All-Pro Sport Ent. which is held in Denver, CO. The clinic, which teaches the fundamentals and techniques of football, has featured a number of All-Pro players including Jerome Bettis, Eddie George and Braylon Edwards. "The experience has been lovely," says Wright. "In my very first year with the camp, my kids won the football tournament. I was a very strict coach. I remember making the kids do push-ups if they did something wrong. I had them disciplined, but we won in the end."
- Attended Lincoln High School in San Diego, CA, which is the alma mater of NFL Hall of Famer Marcus Allen and Terrell Davis. "Having gone to the same school as those two guys, I try to model my game after them. They were two of my favorite players growing up. I've taken their playing styles and incorporated them into mine."

PERSONAL

- Earned all-state, all-county and all-conference honors as a senior at Lincoln High School in San Diego, CA
- Was named the high school offensive player of the year in 2000 by the San Diego Tribune
- Biggest accomplishments in life: Graduating from college and returning from knee surgery. "In 2004, I had a patella rupture which required surgery," says Wright. "Some of the doctors said I would never play again, but I rehabbed, came back and was eventually drafted."
- Favorite sports moment: Rushing for a Fresno State school record 295 yards on 25 carries against Louisiana Tech his junior year. Wright also contributed the game-winning TD when he rushed for a 33-yard score with :53 seconds remaining in regulation
- Aside from Marcus Allen and Terrell Davis, grew up watching a number of different running backs, including Eddie George, Walter Payton and Emmitt Smith

MAKING THE "WRIGHT" BEATS

Is the CEO of his very own recording company, Slice Records Inc. "I would say it started back in 1992 when my mom bought me a karaoke machine," says Wright. "I played around with it for a little bit until I eventually started buying all different types of equipment and musical instruments to go along with it." Now in its eighth year running, Wright works alongside his senior producer, Isiah Cross, and future up-and-coming artist, Andre Washington. To date, Slice Records Inc. has four signed artists on its label.

- Biggest influences on his life are his father, Wil, and his uncle, Eddie Ford, Jr. "My dad taught me the facts of life and football all at the same time. My uncle is constantly staying on me about my technique and he's always helping me train."
- Would be involved in radio and broadcasting if he wasn't playing football. While playing at Fresno State, Wright was active in the radio industry, spending time as a co-host with ESPN 1430 and CBS 47 Fresno
- If he could trade places with one person for a day, it would be his mother, Gwen. "I would just want her to have a break," says Wright. "She did so much and if I could trade places with her, I would have her relax."
- Favorites: Meal - Mom's chicken, greens, sweet potatoes and macaroni and cheese; Car - His Cadillac Escalade; Movie - The Wiz; TV Shows - The Cosby Show, Family Guy; Musical Artists - Snoop Dogg; Earth, Wind & Fire; Stevie Wonder; Place to Visit - Los Angeles
- Would like to be remembered as a great teammate, friend and father
- Hopes to one day travel the world and visit Brazil
- Most passionate about his family and life. "Those are the things that I value because it all can be taken away from you."
- Greatest love besides football is music

- Son of Wil and Gwen Wright
- The oldest of two brothers and one sister
- Has a daughter, Naliyah, and a son, Demarion
- Majored in communications with a concentration in broadcasting

Philadelphia Eagles 38
Carolina Panthers 10

Bolstered by stifling defensive pressure on Panthers quarterbacks, the Eagles registered seven takeaways and five sacks en route to a 38-10, opening day romp of the Carolina Panthers in Charlotte. Eagles cornerback Sheldon Brown notched two of the Eagles five interceptions as they scored 24 points off turnovers. Trailing 7-0 following an 8-minute touchdown drive by the Panthers on the game's opening possession, the Eagles responded with a 49-yard field goal by David Akers after Brown's first interception later in the first quarter. On the first play of the 2nd quarter, Panthers QB Jake Delhomme fumbled after a sack by a blitzing Trent Cole. Fellow defensive end Victor Abiamiri scooped up the loose ball at the Panthers 2-yard line and scored to give the Eagles a 10-7 lead. The Eagles scoring barrage was just beginning, though, as DeSean Jackson returned a Panthers punt 85 yards for a touchdown on their ensuing possession. Brown came up with his 2nd interception of the game on the Panthers next possession to set up a 9-yard touchdown pass from Donovan McNabb to TE Brent Celek. After a 3-and-out by the Panthers, McNabb led the Eagles on a 74-yard drive that was capped off by a 4-yard shovel pass to RB Brian Westbrook, giving the Eagles a commanding 31-7 lead late in the 2nd quarter. Although the Panthers would tack on a field goal in the waning moments of the first half, they would not score again. In fact, after rolling up 70 yards of offense on their first possession, Carolina would gain just 99 more for the rest of the game. The only scoring in the 2nd half would occur on a 3-yard touchdown run by McNabb, who suffered a fractured rib on the play that sidelined him for the remainder of the game. That touchdown was set up by the first interception of LB Akeem Jordan's career.

Notes: The Eagles scored an offensive, defensive, and special teams touchdown in the same game for the first time since 12/24/94 at Cincinnati ... The Eagles defense forced seven turnovers (five interceptions, two fumbles), which was the highest total since they forced seven vs. St. Louis on 1/2/00. It was also their highest interception total since 9/30/96 vs. Dallas, when they also posted five ... Brown's two-interception game was the 2nd of his career (10/2/05 at KC), and the first time an Eagle did so since Lito Sheppard snared two on 10/8/06 vs. Dallas ... Jackson was named NFC special teams player of the week for his performance. His 85-yard punt return for a touchdown was the 2nd longest in team history (Vai Sikahema, 87 yards on 11/22/92 at NYG) ... Abiamiri's touchdown was the first of his life ... FS Macho Harris became the first Eagles rookie to start at safety on opening day since Wes Hopkins on 9/3/83 at San Francisco. Harris also became the first Eagles rookie defensive player to start on opening day since DT Corey Simon on 9/3/00 at Dallas ... Westbrook played in his 100th regular season game.

Philadelphia Eagles 22
New Orleans Saints 48

New Orleans broke open a close game with a 31-point scoring barrage in the final 30 minutes that sent the Eagles home with a 48-22 loss in their home opener. The Eagles and Saints were tied, 10-10, heading into the final minutes of the first half. But Saints QB Drew Brees connected with Marques Colston for his 2nd touchdown of the game with 43 seconds to play, giving the Saints the lead for good at 17-10. The Eagles did respond with a 32-yard field goal by David Akers as time expired in the half to cut the lead to 17-13, but the game went downhill quickly from there for the home squad. First, Ellis Hobbs fumbled the 2nd half kickoff and the Saints turned that into an 11-yard TD pass from Brees to FB Heath Evans. On the ensuing possession, Kevin Kolb, making his first NFL start in place of an injured Donovan McNabb (fractured rib), was intercepted by LB Scott Shanle. Four plays later, Saints RB Mike Bell scored on a 7-yard TD run, giving the Saints a commanding 31-13 lead. New Orleans upped their lead to 21 points after a field goal by John Carney before Eagles WR Jason Avant grabbed a 3-yard scoring pass from Kolb on a fourth down play late in the third stanza. But New Orleans scored on a 19-yard run by Reggie Bush early in the fourth quarter to seal the victory for the Saints, who also scored on a 97-yard interception return by Darren Sharper in the final minutes of the contest. Kolb started quickly for the Eagles as he found Jackson for a 71-yard scoring play on just the fourth play from scrimmage. That touchdown tied the game at 7 after Brees connected with Colston for a 15-yard TD on the game's opening possession.

Notes: Kolb's 391 passing yards were the 12th-highest total in team history and the most by an Eagle since McNabb threw for 464 on 12/4/04 vs. Green Bay. It was also the highest yardage total ever for an Eagles quarterback in his first NFL start ... Jackson's 71-yard TD catch was the longest of his career ... Jackson and TE Brent Celek each topped the 100-yard mark in receiving yards, becoming the first WR/TE tandem to do so in one game for the Eagles since WR Terrell Owens and TE L.J. Smith reached the century mark on 9/18/05 vs. San Francisco ... The last time multiple Eagles topped the 100-yard receiving mark in the same game was in the 2008 home opener vs. St. Louis (Jackson, WR Greg Lewis and WR Hank Baskett).

Philadelphia Eagles 34
Kansas City Chiefs 14

Playing without injured offensive starters Donovan McNabb, Brian Westbrook and Kevin Curtis, the Eagles piled up 420 yards of total offense in a 34-14 romping of the visiting Kansas City Chiefs. Although the majority of headlines heading into the game featured the return of QB Michael Vick to the NFL, the Eagles highlights were manufactured by a quartet of youngsters in QB Kevin Kolb (24-34 passing for 327 yards and 2 TDs), RB LeSean McCoy (20-84 rushing), TE Brent Celek (8-104-1TD) and WR DeSean Jackson (6-149-1TD). In fact, Kolb became the first quarterback in NFL history to eclipse the 300-yard passing mark in his first two NFL starts. The Eagles opened the game with two touchdowns on their first three possessions as McCoy (5-yard run after a direct snap) and Kolb (1-yard QB sneak) each scored for the first time in their respective NFL careers. After the Chiefs cut the lead to 14-7 early in the 2nd quarter, the Eagles responded on their next play from scrimmage as Kolb and Jackson connected on a 64-yard TD strike to give the Eagles a two touchdown lead. Two field goals by David Akers upped the Eagles lead to 27-7 until Kolb fired his third touchdown pass in the 4th quarter, a 35-yard strike to Brent Celek, to seal the victory.

Notes: At halftime, Randall Cunningham and Al Wistert were inducted into the Eagles Honor Roll ... Jackson became the first NFL player to post a 60-plus yard play in three consecutive games since the Chiefs Dante Hall in 2003 (four straight games) and the first Eagle to do so since Jack Ferrante in 1945 ... Jackson also became the first Eagle since 1985 (Mike Quick) to have 60-plus yard TD receptions in consecutive games ... Jackson and Celek became the first Eagles duo to notch 100-yard receiving games in back-to-back games since Pete Pihos and Bobby Walston in 1953 ... In fact, Celek became the first Eagles tight end to post back-to-back 100-yard receiving games since Pete Retzlaff did so in 1965 ... The Chiefs were 0-11 on third down opportunities ... Vick became the 2nd left-handed QB to throw a pass in team history joining Allie Sherman ... Kevin Kolb was named NFC offensive player of the week for his performance.

Philadelphia Eagles 33
Tampa Bay Buccaneers 14

Donovan McNabb posted near-perfect statistics from the quarterback position and rookie receiver Jeremy Maclin provided big plays in a starting role as the Eagles burned the visiting Tampa Bay Buccaneers, 33-14. Making his first start since the season opener due to a fractured rib, McNabb completed 76.2 percent of his passes (16 for 21) for 264 yards and three touchdowns en route to the 2nd best QB rating of his career (157.2). But it was McNabb's feet that boosted the Eagles offense early as a 13-yard scamper on the first play from scrimmage set up a 51-yard scoring strike to Maclin, giving them an early 7-0 advantage. Midway through the 2nd quarter, Tampa Bay drove deep into Eagles territory and faced a 4th-and-1 at the Eagles 23-yard line, but quarterback Josh Johnson fumbled the snap and was stopped short of the first down. Six plays later, McNabb connected with FB Leonard Weaver on a 20-yard scoring play to give the Eagles a 14-0 lead. Johnson and the Bucs responded on the ensuing possession with an impressive 5-play, 80-yard drive that was capped by a 9-yard TD grab by TE Kellen Winslow. Undaunted by the momentum swing, McNabb rushed for 17 yards on the next play from scrimmage before connecting with Maclin once again for a 40-yard score. With six seconds remaining in the first half and situated at the Eagles 8-yard line, Johnson fired his first of three INTs in the game as CB Asante Samuel grabbed an errant pass in the end zone. Samuel stung the Bucs in the 3rd quarter as well as his 2nd interception set up a 7-yard TD run by Brian Westbrook to give Philadelphia a commanding 28-7 lead. David Akers upped the score to 31-7 in the 4th quarter after booting a 44-yard field goal. That score was set up by another interception by Johnson as Sheldon Brown stopped a red zone scoring opportunity by the Bucs. Winslow grabbed another TD pass midway through the 4th quarter to cut the lead to 31-14 but Eagles DE Darren Howard tackled RB Cadillac Williams in the end zone for a safety to set the final score at 33-14.

Notes: Eagles coach Andy Reid became the 34th head coach in NFL history and the first in team history to post 100 regular season victories ... Maclin became the first Eagles rookie ever to post two 40-plus-yard TD receptions in the same game. His 142 receiving yards were the third most by a rookie in club history behind Don Looney (180 on 12/1/40 at Washington) and Hank Baskett (177 on 12/31/06 vs. Atlanta) ... Akers connected on four PAT attempts to become the franchise's all-time leader ahead of Bobby Walston (365) ... Samuel's two-INT performance was the 5th multi-interception game of his career and his first as an Eagle ... Trent Cole notched his 38th career sack, moving ahead of Seth Joyner (37.5) for 6th place on the Eagles all-time list.

Oakland Coliseum

Philadelphia Eagles 9
Oakland Raiders 13

The Eagles surrendered six sacks, 116 rushing yards and the game's only touchdown in a 13-9 loss to the Raiders at the Oakland Alameda County Coliseum. Philadelphia's offense sputtered all day long in the midst of heavy pressure on QB Donovan McNabb, who completed just 48% of his passes (22 for 48). The Eagles led 3-0 late in the first quarter before Raiders tight end Zach Miller caught a pass from JaMarcus Russell and broke several tackles before racing 86 yards for a touchdown. On the very next play from scrimmage, McNabb was intercepted by Raiders CB Stanford Routt, who returned the ball 28 yards for a score. But the play was nullified by a pass interference penalty. The Raiders, however, managed to force a punt and promptly drove 76 yards on 12 plays to set up a 29-yard field goal by Sebastian Janikowski to give them a 10-3 lead. Late in the 2nd quarter, Eagles S Quintin Mikell intercepted a Russell pass attempt and returned it 16 yards to the Raiders 40-yard line. However, the Eagles drive stalled as they settled for a 43-yard field goal by Akers to close the halftime deficit to 10-6. Philadelphia started quickly in the 3rd quarter driving inside Raiders territory, but Akers misfired for the 2nd time in the game as he missed a 47-yard attempt. From there, the Eagles offense went three-and-out on their next four possessions. Janikowski boomed a 46-yard field goal early in the 4th quarter to up the Raiders lead to 13-6. Midway through the fourth quarter, McNabb hit tight end Brent Celek with a 46-yard strike across the middle to set the Eagles up deep inside Raiders territory. But they did not gain another yard on that possession as they settled for a 45-yard field goal by Akers. Down by four points with 3:42 to play, the Eagles regained possession but turned the ball over on downs at the Raiders 43-yard line.

Notes: Eagles RB Brian Westbrook moved past Steve Van Buren (5,860) and into 2nd place on the Eagles all-time rushing list ... The Eagles made their first visit to Oakland since September 24, 1995 ... Eagles CB Asante Samuel posted his 30th career interception.

FedEx Field

Philadelphia Eagles 27
Washington Redskins 17

Behind the big-play ability of WR DeSean Jackson and a stingy defense, the Philadelphia Eagles trounced the Washington Redskins, 27-17, on Monday Night Football at FedEx Field. Jackson recorded two touchdowns of 50+ yards on the evening – one on the ground and one through the air. The Eagles defense was especially bolstered by newly acquired LB Will Witherspoon, who made his Eagle debut a memorable one by registering a sack, forced fumble and an interception returned for a touchdown. Witherspoon was acquired in a trade with the St. Louis Rams just six days earlier and worked overtime throughout the practice week to digest the defensive playbook. Jackson and Witherspoon wasted no time giving the Eagles a commanding lead early in the game as Jackson took an end around from Donovan McNabb on the 4th play from scrimmage and raced 67 yards down the sideline to give his team a 7-0 lead. Later in the 1st quarter, Redskins QB Jason Campbell had a pass attempt deflected by SS Quintin Mikell into the hands of Witherspoon, who trotted nine yards into the end zone for a touchdown, making it 14-0. Another Washington turnover resulted in another score by Philadelphia, as Witherspoon sacked and forced a fumble by Campbell that was recovered by Mikell and set up a 47-yard field goal by David Akers. The Redskins responded on their ensuing possession with a touchdown pass from Campbell to WR Devin Thomas to shrink the lead to 17-7, but another Redskins turnover proved costly later in the quarter. Antwaan Randle El muffed a punt return inside his own territory, setting up another Akers field goal. Then, Jackson broke the game open once again with another big play late in the 2nd quarter as he hauled in a 57-yard bomb on a 3rd-and-22 play from McNabb to give the visiting team a 27-7 lead. The Redskins answered with a field goal in the waning seconds of the first half, but would not score again until less than three minutes remained in the game when Campbell and TE Fred Davis connected on a 2-yard touchdown for the final score of the game.

Notes: McNabb became the 4th player in NFL history to throw for over 30,000 yards and 200 touchdowns while rushing for over 3,000 yards and 20 touchdowns in a career. Only John Elway, Fran Tarkenton and Steve Young have reached all of those plateaus ... Jackson became the 2nd player in team history to post a rushing and receiving touchdown of 50+ yards in the same game, joining Bosh Pritchard, who accomplished that feat vs. Washington on 10/23/49 ... Jackson became the 5th player in league history to register a rushing, receiving and punt return TD in each of his first two NFL campaigns (Louis Lipps, Ray McLean, Bobby Mitchell and Dick Todd were the others) ... Witherspoon became the 2nd NFL player to record a sack and an interception return for a TD in his first game with a team, joining Buffalo's Sam Adams in 2003 ... Eagles DE Trent Cole notched two sacks and moved past Andy Harmon (40) and into 5th place on the team's all-time list.

Philadelphia Eagles 40
New York Giants 17

On a rare day when Philadelphia and New York were battling in both baseball and football on the same day in the same city, the Eagles stomped the visiting Giants, 40-17, at Lincoln Financial Field. Donovan McNabb was a usual suspect in leading the Eagles to victory (240 yards, three touchdowns, and a 146.7 QB rating), but it was back-up running back LeSean McCoy (11-82-1TD rushing) and FB Leonard Weaver (8-75-1TD) heading up the ground game in the absence of star RB Brian Westbrook (concussion). In fact, it was Weaver who opened the scoring with a 41-yard jaunt on the game's opening possession. On the Giants ensuing drive, CB Asante Samuel stepped in front of an Eli Manning pass and raced 37 yards to the Giants 10-yard line. Three plays later, McNabb fired a 17-yard scoring strike to TE Brent Celek on 3rd down to give Philadelphia a fast 13-0 lead (the Giants blocked the extra point attempt). David Akers nailed a 30-yard field goal three plays into the 2nd quarter to improve the lead to 16-0. But the Giants responded late in the first half with an 89-yard drive that was capped by an 18-yard pass from Manning to TE Kevin Boss. With less than two minutes left to play until intermission, the Eagles responded with a 39-yard kickoff return that led to 54-yard TD toss to DeSean Jackson, and an interception by safety Quintin Demps that produced a 23-yard TD pass to rookie Jeremy Maclin. Armed with a 30-7 lead at half, the Eagles forced a fumble on the kickoff to start the 2nd half that led to a 35-yard field goal by Akers. The Giants would not quit, though, as they used a field goal and a 1-yard scoring plunge by RB Ahmad Bradshaw to pull to within 33-17 as the 4th quarter began. But McCoy ended New York's comeback hope with a 66-yard dart to the end zone on the 2nd play of the final stanza to set the final score at 40-17.

Notes: Later in the evening, the Philadelphia Phillies and the New York Yankees battled in game four of the World Series ... The Eagles 23-point margin of victory was their largest over the Giants since winning 24-0 on 12/1/96 at Veterans Stadium ... The Eagles 40 points was the highest total against the Giants since scoring 47 in a win on 11/22/92 at Giants Stadium ... McNabb's 146.7 QB rating was the 5th best of his career and his best ever against the Giants ... Weaver logged a career-high 75 yards and his 41-yard TD run was the longest run by an Eagles fullback since Anthony Toney's 44-yarder on 10/8/89 vs. NYG ... McCoy's 66-yard TD run was the longest by an Eagles rookie since Herman Hunter's 74-yard scoring run at Dallas on 11/24/85.

Philadelphia Eagles 16
Dallas Cowboys 20

The Eagles dropped a hard-fought battle for first place in the NFC East with a 20-16 defeat at the hands of the Dallas Cowboys at Lincoln Financial Field. Both teams entered the nationally televised Sunday night football game with a 5-2 record but it was the Cowboys, after overcoming a 13-10 deficit in the 2nd half, who ended up on the top of the division at the end of the night. The Eagles started slow on offense as evidenced by an interception on their first series of the evening. Donovan McNabb fired a pass over the middle of the field to WR Jeremy Maclin, who had the ball deflect off of him and into the hands of Dallas safety Gerald Sensabaugh. Seven plays later, Cowboys RB Tashard Choice took a direct snap from center and scored on a two-yard TD run giving them an early 7-0 lead. The Eagles responded in the 2nd quarter with a pair of scoring drives led by McNabb to pull them within one point at 7-6. David Akers connected on a pair of long distance field goals (45 and 48 yards, respectively) to account for the scoring. With under two minutes remaining in the first half, Dallas QB Tony Romo connected with Patrick Crayton on a 64-yard pass play setting up a field goal with just 4 seconds until intermission. The Eagles responded in the 2nd half by taking the kickoff 96 yards for a score, but a holding penalty nullified the touchdown by Ellis Hobbs. Undaunted, McNabb and the Eagles drove 77 yards on six plays, culminating in an 11-yard TD pass to TE Brent Celek that gave Philly their first and only lead of the contest at 13-10. The Cowboys took advantage of another interception late in the 3rd quarter as Mike Jenkins stepped in front of a McNabb pass at the Dallas 45-yard line. Five plays later, Nick Folk connected on a 33-yard field goal to tie the game at 13-13. On their ensuing possession, the Eagles drove into Dallas territory and, facing a 4th-and-1 situation, called a quarterback sneak by McNabb, who appeared to have gained the first down but was spotted short. Eagles head coach Andy Reid's challenge of the play was upheld by the officials and gave Dallas the momentum they needed. Facing a 3rd-and-14 at the Eagles 49-yard line, Romo pump faked and connected with WR Miles Austin on a TD pass to give them the lead for good. The Eagles responded once again with a drive deep into Dallas territory only to have McNabb tripped up for a sack on a 3rd-and-10 play at the 34-yard line. The Eagles settled for a 52-yard field goal by Akers and hoped to regain possession with 4:27 to play, but the Cowboys converted a 3rd down pass from Romo to TE Jason Witten that allowed them to run out the clock and give them sole possession of first place in the NFC East.

Notes: Including playoffs, this game represented the 100th all-time meeting between the Eagles and Cowboys ... Akers nailed three field goals of 40+ yards in a game for the 2nd time this season and the 5th time in his career (including playoffs) ... Eagles S Quintin Mikell played in his 100th regular season game.

Qualcomm Stadium

Philadelphia Eagles 23
San Diego Chargers 31

The Eagles made a valiant comeback attempt in the 4th quarter, but could not overcome a slew of missed opportunities early in the game as they fell to the host San Diego Chargers, 31-23, at Qualcomm Stadium. The Eagles fell behind 14-0 early on in the contest on a 20-yard touchdown pass from Philip Rivers to FB Mike Tolbert and on a 3-yard touchdown run by LaDainian Tomlinson early in the 2nd stanza. After a slow start, the Eagles offense finally started rolling. They put together two lengthy drives in the 2nd quarter only to be held to field goals on each opportunity deep in the red zone. On the first occasion, the Eagles were set up first and goal at the Chargers 1-yard line, but were stopped three straight plays. They failed to score a touchdown again after having a 1st-and-goal later in the quarter at the Chargers 9-yard line. Trailing 14-6 heading into the 2nd half, the Eagles were forced to punt during their first possession of the 3rd quarter and the Chargers promptly drove 76 yards on five plays and scored on a 20-yard TD run by Tomlinson. Philadelphia cruised down the field again with the help of a 58-yard catch and run by Jason Avant but was held out of the end zone after facing a 1st-and-10 at the San Diego 16, and a 3rd-and-1 at the 7-yard line before settling for another field goal. The Chargers upped their lead to 28-9 after a 20-yard scoring pass from Rivers to WR Legedu Naanee late in the 3rd quarter. Donovan McNabb and the Eagles offense would not lie down, though, as they drove 54 yards on nine plays, including a highlight film, 21-yard grab from Avant on 3rd and 18, to set up a five-yard TD catch by Jeremy Maclin. After a three-and-out by the Chargers, McNabb led a 77-yard drive that was capped by a six-yard TD catch by TE Brent Celek that pulled the Eagles within 5 points at 28-23. With momentum clearly on the Eagles side, San Diego converted two important third down plays, leading to a 29-yard field goal by Nate Kaeding to increase their lead to 31-23. With less than 30 seconds to play, McNabb drove the Eagles to the Chargers 35-yard line. But with 2 seconds remaining, his last throw into the end zone was intercepted to end the game.

Notes: With 450 passing yards, McNabb eclipsed the 400-yard plateau for the 2nd time in his career and tied a career high with 35 completions ... Avant set career highs in catches (8), yards (156), while recording the longest reception of his career (58 yards) ... Eagles WR DeSean Jackson tied a career high with 8 catches ... The game marked the Eagles first visit to San Diego since 1998.

Philadelphia Eagles 24
Chicago Bears 20

Donovan McNabb's homecoming to Chicago was punctuated with a come-from-behind victory in the final minutes of the 4th quarter as the Eagles defeated the Bears, 24-20, on Sunday Night Football. Trailing 20-17, McNabb orchestrated an 11-play, 62-yard drive that was capped off by a 10-yard touchdown scamper by rookie RB LeSean McCoy with 5:31 remaining in regulation. On that drive, McNabb completed 5 of 6 pass attempts for 40 yards. For the game, he completed 71.9% of his passes (23 for 32) for 244 yards and two touchdowns for a QB rating of 101.6. The Eagles also started fast, literally, as a no-huddle offense propelled them to a 10-0 lead in the first quarter after a 25-yard field goal by David Akers and a 13-yard scoring pass from McNabb to WR Jason Avant, another Chicago native. But the Bears took advantage of Eagles turnovers and penalties to take a 12-10 lead early in the 3rd quarter with four field goals by Robbie Gould. Later in that quarter, WR DeSean Jackson made up for an earlier fumble with a 48-yard TD catch to give Philadelphia a 17-12 lead. But the Bears bounced right back with a 6-play, 55-yard drive that resulted in a 15-yard TD pass from Jay Cutler to TE Kellen Davis. After a successful two-point conversion pass, the Bears held a 20-17 lead heading into the final quarter. The Eagles survived a fumble by McCoy in Philadelphia territory as rookie DT Antonio Dixon blocked a 48-yard field goal attempt by Gould to stifle a Bears scoring opportunity. That block set the stage for McNabb's and McCoy's heroics on the decisive scoring drive. After McCoy's TD, Eagles FS Sean Jones sealed the win with his first interception as an Eagle.

Notes: Akers became the 28th player in NFL history to kick 250 field goals ... McNabb tied Ron Jaworski (142) for most regular season games played by a quarterback in Eagles history ... Eagles CB Asante Samuel played in his 100th career regular season game ... Dixon's field goal block was the first by the an Eagle since Trent Cole did so on 12/7/08 at NYG ... Philadelphia won for the first time on NBC Sunday Night Football after dropping their first seven such contests

Washington Redskins 24

Donovan McNabb led the Eagles to their 2nd straight come-from-behind victory as the Eagles erased an eight point deficit in the fourth quarter to down the visiting Washington Redskins, 27-24. Trailing 24-16 following a 25-yard field goal by Washington with 11:42 remaining in the contest, McNabb pumped newfound life into the Eagles offense who had suffered 3 three-and outs and an interception in their first four possessions of the 2nd half. The Eagles drove 90 yards in 10 plays, including 66 on two catches by WR Jason Avant (46 and 20) to set up a one-yard TD plunge by RB Eldra Buckley. On the ensuing two-point conversion attempt, McNabb shoveled a pass to rookie RB LeSean McCoy, who miraculously stayed on his feet to dive into the end zone and tie the game at 24. After the Redskins were forced to punt on their ensuing possession, McNabb connected with rookie WR Jeremy Maclin on a 35-yard pass that led to a 32-yard game-winning kick by David Akers, his 16th consecutive made and his fourth of the day. The Redskins took an early 7-0 lead following a botched onsides kick attempt by the Eagles. Quinton Ganther recovered the kick and returned it deep inside Eagles territory and set up a 1-yard TD run by QB Jason Campbell. But the Eagles responded with two impressive drives that resulted in 10 points (29-yard field goal by Akers and a 35-yard scoring pass from McNabb to DeSean Jackson). Washington countered with an impressive scoring drive of their own (80 yards on 13 plays) that ended with a four-yard TD grab by WR Santana Moss. But Eagles CB Asante Samuel picked up two interceptions late in the 2nd quarter that led to a pair of field goals by Akers to give Philadelphia a 16-14 halftime lead. Washington grabbed the lead again early in the 3rd quarter with a 10-yard scoring pass from Campbell to TE Fred Davis. But the Eagles 4th quarter rally overcame the sluggish 3rd quarter, which saw them gain just 22 yards on 9 plays.

Notes: The Eagles swept the season series vs. the Redskins for the 5th time in the last eight seasons ... They posted 4th quarter come-from-behind victories in consecutive games for the first time since 2003 (10/19/03 at NYG and 10/26/03 vs. NYJ) ... Samuel posted the 6th multi-interception game of his career ... Buckley's TD was the first of his career.

LeSean McCoy stays on his feet and scores the game-tying 2-pt. conversion

Georgia Dome

Philadelphia Eagles 34
Atlanta Falcons 7

Michael Vick made a magical return to the Georgia Dome as he accounted for a pair of touchdowns in the Eagles 34-7 rout of the Atlanta Falcons. Vick scored on a five-yard touchdown run early in the 3rd quarter to break the game open and, with the crowd loudly chanting, "We want Vick, we want Vick," fired a 5-yard TD pass to TE Brent Celek in the 4th quarter to give the Eagles a commanding 34-0 lead. It was the first touchdowns of the season for Vick, who played six years for the Falcons franchise after being selected first overall in the 2001 NFL draft. Lost in the Vick-mania that surrounded the day was the play of the Eagles defense who stifled Atlanta's undermanned offense all day long. In fact, they kept the home team off the scoreboard until the final play of the game. Philadelphia, meanwhile, scored 21 points off of three turnovers, including a forced fumble by Eldra Buckley on a kickoff early in the game that was recovered by Tracy White at the Falcons 22-yard line. From there, Donovan McNabb connected with FB Leonard Weaver on a 4-yard scoring pass to give the Eagles an early 10-0 advantage. The Eagles made it 13-0 in the 2nd quarter after David Akers' 2nd field goal from 33 yards out split the uprights. Undaunted, the Falcons drove deep into Eagles territory late in the first half only to be stifled in a classic goal-line stand after being set up 2nd-and-goal from the PHI1. After Vick's TD run gave Philadelphia a 20-0 lead early in the 3rd quarter, Sheldon Brown stepped in front of a 4th down pass by Chris Redman and returned it 83 yards for a touchdown. Vick set up his TD pass to Celek with a 43-yard bomb to WR Reggie Brown to the ATL7.

Notes: The Eagles became the 13th team in NFL history to post 100 regular season wins in a decade ... Vick's TD run was his first since 10/15/06 vs. NYG at the Georgia Dome and his touchdown pass was his first since 12/31/06 at Philadelphia's Lincoln Financial Field ... Sheldon Brown set a career high with his 5th INT of the season and posted the longest INT return of his career (83 yards) ... Atlanta played without five offensive starters including QB Matt Ryan and RB Michael Turner, while the Eagles played without offensive stalwarts Brian Westbrook and DeSean Jackson ... The Falcons lost at home for just the 2nd time since the start of the 2008 season ... Eagles FB Leonard Weaver accounted for 100 yards of total offense (37 rushing and 63 receiving)

Giants Stadium

New York Giants 38

DeSean Jackson accounted for 261 all-purpose yards and two long-distance touchdowns in a wild, 45-38 victory in the Eagles final regular season visit to Giants Stadium. In all, both teams combined for 83 points, 886 yards of total offense and five touchdown scoring plays of 60+ yards. Philadelphia kept the scoreboard operators occupied all night long, especially in the early going when Donovan McNabb led a game-opening drive that covered 67 yards on 6 plays and finished with an 8-yard screen pass for a touchdown by TE Brent Celek. On the Giants ensuing possession, RB Brandon Jacobs was stripped by DE Trent Cole and the bouncing ball landed into the hands of CB Sheldon Brown, who raced 60 yards for a touchdown and a 14-0 lead. But the Giants responded with a field goal later in the 1st quarter and a 68-yard scoring pass from Eli Manning to WR Hakeem Nicks, who broke two tackle attempts en route to the end zone. After a field goal by Eagles K David Akers gave Philadelphia a 17-10 lead, Jackson took a directional punt by Jeff Feagles along the Eagles sideline, waited patiently for a couple of blockers and raced down the sideline for a 72-yard TD giving the Eagles a commanding two-touchdown lead. But New York used a touchdown run by Ahmad Bradshaw to cut the score to 24-17 with 1:35 to go in the 1st half. That proved to be too much time for the Eagles, who converted two 3rd-and-long situations to set up a 1-yard TD scamper by QB Michael Vick. However, the extra point was blocked as Philadelphia took a 30-17 lead into the intermission. The Giants stormed out of the gates in the 2nd half to take the lead with a pair of touchdowns (a one-yard TD run by Jacobs on 4th-n-goal at the PHI1 and a 61-yard pitch and catch by Manning and WR Domenik Hixon, who eluded Eagles tackle attempts before racing into the end zone). Holding the lead for the first time in the game, the Giants attempted to feed off the raucous home crowd en route to a victory. But Jackson quickly silenced them. On the very next play from scrimmage, McNabb fired a 60-yard scoring strike to the speedy receiver who raced past a Giants safety and back-pedaled into the end zone. The score remained at 37-31 into the 4th quarter when Feagles pinned the Eagles back at their own 9-yard line with 13:12 to play in the game. From there, McNabb led a textbook, 12-play, 91-yard scoring drive that shredded 7:24 of clock time and was capped by a one-yard TD plunge by FB Leonard Weaver. A two-point pass from McNabb to Jason Avant gave the Eagles a 45-31 lead with 5:48 remaining. Although the Giants managed to pull within 7 points with a Manning TD pass, the Eagles held on for a big NFC East road victory.

Notes: The Eagles made their 40th and final visit to Giants Stadium (including playoffs) and finished with a 24-16 record, including wins in their final four trips to the Meadowlands ... Jackson's two home runs gave him 8 TDs of 50+ yards on the season, tying the NFL record with Devin Hester (2007) and Elroy "Crazy Legs" Hirsch (1951) ... Jackson's punt return for a TD was the third of his Eagles career, setting a new team record previously held by Brian Westbrook, Brian Mitchell and Steve Van Buren (two apiece) ... Brown's TD was the 5th of his Eagles career, tying Eric Allen and Seth Joyner for the most defensive scores in team history.

DeSean Jackson takes a punt and races down the sideline for a 72-yard touchdown. It was the first of his two 50-plus-yard scores in the game

Philadelphia Eagles 27
San Francisco 49ers 13

The Eagles harassed the 49ers and their quarterback Alex Smith into committing four turnovers and used the big-play tandem of Donovan McNabb (306 yards passing and two total touchdowns) and DeSean Jackson (6 catches for 140 yards and 1 TD) in defeating San Francisco, 27-13, at a frigid Lincoln Financial Field. With the win, the Eagles clinched their 8th playoff berth this decade while eliminating the 49ers from playoff contention. McNabb and Jackson got the Eagles off to a fast start on the game's opening possession as the two connected on a 19-yard scoring pass to give Philadelphia a quick 7-0 lead. After the 49ers responded with a field goal later in the first quarter, Philadelphia was stopped on a 4th and 1 rushing attempt late in the stanza that set up the 49ers at the Eagles 29-yard line. But Sheldon Brown forced a fumble by TE Delanie Walker deep in Eagles territory that was recovered by fellow cornerback Asante Samuel at the 6-yard line. From there, McNabb drove the Eagles 94 yards on nine plays, including his own 8-yard TD run that gave Philadelphia a commanding 14-3 lead. The Eagles capitalized on two more 49ers turnovers (a Samuel INT and a Tracy White INT) that led to a pair of short field goals by David Akers and gave the home squad a 20-3 advantage. The 49ers stormed back in the 2nd half with 10 points in the first nine minutes of the 3rd quarter to pull to within 20-13, but an 8-play, 89-yard drive by the Eagles in the 4th quarter put the game out of reach as LeSean McCoy scampered in from 2-yards out with 11:32 to play.

Notes: After a major winter snowstorm dropped over 23 inches of snow in the Philadelphia area one day earlier, kickoff time was adjusted from 1 pm to 4:15 pm ... The Eagles became the 10th team in NFL history to earn eight or more playoff appearances in a decade. Indianapolis in the 2000s and Dallas in the 1970s each had nine. The following teams have also had eight: Dallas (1990s), Buffalo (1990s), Cleveland (1950s), Minnesota (1970s), Pittsburgh (1970s), San Francisco (1980s and 1990s) ... Jackson became the 5th Eagle ever to post 140+ yards in consecutive games and the first since Mike Quick did so in 1985 ... McCoy broke the club's rookie rushing record set by Correll Buckhalter in 2001 (586 yards) ... Samuel's 8th INT of the year is the most by an Eagle since Eric Allen in 1989 ... White's INT was the first of his career (92 games).

The Eagles defense forced four turnovers on the day, including Asante Samuel's 8th INT of the year

Denver Broncos 27

David Akers booted a 28-yard field goal with 4 seconds to play in the 4th quarter to lift the Eagles to an exciting 30-27 victory over the Denver Broncos at Lincoln Financial Field. Akers' heroics offset a valiant comeback attempt by the visiting Broncos, who rallied to tie the game after trailing 27-10 late in the 3rd quarter. Ironically, the momentum swung in favor of the Broncos after an interception by Eagles CB Asante Samuel. After Samuel returned the ball 40 yards from the PHI 8, the Eagles were penalized twice during the return and the resulting line of scrimmage was their own one-yard line. After a three-and-out and a punt by the Eagles, the Broncos scored two touchdowns in less than a minute. First, Broncos QB Kyle Orton connected with Jabar Gaffney on a 7-yard TD and after a fumble by Eagles kickoff return man Macho Harris, Orton tossed a 16-yard scoring pass to RB Knowshon Moreno to make the score 27-24 heading into the 4th quarter. Denver tied the game with a 46-yard field goal by Matt Prater with 6:11 remaining in the 4th quarter and kept the momentum until Eagles QB Donovan McNabb scrambled for 27 yards on a 3rd-and-25 play. Although Philadelphia ended up punting on that drive, field position was changed and Denver went three and out on their ensuing possession and were forced to punt deep inside their own territory. McNabb and company took over from the DEN42 with 1:41 to play and rookie WR Jeremy Maclin made a highlight-film, 27-yard catch along the Eagles sideline at the Broncos 13-yard line. The play was originally ruled an incompletion, but the replay system clearly showed Maclin drag both feet while maintaining possession of the ball. Four plays later, Akers gave the Eagles their 6th straight victory with his ninth career game-winning kick in the final two minutes of the 4th quarter or overtime ... The Eagles jumped ahead 20-7 in the first half on the strength of two touchdown passes by McNabb - 2 yards to WR DeSean Jackson and 47 yards to TE Brent Celek – and two field goals by Akers. They upped their lead to 27-10 after a juggling, 15-yard TD grab by Jason Avant midway through the 3rd quarter.

Notes: In the first half, the Eagles shattered their single-season scoring record of 416 points previously set in 2008 ... Samuel's interception was his 9th of the season and the most by an Eagle since Bill Bradley notched 9 in 1972 ... Celek notched a game-high 121 receiving yards on four receptions, marking the 4th 100-yard output of his career. His 47-yard touchdown grab in the 2nd quarter was the longest catch of his career ... With a sack, Trent Cole tied a career high with 12.5, while Juqua Parker registered his career-high 7th of the season ... Longtime Eagles Brian Dawkins and Correll Buckhalter made their first visit to Lincoln Financial Field as members of the Broncos.

Dallas Cowboys 24

The Eagles fumbled away a chance at a first round bye and an NFC East division title as they were defeated soundly, 24-0, by the host Dallas Cowboys in the regular season finale. The Cowboys staked themselves to a 7-0 lead on the first possession of the game and never looked back. Tony Romo capped a nine-play, 80-yard drive with a 10-yard scoring pass to TE Jason Witten. Later in the first quarter, the Eagles negated another potential scoring opportunity by Dallas by intercepting a Romo pass in the red zone. CB Asante Samuel deflected a pass attempt that landed in the hands of fellow CB Joselio Hanson. But the Cowboys would not waste their next chance as Romo connected with WR Patrick Crayon on a 14-yard scoring play to give the home team a 14-0 lead. That score was set up by two long passes by Romo (40 yards to Miles Austin and 30 yards to Crayton). On their ensuing possession, Donovan McNabb finally got the Eagles moving, completing two long passes to Jeremy Maclin (31 yards) and DeSean Jackson (32 yards) to set them up deep in Cowboys territory. But a faulty shot gun snap from C Nick Cole to McNabb was fumbled and pounced on by Cowboys DT Jay Ratliff to thwart a chance for the Eagles to climb back in the game. Following the turnover, Dallas marched deep into Philadelphia territory and settled for a 44-yard field goal by Shaun Suisham to up their lead to 17-0 heading into halftime. The Eagles did not fare much better in the 2nd half as they sputtered on their first three possessions, including a missed field goal from 53 yards by David Akers, and allowed Felix Jones to race 49 yards for a TD in the 3rd quarter that finalized the scoring.

Notes: The Eagles set a new single-season record for most passing yards in a season (4,380), surpassing the previous mark of 4,309 in 2006 ... Eagles LB Will Witherspoon became the 5th player in the bye era (since 1990) to play in 17 regular season games (first six with St. Louis and last 11 with the Eagles). He joined Jerry Rice, Dexter Carter, Chris Singleton and Micah Ross as the only others to do so ... CB Sheldon Brown played in his 128th consecutive game as an Eagle, passing Jerry Sisemore for the 8th-longest streak in team history ... McNabb played in his 148th game as an Eagle, tying Bobby Walston and Ken Clarke for 10th place in team history

The Eagles turned the ball over four times and were outscored 27-7 in the decisive 2nd quarter by the Cowboys in an NFC Wild Card game in Arlington, TX. For the Eagles, it was the 2nd defeat at the hands of their NFC East rivals in just six days and put an end to their 2009 season. After a scoreless first quarter, Dallas scored on the third play of the 2nd quarter as Tony Romo connected with TE John Phillips on a one-yard TD pass. That score was set up by a 40-yard pass interference penalty by Eagles CB Sheldon Brown. The Eagles responded with a 76-yard scoring pass from Michael Vick to WR Jeremy Maclin to tie the game and kept the momentum with an interception by S Sean Jones on the next play from scrimmage. But the play was overturned as replay showed the ball touched the ground before Jones had full possession of it. The Cowboys promptly took advantage of the overturned call and drove 85 yards on 10 plays to take the lead for good on a one-yard TD run by Tashard Choice. Dallas added a field goal before a pair of Eagle turnovers led to 10 more points for the Cowboys as the half ended with a 27-7 deficit. Cowboys RB Felix put the game out of reach with a 73-yard TD run late in the 3rd quarter.

Notes: Vick's 76-yard TD pass to Maclin was the longest in the team's postseason history, besting Jeff Garcia's 75 yarder to Donte Stallworth at New Orleans on 1/13/07 ... Maclin's 146 receiving yards were the most ever by a rookie in NFL postseason history and the most by an Eagle in the playoffs, topping TE Keith Jackson's 142 in the "Fog Bowl" at Chicago on 12/31/88. The 21-year-old Maclin became the youngest player in NFL history to catch a touchdown pass ... K David Akers played in his 18th playoff game, tying Brian Dawkins for first place on the team's all-time list.

Jeremy Maclin set an NFL rookie postseason record with 146 receiving yards and his 76-yard TD catch from Michael Vick was the longest pass play in franchise postseason history.

ALEX WOJCIECHOWICZ

Center, 1946-50
Pro Football Hall of Fame Inductee: 1968
Honor Roll Inductee: 1987

A two-time All-America selection at Fordham where he was the center on the famed `Seven Blocks of Granite' line, Wojciechowicz was the Lions top draft pick in 1938. One of football's original "iron men," he joined the Eagles in 1946 as a linebacker and helped the Eagles capture back-to-back NFL championships in 1948 and '49. Born August 12, 1915, in South River, NJ, he organized the NFL Alumni Association.

1948 and 1949 NFL CHAMPIONSHIP TEAMS

Honor Roll Inductee: 1999

No NFL team before or since ever posted consecutive shutouts in championship play. No NFL team can claim to be more dominant over a two-year period. The Eagles won back-to-back NFL Championships in 1948 and 1949, first shutting out the Chicago Cardinals, 7-0, and then blanking the Los Angeles Rams, 14-0. Under legendary head coach Greasy Neale, Philadelphia finished the 1948 regular season with a 9-2-1 record and took on the Cardinals in the championship game with a foot of snow covering Shibe Park. RB Steve Van Buren scored the game's only touchdown on a 5-yard TD run, while the defense limited the Cards to just 6 total first downs. The Eagles continued their dominance in 1949 with an 11-1 record in the regular season and a victory over the Rams in the championship game on a rain-soaked Los Angeles Coliseum field. Van Buren again led the Eagles as he rumbled for 196 yards on 31 carries. In those two seasons, the Eagles outscored their opposition 761-290. They were lovingly called "the duffel-bag dynasty." Many players were young men who had served their country in World War II and returned home trying again to settle into a regular life.

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

1933 — Frankford Yellowjackets' franchise in the NFL awarded to syndicate headed by Bert Bell and Lud Wray for $2500. Club christened "Eagles" in honor of the symbol of the New Deal's National Recovery Act. Eagles and Chicago Bears play in Philadelphia's first Sunday game (Nov. 12) at Baker Bowl. Game ends in a 3-3 tie.

1935 — General manager Bert Bell proposes an annual college draft to equalize talent in the league. Proposal is adopted on May 19 for the 1936 season.

1936 — Eagles have first choice in the inaugural college draft and select University of Chicago back Jay Berwanger but fail to sign him. Bell becomes sole owner of the team with $4,000 bid. Playing site for home games moves from Baker Bowl to Municipal Stadium.

1939 — Davey O'Brien, Texas Christian's All-America quarterback, signs with the Eagles for a reported $12,000 per year salary and percentage of the gate. O'Brien plays in every game and sets NFL passing yardage record with 1,324 yards. On October 22, the Eagles play in the first televised pro football game and fell to the host Brooklyn Dodgers, 23-14, at Brooklyn Ebbets Field. Allan "Skip" Walz broadcasts the game for NBC from Ebbett's field to the approximate 1,000 TV sets then in Brooklyn.

1940 — Home playing site switches from Municipal Stadium to Shibe Park (later known as Connie Mack Stadium). Pittsburgh owner Art Rooney buys half interest in the Eagles after selling the Steelers franchise to Alexis Thompson of New York, a 30-year old heir to a six million fortune in steel stocks.

1941 — Bell and Rooney swap franchises with Thompson, Rooney returning to Pittsburgh and Thompson taking over the Eagles. Bert Bell joins Rooney as a full-time partner in Pittsburgh. Thompson hires Earl (Greasy) Neale as head coach of the Eagles.

1943 — Eagles merge with Pittsburgh Steelers to form the "Steagles" due to manpower shortage during World War II. Merger dissolved at end of season.

1944 — First draft choice Steve Van Buren debuts as Eagles' halfback. Team finishes in second place with 7-1-2 record.

1945 — Team again finishes in second place with 7-3 record and leads league in scoring with 272 points. Van Buren leads NFL with 838 rushing yards and 110 points.

1946 — Team finishes second for third straight year with 6-5 record.

1947 — Rookie end Pete Pihos, Van Buren, and Bosh Pritchard combine with an overpowering defense to lead Philadelphia into the NFL championship game for the first time but the Chicago Cardinals earn the NFL title with a 28-21 victory at icy Comiskey Park.

1948 — Eagles win their first NFL championship, defeating the Chicago Cardinals, 7-0, in a blinding snowstorm at Shibe Park.

1949 — Thompson sells the team to 100 buyers, each of whom paid $3,000 for one of the 100 shares. They were called the "Happy Hundred" or the "100 Brothers." Their leader was James P. Clark, a Philadelphia sportsman and business executive, and the 100 investors included some of the leading names in Philadelphia business, government and politics, including Leonard Tose. Vince McNally is named general manager. University of Pennsylvania All-America C/LB Chuck Bednarik is a 1st round draft choice. The Eagles win their 3rd straight Eastern Division title and defend their NFL championship with a 14-0 win over the Los Angeles Rams.

1950 — In Greasy Neale's final season as the Eagles' head coach, they finish tied for third in the American Conference with a 6-6 mark.

1951 — Alvin (Bo) McMillan replaces Greasy Neale as head coach. McMillan becomes ill the night before the season opener and is replaced by Wayne Millner. End-placekicker Bobby Walston is named rookie of the year.

1952 — Jim Trimble succeeds Wayne Millner as head coach. Team rides strong defense to 7-5 second place finish.

1953 — Bobby Thomason and Adrian Burk combine to pass for a league-high 3,089 yards. Pete Pihos catches 63 passes for 1,049 yards and 10 touchdowns to lead league. Eagles finish in second place and snap Cleveland's 11-game winning streak with 42-27 win in season finale.

1954 — Bobby Walston leads league in scoring with 114 points. Eagles finish second for third consecutive year with second straight 7-4-1 record.

1955 — Pihos again leads all NFL pass receivers with 62 catches for 864 yards. Joseph A. Donoghue, Eagles' vice president/secretary, is elected assistant treasurer of the NFL.

1956 — Hugh Devore replaces Jim Trimble as head coach.

1957 — Rookie QB Sonny Jurgensen highlights a 4-8 season by passing Eagles to a 17-7 upset of the NFL Eastern Division Champion Cleveland Browns.

1958 — Buck Shaw signs as head coach replacing Hugh Devore. Eagles acquire quarterback Norm Van Brocklin in trade with Los Angeles. Team moves home games from Connie Mack Stadium to University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field and attendance almost doubles.

1959 — With Pete Retzlaff and Tommy McDonald his chief targets, Norm Van Brocklin passes Eagles to 7-5 record and second place tie with Cleveland.

1960 — QB Norm Van Brocklin and Chuck Bednarik, who plays 60 minutes at center and linebacker, pace the Eagles to their first Eastern Division title in 11 years. The Birds then win their third NFL championship with a come-from-behind 17-13 victory over Green Bay at Franklin Field. Van Brocklin, the league's MVP, and head coach Buck Shaw both announce their retirements at the end of the season.

1961 — Nick Skorich is named head coach and Sonny Jurgensen takes over as the starting quarterback. Despite Jurgensen's record-setting season as a passer and a 10-4 record, the Eagles fail to repeat as division champions.

1962 — Injuries in unprecedented numbers hit Eagles as the team wins only three games and falls to last place.

1963 — RB Timmy Brown sets a then NFL record for total offense (2,436 yards; 841 rushing, 487 receiving, 11 passing, 945 kickoff returns, and 152 punt returns) in a season. With the club's 91 outstanding shares now held by 65 stockholders, club president Frank L. McNamee said it would be put up for sale with an asking price of 4,500,000. Jerry Wolman, a 36-year old builder and self-made millionaire from Washington outbid Philadelphia businessman Jack Wolgin and became the new owner. The sale price was $5,505,000.

1964 — Former Chicago Cardinals and Washington Redskins coach Joe Kuharich signs as head coach and begins a series of major trades to rebuild the club.

1966 — After extensive roster changes, the Eagles finish 9-5 for their first winning season in five years.

1967 — Quarterback Norm Snead and flanker Ben Hawkins set team passing and receiving records, respectively, but injuries to other key players contribute to a disappointing 6-7-1 record and a second place finish.

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

1969 — After Wolman's empire fell into serious financial trouble, a bankruptcy referee in U.S. District Court in Baltimore oversees the team's sale to Leonard Tose, a millionaire trucking executive. The price was a reported $16.1 million, at the time a record price for a professional sports team. Tose names former Eagles' receiving great Pete Retzlaff as general manager and Jerry Williams as head coach.

1971 — The Eagles leave Franklin Field for a new home at Veterans Stadium. After three consecutive crushing losses at the beginning of the season, assistant Ed Khayat replaces Jerry Williams (who had led the club to only a 3-10-1 mark in 1970) as head coach.

1972 — After a stormy 2-11-1 season, Tose accepts general manager Retzlaff's resignation and releases the entire coaching staff. A bright spot, however, is Harold Jackson who leads the NFL in receptions and receiving yards (62-1,048).

1973 — Under new coach Mike McCormick and new quarterback Roman Gabriel, the Eagles have an exciting offensive season but can muster only a 5-8-1 record. In his first year as a full-time receiver, Harold Carmichael becomes the second consecutive Eagle to lead the NFL in receptions (67).

1974 — Under newly appointed general manager Jim Murray, the Eagles trade with Cincinnati and acquire LB Bill Bergey. Bergey bolsters the defense and wins Pro Bowl honors along with TE Charle Young, who becomes the 3rd consecutive Eagle to lead the league in receptions (63).

1976 — After a 4-10 season in 1975, Tose appoints 39-year old Dick Vermeil of UCLA as head coach but the Birds again earn a 4-10 mark.

1977 — QB Ron Jaworski is obtained from the Los Angeles Rams in exchange for the rights to TE Charle Young. Bill Bergey, keying the newly-installed 3-4 defense of coordinator Marion Campbell, wins all-pro and all-conference honors and is selected to play in his third Pro Bowl.

1978 — The Eagles post a 9-7 record, their first winning season since 1966, and make the playoffs for the first time since 1960. They lose the NFC Wild Card playoff game in Atlanta, however, 14-13 as the Falcons score two 4th-quarter TDs and Eagles' Mike Michel misses a 34-yard FG try with 1:34 to play. Wilbert Montgomery, in his first starting season, rushes for 1,220 yards to become the first Eagle since Steve Van Buren to surpass 1,000 in a season. CB Herman Edwards provided the "Miracle of the Meadowlands" when he scooped up a fumbled handoff from Joe Pisarcik to Larry Csonka and raced 26 yards for the winning TD with 20 seconds left to play before a stunned Giants Stadium crowd.

1979 — With an 11-5 regular season record — their best since 1961 — the Eagles tie Dallas for first place in the NFC East and go to the playoffs as a wild card team. After beating Chicago, 27-17, in the Wild Card Game, the Birds are upset at Tampa Bay, 24-17 in a divisional playoff round. Wilbert Montgomery sets a club record with 1,512 rushing yards, and Harold Carmichael sets a then NFL record on Nov. 4, catching a pass in his 106th consecutive game. Rookie barefoot kicker Tony Franklin boots the second longest FG in NFL history — 59 yards — in a 31-21 victory at Dallas. Dick Vermeil is voted NFL coach of the year.

1980 — The Eagles win 11 of their first 12 games and go on to a 12-4 mark and the NFC East championship. The Birds trounce Minnesota 31-16, in the divisional playoff round and then upend Dallas, 20-7 at Veterans Stadium, to win the NFC title and a berth in Super Bowl XV. The Oakland Raiders prevail in that game, however, 27-10. Ron Jaworski leads the NFC with a 90.9 passing rating while throwing for 3,527 yards and 27 touchdowns. He is named NFL player of the year by the Maxwell Football Club and NFC player of the year by UPI. Harold Carmichael's then-record NFL receiving streak is snapped at 127 games when he fails to catch a pass in the regular season finale at Dallas after sustaining a back injury in the first half.

1981 — After building a 6-0 record early in the season, the Birds struggle in their final eight games, post a 10-6 record and appear in the playoffs for the fourth consecutive year but are upset at home in the NFC Wild Card Game by the NY Giants, 27-21. The Birds' defense ranks first in the NFL in fewest yards allows (4,447) and fewest points allowed (221). Harold Carmichael enjoys the third 1,000-yard receiving year of his career and Wilbert Montgomery rushes for 1,402 yards.

1982 — An NFL players' strike takes place after two games and stops play for eight weeks. When play resumes on November 21, the long layoff hurts the Eagles. After splitting their first two games of the season, the Birds come back from the strike to lose four in a row and miss the playoffs for the first time since 1977. A 24-20 Eagles' victory at Dallas on December 26 is the last victory in the Philadelphia career of head coach Dick Vermeil, who resigns shortly following the season after compiling a 55-51-0 overall record.

1983 — Marion Campbell replaces Dick Vermeil as head coach after six seasons as the Eagles' defensive coordinator. Owner and president Leonard Tose announces in January that his daughter, Susan Fletcher, the Eagles' vice president and legal counsel, would eventually succeed him as primary owner of the Eagles. After winning four of their first six games, the Eagles become mired in a seven-game losing streak and finish with a 5-11 record. The Birds' offense is highlighted by first-team all-pro and AFC-NFC Pro Bowl selection Mike Quick, who leads the league and sets club records with 1,409 yards receiving on 69 catches.

1984 — After a 1-4 start, the Eagles post a 5-5-1 record over their final 11 games. Philadelphia's swarming defense sets a then club record of 60 quarterback sacks. Wilbert Montgomery establishes the Eagles' career rushing record for yards (6,538) and attempts (1,465) surpassing the marks set by Pro Football Hall of Famer Steve Van Buren from 1944-1951. Kicker Paul McFadden establishes an Eagles' season scoring record with 116 points (tops among rookies), surpassing Bobby Walston's 30-year mark of 114, and is named NFC rookie of the year. Ron Jaworski suffers a broken leg at St. Louis in week 13, snapping his streak of 116 consecutive starts (believed to be an all-time record for NFL QBs).

1985 — On March 12, Leonard Tose, the Eagles' owner since 1969, announces an agreement to sell the team to Norman Braman and Ed Leibowitz, highly successful automobile dealers from Florida for a reported $65 million. After obtaining the approval of the other NFL owners and fulfilling the terms of the transaction, Braman officially becomes the Eagles' new owner on April 29. That same day, Braman elevates Harry Gamble, general manager since February 4, to vice president-general manager overseeing day-to-day operations of the club. All-time Eagles' rushing leader Wilbert Montgomery does not report to training camp and is traded to Detroit for LB Garry Cobb in preseason. The Eagles again overcome a 1-4 start, but fall off the pace and finish 7-9. Head coach Marion Campbell is released on December 16, and Fred Bruney takes over as interim head coach for final game at Minnesota.

1986 — Buddy Ryan, defensive coordinator of the Chicago Bears' Super Bowl XX Champions, is named the 17th head coach in Eagles' history on January 29. On July 16, Norman Braman becomes the sole owner of the team, purchasing the remaining 35 percent from his brother-in-law Ed Leibowitz. Harry Gamble is promoted to president-chief operating officer. Ryan makes sweeping changes in the Eagles' roster, keeping young players and releasing several veterans. The youthful Birds struggle to a 5-10-1 record against the toughest schedule in the league. The Birds place two players on the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl roster: WR Mike Quick and DE Reggie White. White ties a Pro Bowl record with 4 sacks and is named MVP of the game.

1987 — In March, Ron Jaworski, who set nearly every club passing record from 1977-1986, is put on waivers after the club decides not to guarantee his contract. The Eagles split their first two games of the season before the NFL was beset by a players strike. After all games of Week 3 were cancelled, the NFL resumed play with replacement teams for the next three weeks. The Birds replacement team goes 0-3 and sets the stage for a surge by the regular players when they return to work. Philadelphia's regulars proceed to win three straight after the strike and move into a tie for 2nd place in the NFC East. They go on to finish 7-8 overall (7-5 in non-strike games) and due to a tie-breaking system, rank 4th in the NFC East behind Dallas and St. Louis who also posted 7-8 marks. Offensively, WR Mike Quick earns his fifth consecutive trip to the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl while QB Randall Cunningham (Pro Bowl 1st alternate) emerges as a rising talent. Cunningham threw 23 TD passes and became the first QB to lead his team in rushing (505 yards) since the Bears' Bobby Douglas did so in 1972. The defense was led by DE Reggie White, who was named the NFL's defensive player of the year. White's 21 sacks set an NFC record and fall one shy of the NFL mark.

1988 — The Eagles post the NFL's best mark (6-1) over the final seven weeks of the regular season en route to a 10-6 record and the NFC Eastern division title. But their playoff fate is not sealed until moments after the conclusion of their 23-7 victory at Dallas in week 16. It is then that NY Jets' QB Ken O'Brien throws a TD pass to Al Toon to defeat the Giants and ensure the division title for the Eagles. Philadelphia then travels to Chicago for an NFC divisional playoff game against the Bears and a place in NFL history. The game, which begins in sunny, 29 degree weather, would later be dubbed "The Fog Bowl," after a thick fog rolls off Lake Michigan late in the 2nd quarter. Due to the fog, visibility on the playing field was extremely difficult and the Bears prevail, 20-12. The shining season included the selection of QB Randall Cunningham, DE Reggie White and TE Keith Jackson as starters in the Pro Bowl. Cunningham also wins the Maxwell Football Club's Bert Bell Award as the NFL's top player. White leads the NFL in sacks for the second consecutive year and Jackson sets an Eagles' receiving record with 81 catches en route to earning rookie of the year honors from The Sporting News.

1989 — The Eagles used an aggressive, ball-hungry defense — which led the NFL in takeaways (56) and interceptions (30), and set a team record with 62 QB sacks — to finish 11-5. Philadelphia, however, finished second to the Giants in the NFC East (despite two victories in head-to-head competition) and faced the LA Rams in the Wild Card playoff. Although playing a post-season game at Veterans Stadium for the first time since 1981, the Birds fell 21-7. QB Randall Cunningham posted similar numbers to his superb '88 campaign despite missing receivers Mike Quick and Keith Jackson for most of the season due to injuries. A deeper loss came on Dec. 9, when quarterback coach Doug Scovil passed away. The second alternate to the Pro Bowl, Cunningham started for the NFC squad when injuries kept the other QBs from playing. CB Eric Allen led the NFC in interceptions with 8.

1990 — In February, Buddy Ryan hired Rich Kotite as offensive coordinator to improve the Eagles' sluggish attack. At season's end, the offense led the NFL in rushing (2,556) and the NFC in scoring (396) and TD passes (34). The defense led the NFL in stopping the run thereby making the Birds the first team to lead the league in both rushing categories since Chicago did so in 1985. A 10-6 record put Philadelphia in the playoffs once again, but the Eagles suffered their third opening round defeat in as many seasons. The 20-6 Wild Card loss to Washington signaled an end to the five-year Ryan era. Randall Cunningham flourished with 30 TD passes and 942 rushing yards, while rookie WRs Calvin Williams and Fred Barnett combined for 17 TDs.

1991 — On January 8th, team owner Norman Braman opted not to renew the contract of Buddy Ryan, the Eagles' head coach since 1986. On the same day, Braman promoted then-offensive coordinator Rich Kotite, making him the 18th head coach in club history. They opened with a 3-1 mark, their best start since 1981, despite having lost QB Randall Cunningham for the year due to a knee injury suffered at Green Bay on opening day. After coming on to lead the Eagles to their solid start, backup QB Jim McMahon was also injured in game 5. With McMahon sidelined, the Birds suffered through a four-game skid. By midseason, Philadelphia had used five quarterbacks in eight games and seen its record sink to 3-5. The Eagles regrouped, however, and surged into contention for a playoff spot with a six-game winning streak (the club's longest since the start of '81) that upped their record to 9-5. But a loss at home to Dallas in game 15 ended Philadelphia's playoff hopes. The defense finished the season ranked #1 in the NFL in terms of fewest yards allowed overall, vs. the run, and vs. the pass. As such, the Birds became only the fifth club in NFL history and the first since 1975 to accomplish this rare triple. In addition, the Eagles' defense led the NFL in sacks and fumble recoveries and tied for the league lead in takeaways. Five members of that defensive unit represented the Eagles in the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl – DEs Reggie White and Clyde Simmons, DT Jerome Brown, and LB Seth Joyner were selected as starters while CB Eric Allen also made the NFC squad. The selection of White, Simmons, and Brown marked only the sixth time in NFL history that three defensive linemen from one team were elected to the Pro Bowl.

1992 — The Eagles were dealt a huge blow before the season even began as all-pro defensive tackle Jerome Brown was killed in an automobile accident on June 25th in his hometown of Brooksville, FL. The tragedy overshadowed the promise of the upcoming season which included the return of QB Randall Cunningham - out almost the entire '91 season with a knee injury - as well as the addition of RB Herschel Walker whom the Eagles acquired as a free agent just three days before Brown's death. They finished second in the NFC East with an 11-5 record and returned to the playoffs, earning a Wild Card victory over the Saints before dropping a Divisional Playoff to the eventual Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys. The win over the Saints was the team's first postseason victory since 1981 and its first road playoff conquest since 1949. Off the field, a September 24th ruling by U.S. District Judge David Doty paved the way for free agency in the NFL by finding the league's "Plan B" policy in violation of federal antitrust laws and provided the four plaintiffs in the suit with an opportunity to sign with another club. Among those four was Eagles TE Keith Jackson, who four days later inked a deal with the Miami Dolphins.

1993 — In January, the NFL and the Players Association signed a Collective Bargaining Agreement, a 7-year deal that would institute a form of limited free agency to replace the "Plan B" system. The most prominent NFL player affected by the settlement was the Eagles' all-time sack leader Reggie White, who went on to sign with the Green Bay Packers on April 5th. On the field, the Eagles produced an 8-8 record. After a flying start in which the Birds jumped out to a 4-0 record on the strength of three consecutive dramatic come-from-behind wins, season-ending injuries to QB Randall Cunningham, WR Fred Barnett and others were followed by a six-game losing streak (their worst skid since '83). Nonetheless, backup QB Bubby Brister led them to wins in 4 of their final 6 contests, a stretch that kept them in the playoff hunt until the final week of the season.

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

1994 — A new chapter in Eagles history began on April 6th when Norman Braman, the team's owner since 1985, reached an agreement in principle to sell the franchise to Jeffrey Lurie, a Boston native and president of a Hollywood-based movie production company. Once NFL owners voted to approve the sale on May 6th, Lurie officially took over the club on May 17. Despite losing the opener, the Eagles won 7 of their next 8 games, including a 40-8 thumping of the eventual Super Bowl champion 49ers. However, they lost their final 7 games and finished out of the playoffs. Two days after the season, Rich Kotite's 4-year reign as head coach ended. Herschel Walker became the first player in league history to record a 90-plus yard run, reception, and kickoff return in a single season. Only one other player - Bobby Mitchell - had previously recorded that trifecta in a career. With back-to-back 100-yard rushing performances, rookie RB Charlie Garner became only the 7th back in NFL history to top the century mark in his first two contests. DE William Fuller, a free agent acquisition from Houston, notched at least one sack in 7 straight games and broke the club record of 6 shared by Reggie White and Clyde Simmons.

1995 — On February 2, Jeffrey Lurie named 49ers defensive coordinator Ray Rhodes as the 19th head coach in team history. Eleven months and a playoff victory later, that decision resulted in NFL coach of the year honors. Rodney Peete took over at QB after a 1-3 loss and led them to 9 wins in their final 12 games. RB Ricky Watters, one of the NFL's most prominent free agent acquisitions of the year, combined with Charlie Garner to give Philadelphia the league's 4th best rushing attack. In the postseason, the Eagles routed the favored Detroit Lions, 58-37, in a Wild Card game. A week later, they bowed out to the eventual Super Bowl champion Cowboys. At season's end, Watters, DE William Fuller (an NFC-high 13 sacks), and LB William Thomas (7 INTs) went to the Pro Bowl. Off the field, Lurie and his wife, Christina, oversaw the formation of Eagles Youth Partnership (EYP). The charitable wing of the Eagles, EYP was formed in order to improve the quality of life and enhance opportunities for children in the Greater Philadelphia region.

1996 — For the second consecutive year the Eagles compiled a 10-6 regular season record and earned a playoff berth. As such, Ray Rhodes became the first coach to lead the Eagles into the playoffs in each of his first two seasons at the helm. In the NFC Wild Card game, however, the Eagles fell, 14-0, to San Francisco in a rain-drenched 3Com Park. For the third time in six seasons, the Eagles lost their starting QB to injury early on as Rodney Peete ruptured a tendon in his right knee vs. Dallas. Ty Detmer led the Birds to four straight wins and teamed with WR Irving Fryar and RB Ricky Watters to fuel the conference's #1 offense (351.7 yds/game). Watters earned a Pro Bowl berth with personal bests in rushing atts. (353), rushing yards (1,411), TDs (13), and total yards from scrimmage (a league-leading 1,855). DE William Fuller led the team with 13 sacks en route to his 3rd straight Pro Bowl. MLB James Willis' interception in the end zone in the final moments of game 9 at Dallas sealed a big win. Willis' theft off QB Troy Aikman and subsequent lateral to CB Troy Vincent resulted in a 104-yard TD return.

1997 — After a 4-6 start clouded the club's shot at the post-season, the Eagles turned to 2nd-year QB Bobby Hoying. A 2-0-1 record in his first three starts brought them back into contention, but ended the year with a 6-9-1 record. Injuries plagued the club as 42 different players started, including three different QBs (Ty Detmer, Rodney Peete and Hoying). Irving Fryar posted 86 receptions and Ricky Watters became the first Eagle to top the 1,000-yard rushing plateau in three consecutive years. The defense's most memorable performance came in a win vs. Green Bay as they held the Pack without a TD, snapping a string of 85 games (incl. playoffs) in which they had scored a TD.

1998 – A disappointing 3-13 season led to the dismissal of head coach Ray Rhodes on December 28th, one day after the season finale. The Eagles started 0-5 before posting their first win. Duce Staley became the first Eagle draft pick to top the 1,000-yd. rushing plateau since Wilbert Montgomery (1981). On defense, the Eagles procured DE Hugh Douglas in a trade with the Jets. Douglas led the Eagles with a career-high 12.5 sacks, including a club-tying record of 4.5 at San Diego.

1999 – Former Green Bay quarterback coach Andy Reid was named head coach on January 11th. Three months later, the club used the 2nd overall draft choice to select QB Donovan McNabb, one of the most accomplished athletes to ever come out of Syracuse. Their 2-7 start prompted Reid to insert McNabb into the starting lineup for six of the final seven contests. In his first start on Nov. 14th vs. Washington, McNabb sparked the Eagles to a 35-28 win over the Redskins. RB Duce Staley garnered his second straight 1,000-yd. rushing season and accounted for a NFL-best 41% of his team's offense. New defensive coordinator Jim Johnson turned up the heat as his troops accounted for a league-best 46 take-aways, including 28 interceptions (3rd in NFL), five of which were returned for TDs (a team record). FS Brian Dawkins and CB Troy Vincent earned their first Pro Bowl selections. Vincent's 7 INTs tied for the league lead and became the first Eagle to top the entire NFL in INTs since 1972 (Bill Bradley). Although the Eagles finished 5-11, Reid implemented a positive attitude in his young group of players that included 14 true rookies on the season-ending roster.

2000 – Andy Reid, the NFL's coach of the year, led the Eagles to the greatest turnaround in franchise history, finishing 2nd in the NFC East at 11-5. The season started with a perfectly executed onsides kick by David Akers to kickoff the season opener at Dallas, leading to a 41-14 win. The Eagles won 10 of their next 13 contests and earned the top Wild Card spot in the NFC. In the playoffs, the Eagles overwhelmed Tampa Bay, 21-3, before losing to the eventual NFC Champion NY Giants in the Divisional Playoffs. After RB Duce Staley went down for the season with a foot injury in game 5, Donovan McNabb became a legitimate MVP candidate (he finished 2nd in AP voting to Rams RB Marshall Faulk). McNabb accounted for 74.6% of the team's total net yards. TE Chad Lewis led all NFC tight ends in receptions (69) and earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl. The defense featured 3 Pro Bowlers in CB Troy Vincent, DE Hugh Douglas (15 sacks, 2 in playoffs), and MLB Jeremiah Trotter. First round draft choice DT Corey Simon recorded a rookie team-record 9.5 sacks.

2001 — The Eagles captured their first NFC Eastern Division Championship since 1988 and their first appointment in the NFC title game since 1980. Adversity hit this club early and often. The first preseason game was cancelled due to problems with the Veterans Stadium turf. C Bubba Miller was lost to a season-ending foot injury. And they dropped their season opener in overtime to the Rams before true adversity devastated the entire world on September 11th when terrorist attacks struck the World Trade Center and the Pentagon. As a result, a week's worth of NFL games were postponed. The Eagles were 2-2 before beating the Giants, 10-9, on Monday Night Football for the first time since 1996 (a span of nine games). The Eagles won 8 of their last 10 games, including a dramatic 24-21 win over the Giants on December 30 to clinch the NFC East title. In the playoffs, the Eagles defeated the Bucs and in the Divisional playoffs, Donovan McNabb won his homecoming to to Chicago, 33-19, at Soldier Field. The Pro Bowlers on defense were Hugh Douglas, Jeremiah Trotter, Troy Vincent, and Brian Dawkins. The unit allowed a league-low 64 points in 8 road games. In fact, their 7-1 road record was the best in club history. David Akers earned his first Pro Bowl berth and set a club record with 17 consecutive FGs made.

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

2002 — In the 31st and final season at Veterans Stadium, the Eagles set a team record for points scored (415) and sent a league-high 10 players to the Pro Bowl. However, they fell in the NFC Championship game for the second consecutive season. Andy Reid, the consensus coach of the year, proved the Eagles were not a one-man show, winning five of six games without Donovan McNabb (broken ankle). McNabb returned for the playoffs and directed a win in the Divisional playoff after 3rd QB A.J. Feeley started the final five games, winning his first four. Although the Eagles lost their season finale to the Giants, they were still able to clinch home field after the Jets trounced the Packers in the same stadium one day later. The defense finished in the top five in numerous categories and sent four players to the Pro Bowl: CB Troy Vincent, CB Bobby Taylor, FS Brian Dawkins, and DE Hugh Douglas. The offensive line also featured multiple Pro Bowl selections for the first time since 1980 with Tra Thomas, Jon Runyan and Jermane Mayberry. Kicker David Akers notched 133 points to earn a Pro Bowl berth.

2003 — In a season marred with injuries and controversy, the Eagles captured their third consecutive NFC East division title and third straight trip to the NFC title game, a loss to Carolina. Lincoln Financial Field officially became the Eagles new nest with a season-opening Monday night contest vs. Tampa Bay. But the Eagles not only lost their first two contests, they were left without the services of DBs Brian Dawkins and Bobby Taylor for a large chunk of the season (foot injuries). Then LB Carlos Emmons (ankle) and Brian Westbrook (triceps) were felled by season-ending ailments in December. After a 2-3 start, the Eagles rattled off nine straight wins, tying a team record previously set in 1960. That win streak was propelled by an improbable win at NYG on October 19. Trailing the Giants 10-7 with 1:34 to play, Westbrook returned a punt 84 yards for a dramatic, game-winning score. They ended up earning home-field advantage in the playoffs for the 2nd straight season. After suffering through a QB rating of 51.1 in the first six games, a thumb injury in his throwing hand, and disgraceful, racial commentary by former ESPN analyst Rush Limbaugh following the 0-2 start, McNabb thrived. He garnered NFC offensive player of the month honors in November, leading the team to a 5-0 month. He engineered a come-from-behind playoff win vs. Green Bay before suffering a rib injury a week later vs. Carolina that sidelined him in the 4th quarter. The Eagles employed a unique running back trio (Westbrook, Correll Buckhalter, and Duce Staley), dubbed the "three-headed monster," that racked up 1,618 rushing yards, 2,465 total yards from scrimmage, and 29 total TDs.

2004 — One of the most eventful off-seasons in team history helped propel the Eagles to their first NFC Championship and subsequent Super Bowl appearance in 24 years. Although they lost a hard-fought battle to the Patriots, 24-21, in Jacksonville, the Eagles milestones were plentiful as they captured their 4th consecutive NFC East division title and won a franchise record 13 regular season games. Andy Reid became the winningest coach in franchise history surpassing Greasy Neale. On the first day of the free agent signing period, they inked DE Jevon Kearse and later acquired WR Terrell Owens in a trade. Owens ended up with 77 catches for 1,200 yards and 14 scores. Donovan McNabb also turned in a stellar campaign, completing 64% of his passes for 3,875 yards, 31 TDs and just 8 INTs for a career-high 104.7 QB rating. He became the first player in NFL history to finish a season with 30+ TD passes and fewer than 10 INTs and his 24 consecutive completions over a span of two games set an NFL record previously set by Joe Montana (22) in 1987. McNabb, Owens, Brian Westbrook and Tra Thomas earned Pro Bowl berths on the offense. The defense was led by Kearse, a trio of Pro Bowl defensive backs (Brian Dawkins, Michael Lewis, and Lito Sheppard), and Jeremiah Trotter, who earned a Pro Bowl berth despite not starting until game 9. Trotter returned in July after being released by the Redskins. K David Akers, who set a NFL record with 17 FGs of 40-yards-or-more, and LB Ike Reese both earned Pro Bowl berths on special teams. In all, a league-best 10 Eagles earned trips to Hawaii. The Eagles stormed out to a 7-0 record and clinched the NFC East title with 5 games remaining. They clinched home field advantage in the NFC after starting 13-1. In the playoffs, the Eagles topped Minnesota in the Divisional round and Atlanta in the Championship game.

2005 — Stymied by injuries and a plethora of off-the-field distractions, the Eagles finished with a 6-10 record and out of the playoffs for the first time since 1999. The defending NFC champions began the season with a 4-2 record, including a dramatic come-from-behind win at Kansas City in which they overcame a 27-6 first half deficit to win, 37-31, and an equally heart-stopping victory vs. San Diego in which Matt Ware returned a blocked field goal 65 yards for the game-winning touchdown late in the fourth quarter. WR Terrell Owens was suspended for four games for conduct detrimental to the team and ended up not playing in the final nine games of the season. MLB Jeremiah Trotter earned his fourth Pro Bowl berth with a team-high 169 tackles. Reggie White's #92 was officially retired in an emotional halftime ceremony of a Monday night contest vs. Seattle on December 5. The ceremony included Reggie's wife, Sara, and their two children, as well as more than 20 of his former teammates and coaches.

2006 — The Eagles claimed their fifth NFC East title in six years as they reeled off five consecutive wins at the end of the regular season to finish 10-6. The Eagles jumped out of the gate with a 4-1 record. The hot start was capped off by an emotional 38-24 victory vs. Dallas on Oct. 8, when Lito Sheppard made two crucial INTs, the second of which he returned 102 yards for a touchdown in the waning seconds. However, the team then lost five of their next six contests and Donovan McNabb for the remainder of the season with a torn ACL, which he suffered in a Nov. 19 loss to Tennessee. Jeff Garcia was handed the reins, and after a devastating 45-21 loss at Indianapolis, rallied the Eagles to five straight wins. The Eagles swept a treacherous three-game road stretch against division rivals, including a Christmas Day win at Dallas. The following week, Andy Reid was able to rest his starters in the season finale vs. Atlanta when news arrived in the 1st quarter that they had clinched the NFC East title with a Cowboys loss to Detroit. The Eagles used a 38-yd. walk-off field goal by David Akers to capture a 23-20 Wild Card victory against the Giants, but came out on the losing end of a 27-24 battle at New Orleans in the Divisional round. Brian Dawkins, Shawn Andrews and Lito Sheppard earned Pro Bowl berths. Brian Westbrook tallied his first 1,000-yard rushing season and the offensive line was one of two squads in the NFL to start the same five linemen in all 16 games.

2007 — In the team's 75th anniversary season, the Eagles could not overcome a 1-3 start as they finished 8-8 and out of the playoffs. RB Brian Westbrook set two team records for total yards from scrimmage (2,104) and receptions (90). He became the first Eagle to lead the league in total yards from scrimmage since 1996 (Ricky Watters) and the first NFL player from a non-Division I-A school to do so since 1979 (Philadelphia's Wilbert Montgomery). WR Kevin Curtis posted career highs in catches (77), yards (1,110), and total touchdowns (8) in his first season in Philadelphia after signing as a free agent. For the first time in franchise history, the Eagles featured three players (Westbrook, Curtis, Reggie Brown) with over 60 catches and 700 yards each. After that 1-3 start, the team managed to fight their way back to a 5-5 record as they headed into Gillette Stadium to face the 10-0 New England Patriots. A valiant effort by back-up QB A.J. Feeley went for naught as the Eagles fell, 31-28. Westbrook and Shawn Andrews earned Pro Bowl honors.

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

2008 — The Eagles were defeated in their fifth NFC Championship game appearance of the decade. In what seemed like a microcosm of their entire season, Philadelphia fell behind 24-6 in the NFC title game at Arizona, but stormed back to take a 25-24 lead, only to then have the Cardinals score the game-winning TD with under three minutes to play. The Eagles struggled to find consistency during the early portion of the season and hit rock bottom at 5-5-1 after a 36-7 blowout loss at Baltimore. But the Eagles rallied behind the strong play of QB Donovan McNabb and their defense, to win four of their final games and a hard-fought decision at Giants Stadium over the defending Super Bowl champions. But as they entered the final Sunday of the season, Philadelphia needed a win over Dallas, a Tampa Bay loss to visiting Oakland and either a Chicago loss at Houston or a Minnesota loss vs. the Giants, to earn a playoff berth. The Raiders and Texans came up with thrilling upsets in the 1:00 pm games that day, before the Eagles pounded the division-rival Cowboys, 44-6, in a late afternoon contest. In the playoffs, the Eagles stingy defense carried them to impressive road victories at Minnesota (26-14) and in a rematch at New York (23-11) before being derailed by the Cardinals. Brian Dawkins and free agent newcomer CB Asante Samuel (4 interceptions in the regular season plus two in the playoffs) both earned Pro Bowl honors, while McNabb became the franchise's all-time leader in yards and touchdown passes. The Eagles scored a franchise record 416 points. Dawkins became the franchise's all-time leader in regular season games played (183), surpassing Harold Carmichael, and in interceptions (34), tying Eric Allen and Bill Bradley. K David Akers set team records for points (144) and field goals made (33). Head coach Andy Reid became the 37th coach in NFL history to reach the 100-win plateau and the 14th coach to reach double digit victories in playoff history. Samuel set an NFL postseason record with his 4th INT returned for a score and Akers extended his postseason streak of consecutive field goals made to 19, breaking Gary Anderson's NFL record. Rookie WR DeSean Jackson led the team with 62 receptions and 912 yards, most ever by an Eagles rookie WR.

2009 — The Eagles got off to a strong start during the early portion of the season, winning five of their first seven games, despite losing QB Donovan McNabb for two games with a rib injury. They hit a midseason snag after losing back-to-back games to rival Dallas and eventual AFC West Champion San Diego to fall to 5-4. A late-season rally behind behind big plays on offense and a turnover-happy defense helped the Eagles rattle off six straight wins, their longest-such streak in the regular season since 2003. Entering the final week of the season, Philadelphia had hopes of securing its sixth NFC East title of the decade and a first-round bye in the playoffs. However, a second loss to the Cowboys in the season finale dropped the Eagles to the sixth seed and forced a rematch between the two bitter, division rivals in the Wild Card round of the playoffs, where they again fell to the Cowboys, 34-14. With a reloaded stable of weapons, McNabb enjoyed one of the best seasons of his 11-year career, finishing with a 92.9 QB rating, a 60.3 completion percentage and his third-highest yardage total (3,553). Led by WR DeSean Jackson (62 receptions, 1,156 yards and 9 TDs), the Eagles saw their young skill position players flourish in 2009. The speedy WR/KR became the first player in NFL history to be named to the Pro Bowl at two positions, recording an NFL record-tying eight touchdowns of 50-plus yards and leading the league with a 15.2 yard punt return average. TE Brent Celek (76 receptions, 971 yards, 8 TDs) established himself as a reliable weapon and one of the elite tight ends in the NFL. The infusion of young players on offense continued with rookie WR Jeremy Maclin (D1-09) and rookie RB LeSean McCoy (D2-09). Maclin followed in Jackson's footsteps, finishing his first season as one of the top rookie wide outs with 56 catches for 773 yards and four touchdowns. Meanwhile, McCoy proved to be a valuable asset in the running game as he led the team and set the Eagles rookie rushing record with 637 yards. K David Akers, DE Trent Cole, T Jason Peters, CB Asante Samuel, FB Leonard Weaver, and LS Jon Dorenbos all joined Jackson in earning Pro Bowl honors. Defensively, rookie coordinator Sean McDermott took the reins and engineered a defense that was once again one of the top teams in the NFL in many statistical categories, despite suffering a rash of injuries at the linebacker position. Under McDermott, the Eagles defense forced 38 turnovers (25 INTs, 13 FRs), which ranked third in the league and was the most by an Eagles team since also forcing 38 in 2002. McDermott's principals of being aggressive and pressuring opposing quarterbacks also yielded 44 sacks, which ranked third in league, including 12.5 from Cole. Head coach Andy Reid eclipsed the 10-win mark for the seventh time in his 11 years, and earned his eighth playoff berth during that span. His contract was also extended through 2013.
